Doctors Say JFK's Health Is Excellent

Back Stronger; Work On Balanced Budget Completed

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President Kennedy got cheering reports Wednesday on his own back and his father's condition.

Dr. Preston Wade, New York specialist, gave the President's back a checkup. Press secretary Pierre Salinger reported afterward that as a result of exercises carried on the past 2½ months the President's back is stronger than last summer.

"It will be several more months, however, before the President can resume vigorous physical activity and he must expect to experience, as do all people with similar back troubles, ups and downs and occasional setbacks," Salinger said.

Kennedy's general health is excellent and he is fully capable of carrying on all of his duties, Salinger added.

Elder Kennedy Improved

The team of doctors attending 73-year-old Joseph P. Kennedy, the President's father, reported through Salinger that his pneumonia has improved. The senior Kennedy is suffering also from the paralytic after-effects of a stroke.

Key advisers here for conferences with Kennedy let it be known that work has been completed on the next budget, that Kennedy has put his stamp of approval on it, and that it is balanced.

No figures were disclosed, but spending estimates for the fiscal year starting next July 1 have been in the area of $92 billion, some $3 billion above this year.

Unofficial word last week that defense spending might drop a couple of billion below earlier estimates stirred some hopes for a surplus of about that size.

But officials quickly pointed out that increased costs of space programs already under way and of some other projects would virtually offset any reduction in defense spending.

President Drives To Hospital

No responsible fiscal official was willing to guess at anything in the surplus line of more than $500 million or so—and this only if revenue increases match the more optimistic present estimates.

In the forenoon, Kennedy put the Secret Service agent who acts as his chauffeur in the back seat, the First Lady in the front seat beside him, and drove his cream-colored convertible to St. Mary's Hospital in West Palm Beach.

There they spent 25 minutes with the President's father, a St. Mary's patient since he suffered a stroke Dec. 19.

Wilson's Widow Is Critically Ill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The condition of Mrs. Woodrow Wilson remains basically unchanged, her physician said Wednesday. The widow of the World War I president is gravely ill of a respiratory ailment and complications.

Her physicians said Tuesday night that Mrs. Wilson, 89, has been ill for three weeks but showed slight improvement Tuesday. She is confined to her Washington home, where she and Wilson moved after he left the White House in 1921.

The illness will prevent Mrs. Wilson from a scheduled appointment Thursday to unveil a plaque on the new Woodrow Wilson Bridge across the Potomac River between Maryland and Alexandria, Va., a few miles below Washington.

Katanga Group Reaches Congo Central Capital

Optimism Rises Until Tshombe Applies Brakes

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Secessionist Katanga province sent six legislators to this capital of the central government Wednesday, raising hopes of an important step toward Congo unity. But Katanga President Moise Tshombe promptly damped the optimism.

He insisted that the delegates were sent merely to modify the fundamental law of the Congo — not to sit in the national Parliament.

The presence of Katanga deputies in the Parliament was a major feature of the agreement that came out of the disputed unity talks at Kitona last week.

Tshombe made his statement before the delegates left by plane from Elisabethville. Insisting on a confederation of Congolese states, Tshombe refused to comment on the fact that in the Kitona meeting he had accepted the fundamental law of the Congo, which does not provide for confederation.

Promising Development

Diplomats in Leopoldville considered the arrival of Tshombe's representatives on schedule as a highly significant and promising development in the long and often bloody struggle over Katanga's secession. Nine more were due Thursday.

Whatever oral reservations that Tshombe and his lieutenants have voiced, diplomatic informants noted, when it came to the first concrete step they adhered to the terms of the declaration signed by Tshombe and Congo Premier Cyrille Adoula at the U.N. base of Kitona last Thursday.

The deadline for the legislators' arrival was met on a day that also saw the restoration of diplomatic relations between the Congo and Belgium after a rupture of 17 months.

This could speed the return of Belgian technical help to get the poverty-stricken former colony on its feet.

U. N. Troops Guard Katangans

A tight U.N. security cordon surrounded the Katanga delegation of three senators and three deputies at the airport. They were being housed in a building guarded by U.N. Nigerian troops.

No high-ranking Congolese authorities were on hand to welcome the Katangans, but a communique said the central government noted Tshombe's compliance with satisfaction.

Reports from Elisabethville have said the Katangans hoped to loosen provisions in the Congo's draft constitution—unratified in the 18 chaotic months since independence—for a strong central government.

The unity agreement was reached by Tshombe and Adoula after 17 hours of negotiations at Kitona, the U.N. military base on the lower Congo River. Tshombe promised to accept the authority of the central government over his copper-rich province.

Tshombe said later the agreement was subject to ratification by his Elisabethville regime. Adoula and U.N. authorities disputed this, declaring it was a fully legal document as it stood.

British Task Force Steams Toward Kuwait

LONDON (AP)—Britain rushed a naval strike force toward the Persian Gulf and kept 7,000 men of the armed services on alert Wednesday to discourage Iraq from attempting to seize Kuwait and its oil.

The military buildup obviously was meant as a clear warning to Iraqi's Premier Abdel Karim Kassem to keep his hands off the rich little sheikdom crowded between Iraq and Saudi Arabia.

Kassem proclaimed the annexation of Kuwait last June after Britain recognized the independence of the country now governed by Sheik Abdullah as-Salim as-Sabah. Kassem claimed Kuwait originally was a province of Iraq.

Any dream of conquest was foiled, however, by the swift arrival of British warships, commandos and planes. A token force of Egyptians, Saudi Arabians, Jordanians and Sudanese under sponsorship of the Arab League replaced the British task force in September.

Last weekend, intelligence and diplomatic reports hinted that Kassem might be planning to revive annexation moves.

The British Foreign Office and Defense Ministry avoided any public reference to a new Iraqi threat. An Admiralty announcement on naval movements Wednesday did not even mention Kuwait.

A Defense Ministry spokesman said, however, that "tension in Kuwait" was considered at a conference between Defense Minister Harold Watkinson and his service chiefs. Other officials reported that the ships were headed toward the Kuwait area.

Propagandists On Carpet In Russ Food Shortages

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Communist propagandists, assembled at a time of reported food shortages in all parts of the country, have been instructed by Leonid Ilyichev to get on the ball.

"The more ideology you teach, the more grain, cotton, steel, cast iron and meat you get from the workers," the propaganda chief told a Moscow conference of party activists Monday.

Highlights of the talk were reported Wednesday in Pravda, the Communist party paper which Ilyichev edited in the final years of the Stalin era. He is now a secretary of the party's Central Committee.

Ilyichev accused the propagandists of failing in their home work —the "complex and difficult task" of orienting the entire Soviet people to the Communist viewpoint on world affairs. He described propaganda activity as inadequate in Soviet institutions of higher learning.

The conference, aimed among other things to help step up the output of farms and factories, coincided with a campaign by Premier Khrushchev to increase food production to a level assuring the population of something besides bare necessities.

Reports have been arriving from outlying districts—scanty production areas—that farmers and villagers are calling this "the hungry year."

In Moscow, queues are becoming longer and longer in the stores as customers hunt better meat and the few luxuries normally present this time of year.

Luxuries are here this year, but in noticeably short supply.

Refugees Will Return To Shattered Island

LONDON (AP)—Two refugees are going back to their volcano-shattered island of Tristan da Cunha in the South Atlantic to see if it's possible for the islanders now in England to return there.

The Royal Society has organized a party to include the refugees. They will sail Jan. 4 from Southampton. Since their arrival here earlier this year, the islanders have suffered from respiratory ailments strange to their isolated island.

U.S. Officials Hope Break Not Complete

Souvanna Phouma Still Has Mandate To Form Regime

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States looked Wednesday to Premier-designate Souvanna Phouma of Laos to go ahead with formation of a government despite the lack of any progress at a meeting of the three Laotian princes.

State Department officials, after receiving direct reports from Vientiane, refused to characterize as a complete failure the brief meeting of neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma with U.S.-backed Premier Boun Oum and pro-Communist Prince Souphanouvong.

Officials noted that neither Souvanna Phouma nor Souphanouvong has left Vientiane, and they said the former still has a mandate to form a government of national unity.

Failure Would Threaten Peace

The three princes met for only a brief time and broke up without any announced progress. Some hope persisted here that the talks had not completely collapsed. Any such development would wash out the fruits of lengthy negotiations and threaten the peace in Southeast Asia.

Boun Oum, according to word received here, apparently was angered by anti-American and anti-Boun Oum statements made by Souphanouvong when he stepped off his plane to attend the meeting.

The avowed purpose of the meeting among the three princes was to negotiate on formation of a national government for the tiny country, long torn by fighting.

Neutral Laos U. S. Aim

State Department press officer Lincoln White, expressing the U.S. view, said: "Really so much is at stake here—mainly peace in Laos — that the United States would view with deep regret the failure of the three princes to have a meaningful meeting.

"We feel this way particularly in view of the substantial progress which has been accomplished at Geneva. We have been hoping all along for commensurate progress toward the formation of a government of national union."

A major aim of U.S. policy in troubled Southeast Asia is to secure a neutral and independent Laos. This would, in the opinion of U.S. strategists, help stabilize the area and make it easier to stem Communist onslaughts against South Viet Nam.

U.S. Approves New Red Envoy

WASHINGTON (AP)—A rising young expert on the Americas was designated Wednesday as the Soviet Union's new ambassador to the United States.

The change in ambassadors is not taken as a sign of any alteration in basic Moscow policy. But there is some speculation that the new man may take a wider diplomatic role than that played by the man he succeeds.

The State Department disclosed it has given its approval to the appointment of Anatoly Federovich Dobrynin to succeed Mikhail A. Menshikov in the Soviet Union's most important ambassadorial post.

It has not yet been announced when the 42-year-old Dobrynin will take over the embassy. Menshikov said Tuesday he would be returning next month to Moscow after nearly four years in the Washington post.

It is standard diplomatic procedure to obtain the assent of the host nation before assigning an ambassador. Usually, approval is a routine formality but the practice does give the host government an opportunity to express itself. On rare occasions a prospective appointee is rejected.

Blast Destroys Six Homes, Injures 15

NORTON, Va. (UPI) — Fire touched off a blast which ripped through an explosives warehouse near this southwest Virginia mountain town Wednesday destroying six nearby homes and injuring 15 persons.

There were no fatalities, but two children living nearby were reported in serious condition.

The blast occurred at the Whitaker Atlas Supply Co. which is located about five miles from here on a winding country road.

Loan Firm Head Pleads Guilty In $819,600 Fraud

NEW YORK (AP)—The head of a finance company complex was accused Wednesday of a 15-year program of forgery that mushroomed from a modest $10,000 bit of larceny to a total of $819,600.

The district attorney's office charged Samuel Rubin, 49, a balding, stocky man with a hearing aid, with a "fantastic and elaborate kiting scheme." A bank, two other finance companies and his own stockholders were victims.

Rubin was indicted on 11 counts of grand larceny and 27 of forgery. But he pleaded guilty to only three larceny counts—which apparently satisfied the state and made him liable to a maximum 30 years in prison.

Authorities said Rubin, who started out as an employe of a small loan firm, pyramided ill-gotten gains until he controlled five loan companies of his own. Meanwhile, he was said to have striven desperately but vainly to make up the forgeries with legitimate business profits.

Rubin lived high, the district attorney's office said, but paid a stern price—he never took a vacation in all the 15 years for fear the snow-balling fraud would be discovered.

In General Sessions Court, Rubin pleaded guilty to three larceny counts and was released by Judge George Postel in $5,000 bail for sentencing Feb. 16. Asst. Dist. Atty. Leonard Newman described Rubin as cooperative with investigators.

Defense attorney Morton S. Robson said Rubin conceded thefts but denied they totaled $819,600, as the indictment stated. Newman called the figure accurate.

The district attorney's office said Rubin first forged a note for $10,000 in 1945 while he was working for a commercial finance company. This money was placed in a bank account under the name of a friend of Rubin's and later transferred to the account of a new finance company which Rubin organized.

This money gave Rubin a line of credit and the district attorney said the forgeries continued, some of them intended to cover up previous fraudulanet shortages.

During the next 15 years, the state said Rubin poured more than $10 million in false notes through the bank account he had set up as a cover. Victim of the forgeries to the tune of $475,000 was the Chemical Bank New York Trust Co. branch at Broadway and 38th Street.

Other victims, according to the state, were the commercial finance firms of Pam & Co. and Cohen-Manheimer Co., who were bilked for $47,656 each, and stockholders in Rubin's five companies who lost $249,288.

Schools To Reopen

The schools have been closed while students and teachers scattered over the country to teach peasants to read and write.

New Year Traffic Toll Of 330 Seen

CHICAGO (UPI) —The National Safety Council estimated Wednesday that traffic accidents over the New Year's weekend would kill 330 persons across the nation.

The council said that weather and resultant road conditions would play a big part in helping to trim or exceed the estimate. Caution by motorists and pedestrians also will be a factor in the weekend toll, the council said.

Traffic accidents killed 525 persons over the Christmas weekend. Highways were covered with packed snow and ice in many parts of the country and these conditions undoubtedly helped boost the traffic toll, the council said.

GOP Will Help Balance Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois gave what he called a "firm commitment" Wednesday that Republicans will help President Kennedy balance the new budget.

Dirksen was asked to comment on reports from Palm Beach, Fla. that President Kennedy has completed work on the budget and it will be balanced. The Republican leader was asked if he believed it possible to balance a budget calling for about $92 billion in spending.

Whether that can be done, he replied, may depend largely on the effect of what he said has been a cost-price squeeze on corporation profits which account for a sizable share of federal revenue. He added that it also will depend on the cost of new programs Kennedy may propose.

"But I think I can give a firm committment that the Republicans in Congress will do everything they can to help bring about a balanced budget," Dirksen said.

The GOP leader was asked if he would support tax increases to bring about budget-balancing.

"Yes," he replied, "if that is necessary. But I would rather pursue the alternative of cutting expenditures."

Chrysler Corp. Unveils New Turbine Auto

NEW YORK (AP)—The Chrysler Corp. announced it has a turbine-powered automobile it believes could radically change construction and design of passenger cars.

It said the turbine engine weighs less than 450 pounds, has one-fifth as many working parts as a conventional piston-driven car, requires no radiator, cooling system or antifreeze, has only one sparkplug and uses almost any liquid fuel.

George Huebner Jr., executive engineer, announced at a news conference Wednesday that upon completion of tests, about 50 to 75 of the cars may be available in 1963.

They would be placed in the hands of selected customers "as a final evaluation of the new engine." The selection method was not disclosed.

Mass production could be achieved within five years, Chrysler executives said, although the engines may result in a new line of cars. Experimental models are in a modified Dodge and a modified Plymouth.

Although emphasizing that considerable work remains, neither Huebner nor other executives concealed their optimism.

"We would not be standing before you today if we did not believe the trend which we have started already existed," Huebner said at the news conference.

More rudimentary turbine engines obtained less than 20 miles to a gallon in tests during the past five years, but Chrysler spokesmen said they expected better performance now. Top speed is 115 miles an hour.

Prices would be comparable if the car reaches mass production, but first models may sell for considerably more, they said.

In the Chrysler turbine the jet of burning, expanding gas spins blades at up to 45,000 revolutions a minute as it seeks escape from its metal container.

The power thus generated is delivered to the wheels of the car.

World's Tallest Building Purchased By Prudential

NEWARK N.J. (AP)—The Empire State Building, the world's tallest structure and the unofficial symbol of New York City, was sold Wednesday to the Prudential Insurance Co. of America in a $65-million transaction.

Prudential then granted control of the 102-story New York skyscraper to Empire State Building Associates, an investment syndicate headed by Lawrence A. Wien, a New York lawyer and real estate operator.

Wien's control, in the form of a 114-year leasehold, gives his group the right to rent office space and operate the tourist observation roof and the television tower. The building grosses $14 million a year income.

The seller of the building was Henry Crown of Chicago, principal stockholder of the Empire State Building Corp. In 1957, Prudential bought the land on which the building stands for $17 million.

Prudential paid $29 million to Crown and Wien turned over $36 million to the Chicago financier to complete one of the most complex real estate deals in history.

The sale was held at Prudential's headquarters in Newark. The insurance company's delegation was headed by its president, Louis R. Menagh.

The formalities—the signing and countersigning of nearly one hundred documents — took place around an oval teak table, 37 feet long and 15 feet wide. The transaction lasted about four hours.

Wien, Crown and Menagh posed for photographers at a check-passing ceremony. Crown got the checks and Wien took symbolic control when he tucked a three-foot model of the Empire State Building under his arm. The real thing is 1,472 feet high.

Summit Talks Last For Less Than An Hour

Premier Snubs Visiting Princes, Blasts Neutralist

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Laos' laboriously prepared summit meeting of the three princes to form a neutral government fell apart in less than an hour Wednesday. Apparently there was nothing diplomats could do immediately to put it together again.

Neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma and his pro-Communist half-brother Prince Souphanouvong returned to Vientiane, the capital they fled in 1960, for talks with pro-Western Premier Prince Boun Oum on forming a coalition regime.

But Boun Oum refused to meet them at the airport and did not show up at the appointed meeting place. The two visiting princes finally paid a courtesy call on him at his residence, but the meeting lasted less than an hour.

By Boun Oum's account, he denounced neutralist Souvanna as being unneutral. He declared he wanted no part of a bargaining "carnival" over apportionment of Cabinet posts in a government that is supposed to set up Laos as an independent and neutral nation.

Souvanna Makes Appeal

On arrival at the airport, Souvanna in a brief speech did his best to placate his opponents by appealing for "good faith and good will" and urging firm support for a policy of "peace and strict neutrality."

But Souphanouvong, leader of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao guerrillas, ruffled the atmosphere by denouncing "American war mongers" and Boun Oum's government which he accused of planning to resume military operations and sowing death among the people.

The quick breakup of the heralded conference verged on the ludicrous but for the fact that it may prove tragic for this tiny Southeast Asia kingdom. It has been threatened all through 1961 with becoming the scene of a Korean-style war.

For weeks the 14-nation Geneva conference has been agreed on a policy of neutrality for Laos. It remained for the factions headed by the three princes to form a compromise government to carry it out.

Diplomats Disappointed

The three princes agreed in principle last July on a coalition government. They also agreed weeks ago that Souvanna should head a 16-man Cabinet consisting of four Boun Oum adherents, four from the Pathet Lao and eight neutralists. Since then they had haggled over details of when and how to get together for the summit meeting.

Diplomats who had nursed the preconference preparations in crisis after crisis and still held some hopes on the outcome were astounded and distressed by the swift collapse.

For hours newsmen had no inkling of what happened at the brief talk in Boun Oum's residence. Then the premier told them: "The two princes came to see me and we talked. There you had your princely meeting."

He said he had nothing more to talk about to the two princes.

Sub-Zero Cold Hits Midwest

By The Associated Press

Stinging, saturating cold covered the Midwest Wednesday, keeping temperatures under zero at high noon in some places.

The mercury dropped to -19 in International Falls, Minn., -14 in Bemidji, Minn., -12 in Superior, Wis., -6 in Eau Claire, Wis., -3 in Mason City, Iowa, and -2 in Bismarck, N.D.

Chicago had a low of 10 above and Moline, Ill., 4 above.

Even at midday, temperatures stayed below zero in some communities in Minnesota and North Dakota.

Light snow fell in Michigan, Ohio and the western sections of New York and Pennsylvania. Rain and snow were blended in Kentucky and Tennessee. Rain and thunderstorms were scattered over Mississippi and Alabama.

Readings in the 70s Wednesday afternoon over most the peninsula brought Florida relief from a brief cold snap that had driven temperatures down to record lows for the date Tuesday.

Refugees Will Return To Shattered Island

LONDON (AP)—Two refugees are going back to their volcano-shattered island of Tristan da Cunha in the South Atlantic to see if it's possible for the islanders now in England to return there.

The Royal Society has organized a party to include the refugees. They will sail Jan. 4 from Southampton. Since their arrival here earlier this year, the islanders have suffered from respiratory ailments strange to their isolated island.

U.S. Officials Hope Break Not Complete

Souvanna Phouma Still Has Mandate To Form Regime

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States looked Wednesday to Premier-designate Souvanna Phouma of Laos to go ahead with formation of a government despite the lack of any progress at a meeting of the three Laotian princes.

State Department officials, after receiving direct reports from Vientiane, refused to characterize as a complete failure the brief meeting of neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma with U.S.-backed Premier Boun Oum and pro-Communist Prince Souphanouvong.

Officials noted that neither Souvanna Phouma nor Souphanouvong has left Vientiane, and they said the former still has a mandate to form a government of national unity.

Failure Would Threaten Peace

The three princes met for only a brief time and broke up without any announced progress. Some hope persisted here that the talks had not completely collapsed. Any such development would wash out the fruits of lengthy negotiations and threaten the peace in Southeast Asia.

Boun Oum, according to word received here, apparently was angered by anti-American and anti-Boun Oum statements made by Souphanouvong when he stepped off his plane to attend the meeting.

The avowed purpose of the meeting among the three princes was to negotiate on formation of a national government for the tiny country, long torn by fighting.

Neutral Laos U. S. Aim

State Department press officer Lincoln White, expressing the U.S. view, said: "Really so much is at stake here—mainly peace in Laos — that the United States would view with deep regret the failure of the three princes to have a meaningful meeting.

"We feel this way particularly in view of the substantial progress which has been accomplished at Geneva. We have been hoping all along for commensurate progress toward the formation of a government of national union."

A major aim of U.S. policy in troubled Southeast Asia is to secure a neutral and independent Laos. This would, in the opinion of U.S. strategists, help stabilize the area and make it easier to stem Communist onslaughts against South Viet Nam.

U.S. Approves New Red Envoy

WASHINGTON (AP)—A rising young expert on the Americas was designated Wednesday as the Soviet Union's new ambassador to the United States.

The change in ambassadors is not taken as a sign of any alteration in basic Moscow policy. But there is some speculation that the new man may take a wider diplomatic role than that played by the man he succeeds.

The State Department disclosed it has given its approval to the appointment of Anatoly Federovich Dobrynin to succeed Mikhail A. Menshikov in the Soviet Union's most important ambassadorial post.

It has not yet been announced when the 42-year-old Dobrynin will take over the embassy. Menshikov said Tuesday he would be returning next month to Moscow after nearly four years in the Washington post.

It is standard diplomatic procedure to obtain the assent of the host nation before assigning an ambassador. Usually, approval is a routine formality but the practice does give the host government an opportunity to express itself. On rare occasions a prospective appointee is rejected.

Blast Destroys Six Homes, Injures 15

NORTON, Va. (UPI) — Fire touched off a blast which ripped through an explosives warehouse near this southwest Virginia mountain town Wednesday destroying six nearby homes and injuring 15 persons.

There were no fatalities, but two children living nearby were reported in serious condition.

The blast occurred at the Whitaker Atlas Supply Co. which is located about five miles from here on a winding country road.

Loan Firm Head Pleads Guilty In $819,600 Fraud

NEW YORK (AP)—The head of a finance company complex was accused Wednesday of a 15-year program of forgery that mushroomed from a modest $10,000 bit of larceny to a total of $819,600.

The district attorney's office charged Samuel Rubin, 49, a balding, stocky man with a hearing aid, with a "fantastic and elaborate kiting scheme." A bank, two other finance companies and his own stockholders were victims.

Rubin was indicted on 11 counts of grand larceny and 27 of forgery. But he pleaded guilty to only three larceny counts—which apparently satisfied the state and made him liable to a maximum 30 years in prison.

Authorities said Rubin, who started out as an employe of a small loan firm, pyramided ill-gotten gains until he controlled five loan companies of his own. Meanwhile, he was said to have striven desperately but vainly to make up the forgeries with legitimate business profits.

Rubin lived high, the district attorney's office said, but paid a stern price—he never took a vacation in all the 15 years for fear the snow-balling fraud would be discovered.

In General Sessions Court, Rubin pleaded guilty to three larceny counts and was released by Judge George Postel in $5,000 bail for sentencing Feb. 16. Asst. Dist. Atty. Leonard Newman described Rubin as cooperative with investigators.

Defense attorney Morton S. Robson said Rubin conceded thefts but denied they totaled $819,600, as the indictment stated. Newman called the figure accurate.

The district attorney's office said Rubin first forged a note for $10,000 in 1945 while he was working for a commercial finance company. This money was placed in a bank account under the name of a friend of Rubin's and later transferred to the account of a new finance company which Rubin organized.

This money gave Rubin a line of credit and the district attorney said the forgeries continued, some of them intended to cover up previous fraudulanet shortages.

During the next 15 years, the state said Rubin poured more than $10 million in false notes through the bank account he had set up as a cover. Victim of the forgeries to the tune of $475,000 was the Chemical Bank New York Trust Co. branch at Broadway and 38th Street.

Other victims, according to the state, were the commercial finance firms of Pam & Co. and Cohen-Manheimer Co., who were bilked for $47,656 each, and stockholders in Rubin's five companies who lost $249,288.

Schools To Reopen

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Havana radio announced Wednesday Cuban schools will reopen Jan. 3 after the nationwide celebration of the third anniversary of Fidel Castro's revolution.

The schools have been closed while students and teachers scattered over the country to teach peasants to read and write.

New Year Traffic Toll Of 330 Seen

CHICAGO (UPI) —The National Safety Council estimated Wednesday that traffic accidents over the New Year's weekend would kill 330 persons across the nation.

The council said that weather and resultant road conditions would play a big part in helping to trim or exceed the estimate. Caution by motorists and pedestrians also will be a factor in the weekend toll, the council said.

Traffic accidents killed 525 persons over the Christmas weekend. Highways were covered with packed snow and ice in many parts of the country and these conditions undoubtedly helped boost the traffic toll, the council said.

GOP Will Help Balance Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois gave what he called a "firm commitment" Wednesday that Republicans will help President Kennedy balance the new budget.

Dirksen was asked to comment on reports from Palm Beach, Fla. that President Kennedy has completed work on the budget and it will be balanced. The Republican leader was asked if he believed it possible to balance a budget calling for about $92 billion in spending.

Whether that can be done, he replied, may depend largely on the effect of what he said has been a cost-price squeeze on corporation profits which account for a sizable share of federal revenue. He added that it also will depend on the cost of new programs Kennedy may propose.

"But I think I can give a firm committment that the Republicans in Congress will do everything they can to help bring about a balanced budget," Dirksen said.

The GOP leader was asked if he would support tax increases to bring about budget-balancing.

"Yes," he replied, "if that is necessary. But I would rather pursue the alternative of cutting expenditures."

Chrysler Corp. Unveils New Turbine Auto

NEW YORK (AP)—The Chrysler Corp. announced it has a turbine-powered automobile it believes could radically change construction and design of passenger cars.

It said the turbine engine weighs less than 450 pounds, has one-fifth as many working parts as a conventional piston-driven car, requires no radiator, cooling system or antifreeze, has only one sparkplug and uses almost any liquid fuel.

George Huebner Jr., executive engineer, announced at a news conference Wednesday that upon completion of tests, about 50 to 75 of the cars may be available in 1963.

They would be placed in the hands of selected customers "as a final evaluation of the new engine." The selection method was not disclosed.

Mass production could be achieved within five years, Chrysler executives said, although the engines may result in a new line of cars. Experimental models are in a modified Dodge and a modified Plymouth.

Although emphasizing that considerable work remains, neither Huebner nor other executives concealed their optimism.

"We would not be standing before you today if we did not believe the trend which we have started already existed," Huebner said at the news conference.

More rudimentary turbine engines obtained less than 20 miles to a gallon in tests during the past five years, but Chrysler spokesmen said they expected better performance now. Top speed is 115 miles an hour.

Prices would be comparable if the car reaches mass production, but first models may sell for considerably more, they said.

In the Chrysler turbine the jet of burning, expanding gas spins blades at up to 45,000 revolutions a minute as it seeks escape from its metal container.

The power thus generated is delivered to the wheels of the car.

World's Tallest Building Purchased By Prudential

NEWARK N.J. (AP)—The Empire State Building, the world's tallest structure and the unofficial symbol of New York City, was sold Wednesday to the Prudential Insurance Co. of America in a $65-million transaction.

Prudential then granted control of the 102-story New York skyscraper to Empire State Building Associates, an investment syndicate headed by Lawrence A. Wien, a New York lawyer and real estate operator.

Wien's control, in the form of a 114-year leasehold, gives his group the right to rent office space and operate the tourist observation roof and the television tower. The building grosses $14 million a year income.

The seller of the building was Henry Crown of Chicago, principal stockholder of the Empire State Building Corp. In 1957, Prudential bought the land on which the building stands for $17 million.

Prudential paid $29 million to Crown and Wien turned over $36 million to the Chicago financier to complete one of the most complex real estate deals in history.

The sale was held at Prudential's headquarters in Newark. The insurance company's delegation was headed by its president, Louis R. Menagh.

The formalities—the signing and countersigning of nearly one hundred documents — took place around an oval teak table, 37 feet long and 15 feet wide. The transaction lasted about four hours.

Wien, Crown and Menagh posed for photographers at a check-passing ceremony. Crown got the checks and Wien took symbolic control when he tucked a three-foot model of the Empire State Building under his arm. The real thing is 1,472 feet high.

Summit Talks Last For Less Than An Hour

Premier Snubs Visiting Princes, Blasts Neutralist

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Laos' laboriously prepared summit meeting of the three princes to form a neutral government fell apart in less than an hour Wednesday. Apparently there was nothing diplomats could do immediately to put it together again.

Neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma and his pro-Communist half-brother Prince Souphanouvong returned to Vientiane, the capital they fled in 1960, for talks with pro-Western Premier Prince Boun Oum on forming a coalition regime.

But Boun Oum refused to meet them at the airport and did not show up at the appointed meeting place. The two visiting princes finally paid a courtesy call on him at his residence, but the meeting lasted less than an hour.

By Boun Oum's account, he denounced neutralist Souvanna as being unneutral. He declared he wanted no part of a bargaining "carnival" over apportionment of Cabinet posts in a government that is supposed to set up Laos as an independent and neutral nation.

Souvanna Makes Appeal

On arrival at the airport, Souvanna in a brief speech did his best to placate his opponents by appealing for "good faith and good will" and urging firm support for a policy of "peace and strict neutrality."

But Souphanouvong, leader of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao guerrillas, ruffled the atmosphere by denouncing "American war mongers" and Boun Oum's government which he accused of planning to resume military operations and sowing death among the people.

The quick breakup of the heralded conference verged on the ludicrous but for the fact that it may prove tragic for this tiny Southeast Asia kingdom. It has been threatened all through 1961 with becoming the scene of a Korean-style war.

For weeks the 14-nation Geneva conference has been agreed on a policy of neutrality for Laos. It remained for the factions headed by the three princes to form a compromise government to carry it out.

Diplomats Disappointed

The three princes agreed in principle last July on a coalition government. They also agreed weeks ago that Souvanna should head a 16-man Cabinet consisting of four Boun Oum adherents, four from the Pathet Lao and eight neutralists. Since then they had haggled over details of when and how to get together for the summit meeting.

Diplomats who had nursed the preconference preparations in crisis after crisis and still held some hopes on the outcome were astounded and distressed by the swift collapse.

For hours newsmen had no inkling of what happened at the brief talk in Boun Oum's residence. Then the premier told them: "The two princes came to see me and we talked. There you had your princely meeting."

He said he had nothing more to talk about to the two princes.

Sub-Zero Cold Hits Midwest

By The Associated Press

Stinging, saturating cold covered the Midwest Wednesday, keeping temperatures under zero at high noon in some places.

The mercury dropped to -19 in International Falls, Minn., -14 in Bemidji, Minn., -12 in Superior, Wis., -6 in Eau Claire, Wis., -5 in Mason City, Iowa, and -2 in Bismarck, N.D.

Chicago had a low of 10 above and Moline, Ill., 4 above.

Even at midday, temperatures stayed below zero in some communities in Minnesota and North Dakota.

Light snow fell in Michigan, Ohio and the western sections of New York and Pennsylvania. Rain and snow were blended in Kentucky and Tennessee. Rain and thunderstorms were scattered over Mississippi and Alabama.

Readings in the 70s Wednesday afternoon over most the peninsula brought Florida relief from a brief cold snap that had driven temperatures down to record lows for the date Tuesday.

Crisfield Will Be Target Of Two 'Freedom Rides'

BALTIMORE (AP)—The small Eastern Shore town of Crisfield will be the scene of a double-barreled attack Friday and Saturday by demonstrators seeking equal accommodations in Maryland restaurants.

The Civic Interest Group of Baltimore announced Wednesday that it would sponsor a Freedom Ride to the Somerset County community Friday. It follows close on the heels of a similar demonstration that was staged in the home town of Gov. Tawes on Christmas Eve.

Police arrested 10 persons on charges of violating the state's trespassing law during the Dec. 24 sit-ins, and all spent Christmas day in the Somerset County jail rather than post bond. Four were released on bond of $100 each Tuesday and the remaining six expect to post bond Friday.

The Dec. 29 Freedom Ride is to be followed by a similar effort Saturday. A source close to the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) revealed. An official statement from CORE, which was to sponsor the Saturday demonstration, was expected late Wednesday night.

Clarence Logan, chairman of the CIG, said Wednesday that the purpose of Friday's demonstrations was ". . . to meet with these students (arrested Christmas Eve) and to express the support of the organization for equality of public accommodations in all the areas of the Free State."

The group sent a telegram to Gov. Tawes in connection with the planned ride, requesting his aid in the fulfillment of their objectives.

"On Friday, Dec. 29, 1961, the Civic Interest Group will encourage groups of Negroes and whites to seek service in places of public accommodations in your home town of Crisfield," the telegram read.

"We trust that such service will be given without discrimination because of race," the message concluded.

13 Killed In New Wave Of Algeria Terrorism

ALGIERS (UPI) — At least 13 persons were killed and 35 others were injured in a new wave of terror attacks in Algeria Wednesday after the lifting of the holiday truce called by the rightwing secret army organization (OAS).

Two Europeans were among the wounded in the attacks that raised the death toll in the past two days to at least 29 persons. Six of the dead were European settlers.

Guest Smoking In Bed Blamed For Hotel Fire

NEW YORK (AP) — A guest smoking in bed was blamed by fire officials for an early morning fire Wednesday that ravaged the ninth floor of the Mayflower Hotel, a fashionable 17-story residential landmark on Central Park West two blocks above Columbus Circle. Three persons died in the smoke and flames, including the smoker, a songwriter.

Nearly 400 residents fled their rooms in nightclothes, some carrying fur coats and pet dogs and canaries. Many of the women congregated in the safety of the hotel lobby still wore pin curlers in their hair.

One of the victims of the fire was fireman John King, 29, whose wife is expecting their second child. His mates fought for over an hour to control the blaze and confine it to the single floor.

The other victims were two permanent guests of the hotel—Murray Wyzel, about 60, whose friends said he had written songs for the Perry Como television show; and another resident, Jeanette Harrison, 74.

Nine other persons were burned or overcome by smoke, including Mrs. Harrison's husband, Abraham, 78. He was taken to Roosevelt Hospital where he suffered a heart attack that left him in critical condition.

The fire broke out in Wyzel's room and spread into the hall. Fire Commissioner Edward J. Cavanagh Jr., said it was caused by smoking in bed.

Three Indicted For Wiretapping

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—A federal grand jury indicted State Sen. Wendell Harris and two other men Wednesday on charges of wiretapping the telephones of Baton Rouge ministers.

The other two indicted are Leon Patterson, a Baton Rouge equipment firm executive, and Lawrence Hall, a Baton Rouge private detective.

All were accused of tapping the telephones of a rabbi and a minister who were signers of a petition advocating racial justice.

Harris, a top segregationist and a member of the State Sovereignty Commission, was charged with intercepting a conversation and relaying it to commission officials and Dist. Atty. Sargent Pitcher of East Baton Rouge.

The indictment accused Harris of receiving and intercepting a conversation between Rabbi Marvin Reznikoff and Wade Mackie, executive director of the American Friends Service Committee.

Rivers originating in the Canadian province of Alberta ultimately flow south to the Gulf of Mexico, north to the Arctic Ocean and east to Hudson Bay.

Scientists Report Hints Of Life Forms In Space

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — There are hints of life in space—perhaps fossils of tiny one-celled water plants locked inside space rocks that have plunged to earth in the last 157 years—scientists reported Wednesday.

A four-man research team told of extracting from meteorite fragments some microscopic particles that looked like the fossils of algae.

But another scientist cautioned that the specimens must be subjected to closer scrutiny and checking by other investigators before conclusions can be reached.

Dr. Philip H. Abelson of the Carnegie Institution of Washington said he had not yet seen the reported microscopic particles, but the odds were against the long-term stability of life compounds in space.

The research team reporting the meteorite evidence also reported finding in the meteorites certain chemical substances similar to substances produced by living matter.

The reports were made to a session on life in space at the annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

The meteorites that contained the possible fossils may have come from the asteroid belt—a whirling merry-go-round of small planets and planetary debris that circles the sun between the orbits of Mars and Jupiter, Dr. Warren G. Meinschein, one of the researchers, told newsmen.

Firm Is Divided Into Three Units

BALTIMORE (AP) — Martin Marietta Corp. announced today formation of three separate divisions within the company.

The announcement was made in a letter to stockholders by president George M. Bunker and chairman Grover M. Hermann. The three divisions will be aerospace, chemicals, and construction material.

The letter said all three divisions will be independent operating units reporting directly to corporate headquarters to be located in New York City.

The aerospace division, including missiles, electronics, nuclear power and related research, will have its headquarters at Friendship Airport near Baltimore.

The chemicals division, including paints, industrial finishes, coatings, dyes, and painting inks will have its headquarters in New York.

The construction materials division, which includes processing and manufacture of cement, will be located in Chicago.

Slain Minister's Automobile Found

BROOKLYN, Mich. (AP) — Police found the auto Wednesday which belonged to a brutally slain retired Methodist minister.

State police, bolstered by an air search team from Lansing, blanketed southern Michigan and adjoining states, searching for the slayer of the Rev. Roy R. Decker, 72, of nearby Tecumseh, Mich.

The body of the retired Minister was found in a burning bedroom of his summer farm home here Tuesday. Firemen answering an alarm found the body under a smoldering blanket.

State police said the Rev. Mr. Decker apparently was beaten with a hammer, bound with a rope and then set afire.

Two Girls Rally From Injections; Mother Dead

SMITH ISLAND, Md. (AP) — Two girls rallied Wednesday after their mother died of an injection which police said was self - inflicted.

Officers said the girls, Patricia, 12, and Molly, 14, daughters of Mrs. Helen Heffner, 42, also received injections of a substance which investigators have not yet identified.

Attendants at Patuxent Naval Air Station Hospital, where the girls were flown last night by helicopter, said the girls are out of danger and feeling much better.

The results of an autopsy performed Wednesday on Mrs. Heffner were not revealed. Police said further tests were necessary and it might be two weeks before the substance in the lethal injection was identified.

Her husband, Dr. William Heffner, is the only doctor on Smith Island, in the Chesapeake Bay near the southern tip of the Delmarva Peninsula.

He returned to their island home, after being gone briefly, to find his wife and step-daughters unconscious. He called the fire department and administered medical aid.

Molly was quoted as saying: "Mama gave us some vodka and a needle too."

Dr. Heffner came to the island about two years ago when residents advertised for a doctor. He is a native of Gilbertville, Mass.

He was unable to explain where his wife may have found the material in the injection. He said she helped in his practice last winter and learned to give injections then.

The results of an autopsy performed Wednesday on Mrs. Heffner were not revealed. Police said further tests were necessary and it might be two weeks before the substance in the lethal injection was identified.

Her husband, Dr. William Heffner, is the only doctor on Smith Island, in the Chesapeake Bay near the southern tip of the Delmarva Peninsula.

He returned to their island home, after being gone briefly, to find his wife and step-daughters unconscious. He called the fire department and administered medical aid.

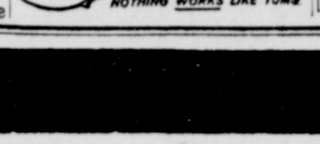

Molly was quoted as saying: "Mama gave us some vodka and a needle too."

Dr. Heffner came to the island about two years ago when residents advertised for a doctor. He is a native of Gilbertville, Mass.

He was unable to explain where his wife may have found the material in the injection. He said she helped in his practice last winter and learned to give injections then.

Suborbit Flights Dropped From Dynasoar Program

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Air Force announced Tuesday it will send the Dynasoar space glider directly into earth orbit, eliminating some preliminary tests.

The service said it had decided to drop plans to send the winged space ship on suborbital flights as originally planned.

Though an Air Force spokesman declined to say the change would speed up the program, there have been reports that manned military space flights may be advanced by as much as two years.

To accomplish the new goal, the Air Force Tuesday cancelled contracts with the Martin Co., for a number of Titan II rockets designed to boost the glider into sub-orbit.

At the same time, it said new contracts will be drawn up to permit the company to begin work on a more powerful rocket booster.

The development program "will move directly from manned drops of the Dynasoar glider from a B52 to orbital flight which will require an improved booster," the Air Force announcement said.

In the orbital flights, a glider will be launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla., and after one or more flights around the world will land at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif.

The Air Force said one approach for such a booster would be based on the Titan II, and incorporate large solid fuel rocket motors.

The Air Force said the new program will not mean an increase in spending on the Dynasoar this year.

Space Council Satellite Plan Due To Spark New Controversy

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The National Space Council has handed President Kennedy a potentially controversial plan outlining the role business and government should play in operating commercial communication satellites, it was learned Tuesday.

The plan—including legislation to carry it out—is now under consideration by the White House and may be forwarded to Congress in January.

Officials declined to make public details of the council's proposal. But any presidential recommendation concerning ownership of the system is bound to spark heated congressional debate.

The Justice Department and some members of Congress—including chairman Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., of Senate anti-trust subcommittee — have expressed strong opposition to a proposal put forward by an industry committee set up by the Federal Communications Commission. Under this the system would be owned by the International Common Carriers, the biggest of which is the American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

Spokesmen for private enterprise, however, are just as strongly opposed to limiting the development of space to the federal government.

The sources said a final meeting between White House officials and Space Council — before the proposal was given to the President—took place Tuesday morning.

The council, headed by Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, was understood to have recommended a plan quite different than that proposed by the FCC's committee.

Balance Of Payments Deficit Is Reduced

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Commerce Department reported Tuesday that the United States lost $960 million of gold and dollars in the first nine months of 1961.

This excess of payments over receipts in transactions with foreign countries was much smaller than the deficit of nearly $2.5 billion in the first nine months of 1960.

Reducing the deficit in the U.S. balance of international payments has been a major aim of the Kennedy administration.

However, part of this year's improvement was due to circumstance, not policy, the department indicated. Advance repayments on debts by foreign countries, chiefly West Germany, brought an extra $650 million back into the United States.

Covered Up Costumes Newest Style

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—James Galanos and Count Sarmi are two American designers who apparently bit into that brand of apple that sent Adam and Eve scurrying for fig leaves.

During a season in which fashion makers are busily reducing women's apparel literally to the barest minimum, these couturiers are creating costumes so covered up they would please even the most strait-laced grandmother.

Yet those gaunt, stony-faced mannikins who floated up and down runways recently at two separate shows introducing these spring collections were anything but prim and old-fashioned looking.

There are equally effective ways of providing sex appeal without a strip tease, decided Galanos who does his creating on the West Coast and presents his styles here twice yearly.

At times he wrapped his wafer-thin models like Egyptian mummies from their wrists and chins to their trim waists, then draped the rest of their shapes with clingy crepes and silk chiffons. But despite all this fabric, their figures remained about as secret as that of a female acrobat.

Or Galanos went to the other extreme, hiding obviously feminine attributes behind material that had been tucked and crinkled and puffed into masses of fluff.

Or the young designer of Greek descent obscured the figure with veils of printed chiffon tacked at the neckline that swirled over arms as billowy cape sleeves; or fluttered like butterfly wings from shoulder blades; or twisted around the body to the hemline where it stayed put.

Just occasionally Galanos dabbled with decolletage by plunging necklines to blushing depths. But he came to the rescue of the shy ones with properly giant bows at the midriff which hid everything after all.

While Galanos selected bold prints and noisy stripes, Count Sarmi spoke softly with his spring collection of delicate Dresden china colors. Among these, his favorite hue was blue, and more blue, with a little blue added.

Occasionally the blues were combined with a fragile yellow or blush pink. Other times the blue was frosted with a nippy layer of cloudy white chiffon.

Sarmi's high-waisted suits and coats were wide at the neck, not at all good for sore throats but wonderful for showing off dark, high-necked blouses and sheath dresses underneath. Instead of collars, some suits were embellished with neckerchief scarves.

While the count does not go in much for lavender, he does like big doses of old lace fashioned into short length cocktail dresses and floor-length formal wear.

The styles, the colors, the fabrics are the kind you would expect to see on rich, handsome dowagers with years of practiced good taste. But you would be just as likely to find them on their well-endowed debutante daughters. For Sarmi has the ability to be flattering to youth and the well-seasoned at the same time.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

In Your Makeup "Wardrobe" . . .
A Quick Pickup For Pallor!

You wouldn't wear the same dress and coat all day, would you? On every occasion, from morning through nightfall, in all kinds of weather? Of course not! Then, why should you wear the same basic makeup on your face all the time?

Your face needs changes, too. Your face doesn't always look the way you expect it to look. Take the motto of the Boy Scouts — and many of my Powers models — and Be Prepared with an all-occasion makeup "wardrobe," equipped with both the materials and the know-how to apply your usual glowing complexion whatever your temporary problem may be — sunburn, blemish, the pallor of fatigue or sickness, even bad lighting, both in outdoor gloom or artifically-lighted rooms.

Then, when you want to wake up that pale grey look on peaked days, you can try this little trick: Take a tiny speck of liquid rouge and blend it well into just the amount of foundation you need to cover your face and throat. Somehow, even the appearance of being bright and well rested makes you feel better.

If you want to combat a yellowish cast, select the foundation and powder in your wardrobe that carries a beige tone. While all your makeup should be keyed to your own particular color type, many variations are possible for producing rosy, beige, tanned or creamy effects. If it's hard for you to judge what's what by the pretty but nondescrpt name that manufacturers put on their boxes and jars, experiment. Just be sure to conduct your experiments under "actual conditions," as closely as you can simulate them. Try that anti-pollar shade on a day when you are pale. Test your evening or gloomy-day cosmetics under artificial light.

And watch those lipstick colors! Some of the most delectable plummy tones turn positively nauseous under artificial lighting! Those exciting orangey colors may just give you a jaundiced look when you need it least.

As long as you are sure of your true color type, you can be sure that many of the color "nuances" in your type will cover your complexion — to fool the eye without looking false.

In my booklet, "Your Color Type," you will learn how to discover your individual classification in complexion, keeyed to hair and eye color. You may obtain one from me, John Robert Powers, c/o this newspaper on request. Just enclose 10c and a stamped, self-addressed envelope and your request will be filled in two weeks.

Woman's Society Has Yule Dinner

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of Pleasant Grove Church held its Christmas dinner meeting recently at Nave's Dining Room. Mrs. Harry Wilson was in charge of devotionals.

The program opened with group singing "Oh Come All Ye Faithful," Mrs. Samuel Clark read the Scripture.

Readings telling of Christmas in other countries were given by Mrs. Adolph Norris, Mrs. Leslie Hinkle, Mrs. Carl Wilson, Mrs. Harry Raines, Mrs. Melvin Robinette, Mrs. Ira Robinette and Mrs. Jessie Knight.

Other readings were given by Mrs. Martin Gordon, Mrs. Harold Fisher and Mrs. Harry Northcraft.

A poem "I Wish't I Didn't Though" was presented by Mrs. Royce Wilson. The program concluded with a prayer and the group singing "Silent Night."

Jingle gifts were exchanged.

Ham In Refrigerator

All hams, either fully cooked or those which require cooking, should be stored in the refrigerator. It is not recommended that ham be frozen because this tends to decrease its palatability.

Gourmet quick dessert: Prunes plumped in wine and kept chilling in the refrigerator are always ready for a quick dessert. Simply serve them in their wine juice with a plop of whipped cream or sour cream.

Knights Of Columbus To Hold Annual Flea Fling Friday

The 14th annual Flea Fling will be held Friday at the Knights of Columbus Council 586 home. J. Arthur McDade, general chairman, said the dance is for adults only by invitation.

The informal dance will begin at 10 p.m. with music by Buck Trimble's Flea Flingers.

Proceeds from the dance which is sponsored by the Flea Club are used to promote high school scholarships.

The committee includes Rip Collins, Robert Schultz, William V. Keegan, Ned Finan, DeSales McDade, Joseph Love and Sylvester Shircliff.

Persons attending are requested to wear camp clothes, Mr. McDade said.

Use Thermometer

The use of a roast meat thermometer assures that meat will be cooked to the doneness desired. The thermometer is placed in the center of the roast, but should not rest in fat or on bone.

Start Day Right

The right kind of breakfast with meat provides energy and promotes efficiency for work or play.

WIFE PRESERVERS

Sorority To Initiate Pledge Class At FSTC

Gamma Psi's first pledge class as Alpha Xi Delta will be formally initiated into the sorority at Frostburg State Teachers College at the end of the current semester. Ten pledges have received pledge symbols which must be worn during the entire pledge period, according to Mary Ellen Cunningham, membership chairman.

Pledging the sorority are Becky Naill, Emmitsburg; Barbara Smith, Suitland; Patricia LaValle, Hagerstown; Linda Fehrer, Baltimore; Judy Johnston, Silver Spring; Mary Carol Reilly, Baltimore; Linda Kline, Hagerstown; Bonnie Sweeney, Silver Spring; Karen Carlson, Silver Spring and Serena Kerr, Emmitsburg.

Pledge marshals are Laurel Bachetti and Nadine Roberts. The major activity for the class will be the proposed project of making a sorority coat of arms to be placed in Gunter Hall.

A supervised study hall for the pledges will be held twice weekly until after midyear exams, under the direction of Frieda Cooley, scholarship chairman.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

In Your Makeup "Wardrobe" . . .

A Quick Pickup For Pallor!

You wouldn't wear the same dress and coat all day, would you? On every occasion, from morning through nightfall, in all kinds of weather? Of course not! Then, why should you wear the same basic makeup on your face all the time?

Your face needs changes, too. Your face doesn't always look the way you expect it to look. Take the motto of the Boy Scouts — and many of my Powers models — and Be Prepared with an all-occasion makeup "wardrobe," equipped with both the materials and the know-how to apply your usual glowing complexion whatever your temporary problem may be — sunburn, blemish, the pallor of fatigue or sickness, even bad lighting, both in outdoor gloom or artifically-lighted rooms.

Then, when you want to wake up that pale grey look on peaked days, you can try this little trick: Take a tiny speck of liquid rouge and blend it well into just the amount of foundation you need to cover your face and throat. Somehow, even the appearance of being bright and well rested makes you feel better.

If you want to combat a yellowish cast, select the foundation and powder in your wardrobe that carries a beige tone. While all your makeup should be keyed to your own particular color type, many variations are possible for producing rosy, beige, tanned or creamy effects. If it's hard for you to judge what's what by the pretty but nondescrpt name that manufacturers put on their boxes and jars, experiment. Just be sure to conduct your experiments under "actual conditions," as closely as you can simulate them. Try that anti-pollar shade on a day when you are pale. Test your evening or gloomy-day cosmetics under artificial light.

And watch those lipstick colors! Some of the most delectable plummy tones turn positively nauseous under artificial lighting! Those exciting orangey colors may just give you a jaundiced look when you need it least.

As long as you are sure of your true color type, you can be sure that many of the color "nuances" in your type will cover your complexion — to fool the eye without looking false.

In my booklet, "Your Color Type," you will learn how to discover your individual classification in complexion, keeyed to hair and eye color. You may obtain one from me, John Robert Powers, c/o this newspaper on request. Just enclose 10c and a stamped, self-addressed envelope and your request will be filled in two weeks.

Woman's Society Has Yule Dinner

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of Pleasant Grove Church held its Christmas dinner meeting recently at Nave's Dining Room. Mrs. Harry Wilson was in charge of devotionals.

The program opened with group singing "Oh Come All Ye Faithful," Mrs. Samuel Clark read the Scripture.

Readings telling of Christmas in other countries were given by Mrs. Adolph Norris, Mrs. Leslie Hinkle, Mrs. Carl Wilson, Mrs. Harry Raines, Mrs. Melvin Robinette, Mrs. Ira Robinette and Mrs. Jessie Knight.

Other readings were given by Mrs. Martin Gordon, Mrs. Harold Fisher and Mrs. Harry Northcraft.

A poem "I Wish't I Didn't Though" was presented by Mrs. Royce Wilson. The program concluded with a prayer and the group singing "Silent Night."

Jingle gifts were exchanged.

Ham In Refrigerator

All hams, either fully cooked or those which require cooking, should be stored in the refrigerator. It is not recommended that ham be frozen because this tends to decrease its palatability.

Gourmet quick dessert: Prunes plumped in wine and kept chilling in the refrigerator are always ready for a quick dessert Simply serve them in their wine juice with a plop of whipped cream or sour cream.

Knights Of Columbus To Hold Annual Flea Fling Friday

The 14th annual Flea Fling will be held Friday at the Knights of Columbus Council 586 home. J. Arthur McDade, general chairman, said the dance is for adults only by invitation.

The informal dance will begin at 10 p.m. with music by Buck Trimble's Flea Flingers.

Proceeds from the dance which is sponsored by the Flea Club are used to promote high school scholarships.

The committee includes Rip Collins, Robert Schultz, William V. Keegan, Ned Finan, DeSales McDade, Joseph Love and Sylvester Shircliff.

Persons attending are requested to wear camp clothes, Mr. McDade said.

Use Thermometer

The use of a roast meat thermometer assures that meat will be cooked to the doneness desired. The thermometer is placed in the center of the roast, but should not rest in fat or on bone.

Start Day Right

The right kind of breakfast with meat provides energy and promotes efficiency for work or play.

America's Flying Saucer Project To Be Dropped By Pentagon

WASHINGTON (UPI)—America's flying saucer project is being grounded.

By the end of the year, the last of more than $7.5 million earmarked for the radical new aircraft will be used. The Army and Air Force do not intend to spend any more.

The Pentagon confirmed that it was dropping the saucer idea, at least for the time being. No reason for the decision was given.

The high cost of new missiles and other weapons probably was a factor. Defense sources also indicated that development of the flying saucer was not coming along as fast as originally anticipated.

The Army decided to drop out of the project after investing $4 million. The Air Force, which put up $3.5 million, agreed to provide enough money to continue work through the end of the year.

All the funds will be gone in a few days and flying saucers once again will belong to science fiction writers.

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market is winding up 1961 on "a churning, mixed and brutally selective note."

That's the way James Dines of the brokerage firm, A.M. Kidder & Co., sizes up a market that was supposed to go into a yearend rally but hasn't.

He finds most investment analysts bullishly expecting a boom in 1962 but points out that these experts have been burned several times in recent years and their statements are unusually cautious.

Many of them feel there will be a sharp rise in the first half of next year, followed by an exceptionally severe decline in the second half.

Dines says flatly that the basic bull market uptrend which started in 1949 still seems very much intact and that he will remain optimistic until there is a final blowoff or climactic upsurge on very heavy volume.

"How high it will go depends on when it begins," he comments. "If it starts soon around current levels, then the target would be over 800 on the Dow Jones industrial average, partially because the upside potential will only be derived from the base formed in 1960.

"On the other hand, if 1962 turns out to be another 1960 and a new base is formed by consolidation during a recession, then the move could approach a frothy 1,000 by 1963."

For the near term, Dines expects the present weakness to end before February and above 690-715 on the industrial average.

He looks for the remaining favored defensive issues to complete their advances by midyear, partially due to a shift to "tight money," when investors will select a new fad.

Dines says the market hasn't revealed what the fad will be but he is keeping an eye on the cyclicals and heavy industry shares, oils, coppers, airlines and rails.

"We expect 1962 to be one of the most exciting years in market history," he adds. "Total 1961 volume has reached a cumulative 1 billion shares, exceeded only by 1929's 1.1 billion, and we expect the 1962 level to surpassall expectations."

Youth To Appear On TV Show

A 15-year-old former resident of Allegany County will appear on Ted Mack's television show Sunday as a member of a four-piece musical combo.

He is Dwight M. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs H. Clair (Herb) Miller, Baltimore, former residents of Ellerslie. The youth helped organize the "Poker Chips," a musical group that earlier this year was an amateur attraction on Atlantic City's Steel Pier.

Miller, who plays the trumpet, is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. H. Earl Miller, Ellerslie. Their performance on Sunday's show was taped in New York last week.

Tawes Pardons Innocent Man; Served Year

BALTIMORE (AP) — Gov. J. Millard Tawes pardoned Edward J. Higgins Jr. Wednesday, nearly a year after Higgins began serving a sentence for a crime he didn't commit.

Higgins, 23, Baltimore, was sentenced to 10 years in prison last January in the Nov. 3, 1960, holdup of a Baltimore grocery store which netted two robbers $374.

But a key witness admitted it was a case of mistaken identity, George Stinson, 24, Baltimore, who was convicted with Higgins has exonerated him, and two other men, Linwood Gladden, 23, and Robert Green, 28, both of Baltimore, were convicted Tuesday of the same holdup.

Tawes said a thorough investigation showed Higgins was not guilty.

"I have taken steps to grant such pardon," Tawes said, "and as soon as the necessary legal requirements are met, he will be released from the House of Correction and given a full pardon."

Tawes said "it is regrettable indeed that Higgins was convicted of a crime which he did not commit, but it is a great satisfaction to me to know that the error was discovered."

Aides to the governor said it probably would be Friday before Higgins could be released. They said the Maryland Constitution requires that award of pardons must be advertised in a daily newspaper before release, and it would be Thursday before such an ad could be placed.

Judge Joseph L. Carter, who presided at Higgins's trial, said he was convinced of his innocence.

And the witness and holdup victim, Mrs. Glorybelle Pritchett, said:

"There's nothing I can say except that I'm sorry."

Washington Co. Gets New Welfare Center

HAGERSTOWN (AP) — The Board of County Commissioners approved Wednesday construction of a new Washington County Welfare Center. Bids will be called next week.

The center, to cost more than $100,000, will be financed with money from a bond issue already approved by voters. A court house annex also will be built.

Francis H. Connally, director of the welfare department, said the new center would take care of the department's needs for 20 years.

Maryland News In Brief

BALTIMORE (AP) — A father who saved three children from a burning home died Wednesday, four weeks after the fire, when a cut on his arm reopened and he bled to death.

He was John Gillian, 53, of Baltimore. Attendants at Provident Hospital said he died about two hours after the wound started to hemorrhage.

He was injured Nov. 30 while leading the children from his burning home. A skylight fell on him during the rescue and firemen pulled him from the flames. He was treated for burns and the cut and was released from the hospital the next day.

TOWSON, Md. (AP) — Baltimore County police released Wednesday three men held for questioning in the $20,000 robbery of Hutzler's Department Store in Towson.

Police recovered about $18,000 of the loot. Detectives said the three men were released after extensive questioning about the robbery.

BALTIMORE (AP) — The chief medical examiner for Baltimore, Dr. Russell Fisher, started an investigation Wednesday into the death of a 75-year-old woman at Mercy Hospital.

The woman, Mrs. Florence Driscoll, was admitted to the hospital Dec. 12 after she was beaten and robbed by three teenagers. She suffered a fractured left arm when they knocked her to the street.

Mrs. Driscoll died Sunday.

BALTIMORE (AP) — An increase in traffic on Maryland highways — perhaps as much as 4 per cent — was forecast Wednesday by the State Roads Commission.

Data compiled through November from permanent counters at 33 locations and the 4 toll facilities showed a 4.3 per cent jump in traffic volume over the figures for the first 11 months of 1960.

CLINTON, Md. (AP) — John J. Traas of nearby Silver Hill is passing out eggnog instead of cigars to celebrate the birth of a new baby.

His wife gave birth to a boy on Christmas Day the second year in a row. Both births occurred at the Southern Maryland Medical Center at Clinton.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Citing Maryland's racial problems, the chairman-elect of the state's Civil Liberties Union says Maryland is behind Pennsylvania in civil rights.

The official, the Rev. Irving R. Murray of the First Unitarian Church, said Tuesday the governor of Pennsylvania, both U.S. senators and several congressmen were members of the Civil Liberties Union.

"I am told this is not the case in Maryland," said the minister, a resident of Pittsburgh for 17 years before coming to Baltimore last February.

An ordinance passed two years ago in Pittsburgh outlaws discriminate in housing unless it is based on education or income, he said.

Tawes Pardons Innocent Man; Served Year

BALTIMORE (AP) — Gov. J. Millard Tawes pardoned Edward J. Higgins Jr. Wednesday, nearly a year after Higgins began serving a sentence for a crime he didn't commit.

Higgins, 23, Baltimore, was sentenced to 10 years in prison last January in the Nov. 3, 1960, holdup of a Baltimore grocery store which netted two robbers $374.

But a key witness admitted it was a case of mistaken identity. George Stinson, 24, Baltimore, who was convicted with Higgins has exonerated him, and two other men, Linwood Gladden, 23, and Robert Green, 28, both of Baltimore, were convicted Tuesday of the same holdup.

Tawes said a thorough investigation showed Higgins was not guilty.

"I have taken steps to grant such pardon," Tawes said, "and as soon as the necessary legal requirements are met, he will be released from the House of Correction and given a full pardon."

Tawes said "it is regrettable indeed that Higgins was convicted of a crime which he did not commit, but it is a great satisfaction to me to know that the error was discovered."

Aides to the governor said it probably would be Friday before Higgins could be released. They said the Maryland Constitution requires that award of pardons must be advertised in a daily newspaper before release, and it would be Thursday before such an ad could be placed.

Judge Joseph L. Carter, who presided at Higgins's trial, said he was convinced of his innocence.

And the witness and holdup victim, Mrs. Glorybelle Pritchett, said:

"There's nothing I can say except that I'm sorry."

Washington Co. Gets New Welfare Center

HAGERSTOWN (AP) — The Board of County Commissioners approved Wednesday construction of a new Washington County Welfare Center. Bids will be called next week.

The center, to cost more than $100,000, will be financed with money from a bond issue already approved by voters. A court house annex also will be built.

Francis H. Connally, director of the welfare department, said the new center would take care of the department's needs for 20 years.

Maryland News In Brief

BALTIMORE (AP) — A father who saved three children from a burning home died Wednesday, four weeks after the fire, when a cut on his arm reopened and he bled to death.

He was John Gillian, 53, of Baltimore. Attendants at Provident Hospital said he died about two hours after the wound started to hemorrhage.

He was injured Nov. 30 while leading the children from his burning home. A skylight fell on him during the rescue and firemen pulled him from the flames. He was treated for burns and the cut and was released from the hospital the next day.

TOWSON, Md. (AP) — Baltimore County police released Wednesday three men held for questioning in the $20,000 robbery of Hutzler's Department Store in Towson.

Police recovered about $18,000 of the loot. Detectives said the three men were released after extensive questioning about the robbery.

C&P Drops Service Plan

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. has been seeking since October to provide low-cost telephone service to jobless persons in the Logan and Grafton areas but will terminate the plan due to lack of participation.

"Apparently it was just too restricted in its scope," commercial manager Walter Ellis said Tuesday. "There hasn't been enough demand to justify keeping it in operation." The experimental period ends Sunday and Ellis said C&P would not ask the Public Service Commission for a continuance.

The special service allowed subscribers to make 12 outgoing calls a month for the basic rate, plus 10 cents each for additional calls. The plan allowed unlimited incoming calls aimed at enabling jobless persons to make job contacts. The charge at Grafton was $2.85 a month and at Logan $2.95, compared with $4.05 and $4.15 for regular four-party line service.

GEORGE S. LOUGHRY

PARSONS — George Solomon Loughry, 78, St. George, died yesterday morning in Tucker County Hospital, where he had been a patient for a month.

A retired Tucker County farmer, he was born in St. George, a son of the late Samuel V. and Alcinda Jane (Biggs) Loughry. His wife, Mrs. Ocie Esther Loughry, died May 20.

He was a member of the Macedonia Methodist Church and the Odd Fellows lodge here.

Surviving are five sons, Junior Russell Loughry, Rowlesburg; Ellis Marvin, Route 3, St. George; John Wesley, Baltimore; William Dale, Columbus, Ohio, and George, Baltimore; six daughters, Mrs. Alcinda Olive Cassady, Cleveland; Mrs. Rosa May Minor, Rowlesburg; Mrs. Flossie Gladys Friend, Rowlesburg; Mrs. Sue Shahan, Morgantown; Mrs. Onda Pearl Nestor, Parsons, and Mrs. Virginia Marie Shahan, Baltimore.

A brother, Hiram Frank Loughry, Parsons, 39 grandchildren and 30 great grandchildren also survive.

The body is at the Greenlief Funeral Home here for a service Friday at 2 p. m. Rev. Meade Gatshall and Rev. Earl Marple will officiate and burial will be in Macedonia church cemetery.

C&P Drops Service Plan

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. has been seeking since October to provide low-cost telephone service to jobless persons in the Logan and Grafton areas but will terminate the plan due to lack of participation.

"Apparently it was just too restricted in its scope," commercial manager Walter Ellis said Tuesday. "There hasn't been enough demand to justify keeping it in operation." The experimental period ends Sunday and Ellis said C&P would not ask the Public Service Commission for a continuance.

The special service allowed subscribers to make 12 outgoing calls a month for the basic rate, plus 10 cents each for additional calls. The plan allowed unlimited incoming calls aimed at enabling jobless persons to make job contacts. The charge at Grafton was $2.85 a month and at Logan $2.95, compared with $4.05 and $4.15 for regular four-party line service.

Moscow Hotel Chef Prepares State Dinners

By ALINE MOSBY

MOSCOW (UPI) — It wasn't Mrs. Nikita Khrushchev who worked over a hot stove preparing the feast for the Kremlin New Year's Eve party.

The Grand Kremlin Palace, scene of most government receptions, is one government mansion in which the lady of the house, unlike Mrs. John F. Kennedy in the White House, has little to say about who eats what and where.

Instead, the "commissar of the kitchen" is a white-haired chef named Alexander Mashikhin. Since the Kremlin kitchen is limited to small meals for Premier Khrushchev and other leaders, the catering for the huge government and Communist party receptions and banquents is done by chef Mashikhin and other members of the staff at the Moskva (Moscow) hotel, one block from the Kremlin.

The chef said he never hears from Mrs. Khrushchev or her husband that such-and-such a president or king is coming to dinner and would he whip up a certain menu.

Instead, one of the Soviet premier's assistants telephones the Moskva Hotel dining room director, Nikolai Korshanov, to say that President Nkrumah of Ghana or Prime Minister Nehru of India is coming to dinner. Or, that 700 persons will arrive for cocktails.

Fish, chopped liver, eggs stuffed with caviar, smoked salmon, pickles, anchovies on bread slices and cheese go into Russian hors d'ouevres for receptions. The snacks plus wine and fruit drink are laid out on long tables in St. George's Hall, a football-field size room with glittering gold chandeliers and names of Russian military heroes carved in gold on the white marble walls.

Even during winter months the party chefs manage to garner tomatoes and cucumbers for hors d'ouevres although the ordinary housewife cannot find them at the Moscow markets. The Kremlin probably has vegetables flown to Moscow from southern Soviet republics.

Kremlin dinners for visiting heads of state and government usually are held in Katherine's Throne Room, a salon with golden doors, painted ceilings and ceiling-high candleabras.

Chef Mashikhin says his usual menu begins with caviar and vodka. Then comes consomme served with a twisted roll stuffed with meat and egg, or Borschto (beet soup). White wine in the traditional Russian cut glass is served with the fish course, followed by chicken or turkey with conserved fruit and red wine. Asparagus, cauliflower or peas usually are on the menu.

The Kremlin dinner dessert is a parfait or pear Melba with Soviet champagne, the kind they make in two weeks in this country. The final course for the world leaders is Turkish coffee, sweet Soviet liquers, Armenian cognac and soft drinks.

DIVORCE GRANTED, ISSUE SETTLED—Jimmy, a talking parakeet, rests nearby as Nick Kuzik contentedly reads a book at his home in Los Angeles. Jimmy was the main issue in the divorce of Kuzik and his wife, married 12 years and childless. The judge granted the divorce to Mrs. Kuzik and awarded bird to both parties, one month each, alternately.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Franklin National Bank of Long Island offered a new "double your money" savings plan Tuesday. Certificates in denomination of $50 to $1,000 and over are issued for a regular savings plan under which they are redeemable at twice the face value in exactly 20 years. They also may be redeemed at current value after 12 months.

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Rank Organization, through its subsidiary Top Rank Bowling Ltd., has signed a $2.8 million contract with AMF Ltd. of London, a subsidiary of American Machine & Foundry Co. to equip new bowling centers throughout the United Kingdom.

NEW YORK (UPI)—International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. Tuesday announced development of transistorized lighter weight distance measuring equipment to meet the needs of tomorrow's super-speed commercial aircraft.

Britain Reported Drafting New Plan For Defense

LONDON (UPI)—Britain was reported Tuesday to be drafting a new 10-year defense plan drastically reducing the role of overseas bases and placing greater reliance on mobile "fire brigade" tactics to deal with far-flung emergencies.

The plan now being worked out by defense ministry officials is understood to have been reviewed at the recent Bermuda meeting of Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and President Kennedy.

Political sources said the new military strategy proposes to reduce Britain's dependence on overseas bases for political reasons as well as to save manpower.

Under the re-organization, the British would have more mobile military reserves based at home or aboard commando carriers with improved air fleet facilities that could rush forces to danger spots.

Revision of the peripheral bases strategy ties in closely with military requirements in Europe, where the West must be ready to meet any emergency.

The British are reluctant to increase their military manpower contribution in Europe now because their slim forces are dispersed in outlying bases ranging from the Middle East to Southeast Asia.

Major bases overseas include Gibraltar, Malta, Cyprus, Libya, Aden, Bahrein, Kenya, Singapore, Borneo and Hong Kong.

Stationing of European troops on Asian and African territory is expected to become increasingly difficult and inadvisable in view of local political considerations.

A switch in Britain's global strategy will require time and a complete re-appraisal of new obligations within the commonwealth as well as within the NATO, CENTO and SEATO pacts, the sources said.

The detailed new defense plan is expected to be completed and a final decision on it taken in mid-1962.

More Items Located In Garrett Theft

The fantastic case of a radio technician became more involved yesterday in Oakland where the 20-year-old Mountain Lake Park man is being held for the theft of numerous articles from a store.

W. Dwight Stover, Garrett County state's attorney, said an additional warrant has been obtained against Ernest Ray Martin, 20, for the larceny of more items from his former employer, Thomas K. Vance, owner of Kelly's Appliance and Furniture Store in Mountain Lake Park.

At a preliminary hearing in Oakland last week, Martin entered a plea of guilty to taking articles valued at over $3,000. He was placed under $2,000 cash bond or $5,000 property bond for his appearance in Garrett County Circuit Court.

Tuesday, Stover said, the second warrant was filed against him, charging the technician with the theft of an additional $2,427.40 in merchandise from the Kelly store.

This included two boxes of assorted television tubes valued at $800 and 23 picture tubes worth $720.

The bond has been increased to $10,000 in property or $5,000 cash, Stover said. In addition, Martin has asked for an immediate trial, waiving his right to indictment by the March grand jury.

The latest batch of articles stolen were stored in Martin's parents barn, Stover said.

Martin was arrested by TFC Donald T. Tucker.

Most of the items have been recovered, according to a confession made to Stover and Tfc. Tucker.

According to the statement Martin obtained adding machines, cash register, records, record players, TV sets, electric trains, radios, mowers, TV consoles, tires, and numerous items.

Martin told Stover that he began by taking small items and then "something happened in my head, and I felt it was all right to do what I was doing." Some of the merchandise he would sell to other persons, keeping the money for himself. Some of it he stored in the basement of his grandfather's home in Mountain Lake Park, where it was discovered a few days ago. Martin said his grandfather was not aware of the thefts.

Martin was employed as an electrical and radio technician and had access to the repair truck at all times. Sometimes he used the repair truck and sometimes his own automobile, he said.

Martin was interrogated by Stover and Tucker and he readily admitted his part in the undertaking which occurred over a period from May 29 to November 18. He was arrested several days ago.

The three-page statement given to Stover listed items in detail which he had taken from the appliance store and also listed the deals he had made with other parties, accepting cash for some items while other sales were made for part cash and payments of so much a month.

Appeals Board Case Slated Here Today

The Appeals Board of the Allegany County Planning and Zoning Commission will hear its first case today at 2 p.m. at the Court House.

It will not be an actual appeal from a decision of the Planning and Zoning Commission but the application by two men to operate a business for dismantling and storing autos.

James L. Niner and John Cross applied under the old regulation for the business but the Allegany County Board of Commissioners held up action as the interim zoning law was about to be put into effect.

The two men want to establish the business in the Triple Lakes section about 1,000 feet off U. S. Route 220.

C. Lee Renaud, county planner, said that certain type businesses will obtain permit only after a hearing before the Appeals Board.

John C. Sullivan will be the attorney for the two applicants.

The Appeals Board is comprised of Everett Partridge, chairman, Wilbur Johnson, vice chairman, and Ralph Cover. Renaud is acting secretary for the group.

Trade Increase

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet foreign trade minister Nikolai Patolichev announced Wednesday that Russia's foreign trade has doubled in the past five years, with about three-quarters of it with the Communist bloc, the Tass News Agency reported.

Last Attempt

LONDON (UPI) — Mrs. Esther Elliott told a coroner Wednesday that her husband, James, 43, would beat her when she would try to get him to withdraw his head from their oven. Although she said "the gas never seemed to affect him" on his previous attempts, it killed him last night.

American farmers bought 2½ billion dollars worth of new tractors in the years 1950-3.

Increase Noted In County Court Cases

Civil and criminal litigation in Maryland increased last year, according to a report released by Frederick W. Invernizzi, director of Maryland's Administrative Office of the Courts.

The gain, the report states, was reflected not only in new filings, but also in both the number of cases heard in the state trial courts, and in those in which appellate review was sought.

Complete Tasks

MOSCOW (UPI) — The first two large Soviet transports have completed successful flights to the Soviet Antarctic base at Mirny, the Soviet Tass News Agency said Wednesday.

Return Home

LONDON (UPI) — Two refugees from the South Atlantic island of Tristan Da Cunha will accompany an expedition to their homeland next month to determine whether it is habitable again. The 282 islanders fled Tristan last fall when a long-dormant volcano erupted.

The influx of litigation was not limited to any one section of the state, and the report indicates Allegany and Garrett Circuit courts shared in the general increase.

Law and equity cases pending in Allegany County Circuit Court as of August 31 totaled 654, while criminal cases pending as of that date numbered 30.

The number of law and equity cases filed in the local court through August 31 was 1,013, the first time since 1957 that the 1,000-mark was surpassed. The total number of cases filed through the same period of 1960 was 918.

Garrett County Circuit Court had 262 law and equity cases filed through last August 31, while the cases pending in those categories numbered 140.

Criminal cases filed in the local court for the same period in 1960 totaled 155, 19 more than in the previous year. There were 30 criminal cases pending here as of August 31. The Garrett court had 28 criminal cases pending on that date, while the 1960 total of cases filed was 52, a drop from the 66 that were filed during 1959.

Figures contained in the annual report by Invernizzi disclose that 75 per cent of the cases were filed in the courts of Baltimore City and the urban counties of Anne Arundel, Baltimore, Montgomery and Prince Georges, the area that contains about 75 per cent of the population.

For the six-year period beginning September 1, 1955, there have been 3,232 law cases and 2,462 equity cases filed in Allegany County Circuit Court, of which 88.5 per cent have been terminated. Criminal cases filed in that period totaled 975, with 97 per cent of them terminated.

During the past six years there have been 1,494 law and equity cases filed in Garrett County Circuit Court. Of that total, 930 were law cases, and the remainder equity litigation. Criminal cases filed during the six years totaled 446, with 93.8 per cent terminated.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a boy 11 years of age. Something is bothering me. It's about my mother. She looks fat when she is cleaning the house in her old bathrobe. You might even say she looks lumpy.

The very same night when she dresses up in her good clothes she looks thin. Can stockings and shoes and underwear make so much difference in a lady's shape? I asked her about this and she gave me a dirty look—but she did say underwear makes the difference.

Now, Ann Landers, I know very well that underwear can't make a person thinner. Where do the lumps go to? —BOB

DEAR BOB: The lumps don't actually go any place. They are just rearranged.

Elastic can do marvelous things! (And I think you ask too many questions, too!)

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I was very much interested in that letter from the salesman in the men's clothing store. He said 85 per cent of the nation's males are morons who can't buy a suit of clothes or a topcoat without the advice of a woman — usually the wife.

You said it was a sure bet that when a woman comes into a clothing store with a man SHE brought him. You added "It's a great compliment to a man when his wife is willing to take the time to help him select clothes."

Now, Ann, be honest. Do YOU go with your husband to help him select clothes? How about an answer in the column?

—L. A. DOUBTER

DEAR DOUBTER: You can bet your seven-button vest I do, Buster. If I didn't, he'd probably still be wearing his Glen Urquhart plaid with the by-swing back.

But then, as busy as HE is, he always takes the time to come with me to select hats. No, he doesn't feel uncomfortable in a ladies millinery department. It's where I met him!

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a business executive who never dreamed I'd wind up writing to you. The Christmas gift scourge is what prompts me to put pen in hand. I cannot dictate this letter and you'll soon understand why.

The view I'm about to express is not exclusively my own. I've discussed this with other executives and have learned that many feel as I do. I refer to secretaries who give costly gifts to the boss.

My own secretary is a fine woman. She is having financial difficulties and I happen to know she is barely getting by. For the past three years she has spent far too much money on Christmas gifts for me. I just got another one last Friday.

Is there any way I can prevent this from happening next year without hurting her feelings? —DILLY

DEAR DILLY: Yes. Tell her that you have been deeply touched by her demonstrations of generosity in the past but from now on you will not accept a gift which costs more than $2.

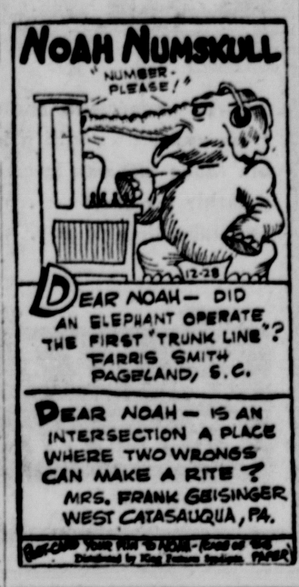

Explain that a small trinket will express her thoughtfulness adequately, and this is what counts.

Are you going steady? Making marriage plans? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Before You Marry—Is It Love Or Sex?" enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Tie Plant Draws National Attention

The modernization of the Green Spring tie plant of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad to make usable ties taken from trackage that is being torn up over the 13-state system is drawing the attention of the railroad industry.

The plant, operated by the Koppers Company for the B&O, has installed new machinery that will be able to handle 300,000 reclaimed ties each year.

David L. Shelky, manager of the Koppers operation, said some idea of the scope of the plant's work is the fact that over a five-year period the B&O Railroad will take up 2,500 miles of track.

This will involve the removal of 7,500,000 ties. All reusable ones will be shipped to the Green Spring plant, which also makes all new ties for the system.

The B&O is taking up track where central traffic control have made them unnecessary. For instance, between Cumberland and Martinsburg a third line has been removed due to the fact that only two tracks, one east and one west, are now needed because of modern signal methods.

When a used tie gets to the plant, the old spike holes are plugged up. Then on a conveyor they are moved through an electronic detection device, which rejects them if they still have metal from spikes in them.

After this, the ties are sprayed with jets of water under 250 pounds pressure. At the adzing and boring machine, the old wood in the tie plate or rail area is planed off.

The final step places the revitalized tie into 135-foot cylinders where they are retreated with creosote under pressure.

Shelkey pointed out that this is a closed drum, and added that the plant does not do open vat creosoting.

When the tie emerges from this process, it will give essentially the same life as a new tie.

This process has not been set up to take the place of the new tie business, but only as a supplementary supply.

The company plans in 1962 to purchase from 500,000 to 600,000 new ties and to use 300,000 of the reclaimed ones, Shelkey said.

New ties must be seasoned for a year before being put through the modernized plant, he pointed out.

Before being stored, the logs are run through an insizing machine to accelerate and control the seasoning process. A boring machine drills 16 holes in the tipe plate areas of each one to improve the penetration of creosote in these sections.

Then the "green" ties are stacked for a year when their moisture content is 40 per cent or less. Then they go through the cylinders for treatment.

The innovations put into operation at the Green Spring plant have attracted the attention of the industry. Just this month, division and regional engineers of the B&O Railroad inspected the plant.

Earlier the Koppers Company entertained the Committee on the Development of New Processes of the Trailway Tie Association.

Aliens Must Make Reports

The U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service has announced that the period within aliens must report their addresses is almost at hand.

January has been set for the address reporting time. All aliens in the United States, with few exceptions, must report their addresses to the government during that period.

Forms on which to make the report are available at the Cumberland Post Office, according to Postmaster Thomas F. Conlon.

The Immigration and Naturalization Service urges all aliens to comply with the reporting requirements, as willful failure to do so may lead to serious consequences.

The homicide rate of the United States is more than twice that of Canada and Australia.

Maryland Traffic Shows Increase During 1961

Maryland traffic in 1961 will show an approximate four percent increase over last year, the State Roads Commission predicted yesterday.

The forecast was made on the basis of volumes compiled through November at permanent counters maintained by the Commission at 33 locations and the state's four toll facilities.

At the end of November, the 1961 volumes at these locations were 4.3 percent higher than for the first 11 months of 1960.

German Parents Phone Girl; Students Foot Bill

BALTIMORE (AP) — A young German waitress at a Baltimore restaurant couldn't go home to her family for Christmas, but she received the next best gift — a telephone call from her father and mother in Stuttgart, Germany.

The call was made possible by a group of college students who frequent the restaurant on U.S. 40 in West Baltimore. They collected $33 to pay for the call.

The astonished girl, Irmgard Sigrid (Sigi) Kramer, 22, talked with her parents Tuesday night in the presence of the contributors.

"I couldn't believe it," she said "I didn't want to go near the phone because I didn't believe it."

Sigi said she had not seen her parents since March 1960 when she came to the united States. The first words her father spoke, she said, was "When are you coming home?"

She told him she planned to stay awhile longer. When she departed for the United States, she promised to return to Germany in about six months.

Tie Plant Draws National Attention

The modernization of the Green Spring tie plant of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad to make usable ties taken from trackage that is being torn up over the 13-state system is drawing the attention of the railroad industry.

The plant, operated by the Koppers Company for the B&O, has installed new machinery that will be able to handle 300,000 reclaimed ties each year.

David L. Shelky, manager of the Koppers operation, said some idea of the scope of the plant's work is the fact that over a five-year period the B&O Railroad will take up 2,500 miles of track.

This will involve the removal of 7,500,000 ties. All reusable ones will be shipped to the Green Spring plant, which also makes all new ties for the system.

The B&O is taking up track where central traffic control have made them unnecessary. For instance, between Cumberland and Martinsburg a third line has been removed due to the fact that only two tracks, one east and one west, are now needed because of modern signal methods.

When a used tie gets to the plant, the old spike holes are plugged up. Then on a conveyor they are moved through an electronic detection device, which rejects them if they still have metal from spikes in them.

After this, the ties are sprayed with jets of water under 250 pounds pressure. At the adzing and boring machine, the old wood in the tie plate or rail area is planed off.

The final step places the revitalized tie into 135-foot cylinders where they are retreated with creosote under pressure.

Shelkey pointed out that this is a closed drum, and added that the plant does not do open vat creosoting.

When the tie emerges from this process, it will give essentially the same life as a new tie.

This process has not been set up to take the place of the new tie business, but only as a supplementary supply.

The company plans in 1962 to purchase from 500,000 to 600,000 new ties and to use 300,000 of the reclaimed ones, Shelkey said.

New ties must be seasoned for a year before being put through the modernized plant, he pointed out.

Before being stored, the logs are run through an insizing machine to accelerate and control the seasoning process. A boring machine drills 16 holes in the tipe plate areas of each one to improve the penetration of creosote in these sections.

Then the "green" ties are stacked for a year when their moisture content is 40 per cent or less. Then they go through the cylinders for treatment.

The innovations put into operation at the Green Spring plant have attracted the attention of the industry. Just this month, division and regional engineers of the B&O Railroad inspected the plant.

Earlier the Koppers Company entertained the Committee on the Development of New Processes of the Trailway Tie Association.

Aliens Must Make Reports

The U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service has announced that the period within aliens must report their addresses is almost at hand.

January has been set for the address reporting time. All aliens in the United States, with few exceptions, must report their addresses to the government during that period.

Forms on which to make the report are available at the Cumberland Post Office, according to Postmaster Thomas F. Conlon.

The Immigration and Naturalization Service urges all aliens to comply with the reporting requirements, as willful failure to do so may lead to serious consequences.

The homicide rate of the United States is more than twice that of Canada and Australia.

Maryland Traffic Shows Increase During 1961

Maryland traffic in 1961 will show an approximate four percent increase over last year, the State Roads Commission predicted yesterday.

The forecast was made on the basis of volumes compiled through November at permanent counters maintained by the Commission at 33 locations and the state's four toll facilities.

At the end of November, the 1961 volumes at these locations were 4.3 percent higher than for the first 11 months of 1960.

Interest Must Be Reported On Tax Returns

Payers of dividends and interest again this year are being asked to remind recipients of such income that it must be reported on their federal income tax returns.

Internal Revenue Commissioner Mortimer Caplin has addressed letters to the New York and American stock exchanges and various other organizations representing payers of dividends and interest, requesting their cooperation, and that of their members, in the service's educational program to improve compliance.

Participation in this program by these groups in the past two years has resulted in many millions of notices as to dividend and interest taxability going to receivers, Mr. Caplin said. In addition, widespread publicity has been given through publications, both of the various associations, and those of individual institutions.

Although some omissions have been willful, and have required criminal prosecutions, Mr. Caplin said, experience during recent years indicates that much of the previous failure to report dividends and interest was the result of a misunderstanding of the law or an oversight caused by inadequate records. Consequently the service has asked the payers of the income to advise the recipients of the amount paid or credited, its taxable nature, and the necessity for full and complete reporting.

The commissioner urged that where possible, such recipients be given copies of the Information Notices (form 1099) payers are required to submit to the Internal Revenue Service reporting payments above stipulated minimum amounts.

The notice reminds recipients to be sure to report all income from all sources on income tax returns. It also states that some taxpayers, while reporting income from wages and other principal sources, tend to forget to report lesser amounts from sources such as interest on savings accounts and other interest and dividends, particularly when such amounts are credited to their accounts rather than received in cash. Accuracy in reporting these amounts will benefit both the taxpayer and the government and will avoid expensive enforcement action that might otherwise be necessary, Mr. Caplin added.

Y Plans Fun Day, Washington Trip

The Central YMCA will hold a fun day at noon tomorrow. Boy and girl members may bring a friend if they wish.

The program includes a movie matinee, a hot dog feed, and a full hour of swimming in the Y pool. Reservations may be made by calling the Y today.

A trip to Washington is scheduled for Saturday, for boys and girls of the Y who make reservations by phoning the Y by tomorrow. They should also turn in their money to the Y tomorrow. The group will leave by chartered bus at 8 a. m. Saturday, visit the National Airport, Smithsonian Institution and a Washington television station, and return to Cumberland by 8:30 p. m. Saturday.

Dick Will Serve As Convention Aide

Ronald Dick, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Milton Dick, Potomac Park, has been selected as one of the aides for the annual convention of the U.S. Historical Association which opens today in Washington, D. C.

The Dick youth is a history major in the graduate school of the University of Maryland and resides with his wife in Langley Park.

The three-day convention will attract leading history instructors from universities and colleges throughout the country.

Church To Hold Special Service

Fairview Avenue Methodist Church will hold a special New Year's eve service at 11 p. m. Sunday.

The service will include hymn singing and a meditation by the pastor, Rev. Frank G. Wanek, entitled, "Looking Back To Look Ahead."

Following the service, refreshments will be served.

Queen City Chorus To Meet Jan. 5

The Queen City Girls' Chorus will hold its next meeting Friday, January 5, at 8 p. m. in City Hall.

The chorus was organized several months ago by the City Recreation Department, and completed several singing engagements over the holidays.

Mrs. Shirley Tindal, president, said it is important that all members attend the meeting, as plans for financing the unit will be discussed. Plans for a rummage sale will also be discussed.

There will be no meeting this Friday, Mrs. Tindal said.

To Attend Meeting

Robert C. Petersen, manager of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, will attend a meeting of the directors of the Maryland Travel Council in Baltimore today.

Interest Must Be Reported On Tax Returns

Payers of dividends and interest again this year are being asked to remind recipients of such income that it must be reported on their federal income tax returns.

Internal Revenue Commissioner Mortimer Caplin has addressed letters to the New York and American stock exchanges and various other organizations representing payers of dividends and interest, requesting their cooperation, and that of their members, in the service's educational program to improve compliance.

Participation in this program by these groups in the past two years has resulted in many millions of notices as to dividend and interest taxability going to receivers, Mr. Caplin said. In addition, widespread publicity has been given through publications, both of the various associations, and those of individual institutions.

Although some omissions have been willful, and have required criminal prosecutions, Mr. Caplin said, experience during recent years indicates that much of the previous failure to report dividends and interest was the result of a misunderstanding of the law or an oversight caused by inadequate records. Consequently the service has asked the payers of the income to advise the recipients of the amount paid or credited, its taxable nature, and the necessity for full and complete reporting.

The commissioner urged that where possible, such recipients be given copies of the Information Notices (form 1099) payers are required to submit to the Internal Revenue Service reporting payments above stipulated minimum amounts.

The notice reminds recipients to be sure to report all income from all sources on income tax returns. It also states that some taxpayers, while reporting income from wages and other principal sources, tend to forget to report lesser amounts from sources such as interest on savings accounts and other interest and dividends, particularly when such amounts are credited to their accounts rather than received in cash. Accuracy in reporting these amounts will benefit both the taxpayer and the government and will avoid expensive enforcement action that might otherwise be necessary, Mr. Caplin added.

Y Plans Fun Day, Washington Trip

The Central YMCA will hold a fun day at noon tomorrow. Boy and girl members may bring a friend if they wish.

The program includes a movie matinee, a hot dog feed, and a full hour of swimming in the Y pool. Reservations may be made by calling the Y today.

A trip to Washington is scheduled for Saturday, for boys and girls of the Y who make reservations by phoning the Y by tomorrow. They should also turn in their money to the Y tomorrow. The group will leave by chartered bus at 8 a. m. Saturday, visit the National Airport, Smithsonian Institution and a Washington television station, and return to Cumberland by 8:30 p. m. Saturday.

Dick Will Serve As Convention Aide

Ronald Dick, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Milton Dick, Potomac Park, has been selected as one of the aides for the annual convention of the U.S. Historical Association which opens today in Washington, D. C.

The Dick youth is a history major in the graduate school of the University of Maryland and resides with his wife in Langley Park.

The three-day convention will attract leading history instructors from universities and colleges throughout the country.

Church To Hold Special Service

Fairview Avenue Methodist Church will hold a special New Year's eve service at 11 p. m. Sunday.

The service will include hymn singing and a meditation by the pastor, Rev. Frank G. Wanek, entitled, "Looking Back To Look Ahead."

Following the service, refreshments will be served.

Queen City Chorus To Meet Jan. 5

The Queen City Girls' Chorus will hold its next meeting Friday, January 5, at 8 p. m. in City Hall.

The chorus was organized several months ago by the City Recreation Department, and completed several singing engagements over the holidays.

Mrs. Shirley Tindal, president, said it is important that all members attend the meeting, as plans for financing the unit will be discussed. Plans for a rummage sale will also be discussed.

There will be no meeting this Friday, Mrs. Tindal said.

To Attend Meeting

Christmas Mail Load Here Is 4,500,000

Employes at the Cumberland Post Office's main branch were still cleaning up the aftermath of voluminous Christmas mailing yesterday.

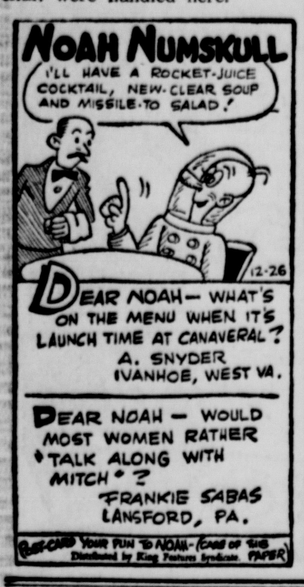

Postmaster Thomas F. Conlon said that during the 14-day pre-Christmas mailing period (December 9 to 22), nearly four and one-half million pieces of mail were handled here.

The estimated figure is 4,465,000, about a 2½ percent increase over the 1960 total volume of 4,355,000.

The slight increase was accounted for in the higher number of incoming pieces of mail handled, while the outgoing total decreased by 15,000 compared to the 1960 total.

The local office handled 2,342,000 pieces of incoming mail, as compared to last year's 2,217,000. Outgoing pieces this year numbered 2,123,000, slightly less than the 1960 count of 2,138,000.

Conlon said the busiest day here was Monday, December 18, a week before Christmas, when some 187,000 pieces of mail were handled.

To Install Officers

Officers of Bedford Road Fire Company and its Ladies Auxiliary will be installed Sunday, January 7, at a dinner meeting at the fire hall. Reservations for the affair, it was announced, must be made no later than today with Mrs. David Wilson, Bedford Road.

Until the end of the 17th century, poor people in England were buried without coffins, wrapped in cloth or even just covered with flowers.

Progress On Air Pollution

Some conception of the economic and human damage caused by air pollution has been provided by a joint research project of the Armour Research Foundation and the United States Public Health Service.

Laboratory mice which had been acclimated to severe smog conditions—similar to those of some large metropolitan areas—and then exposed to pneumonia bacteria had a mortality rate twice that of another group not first exposed to smog.

Deputy Director Richard A. Prindle of the air pollution division of the Public Health Service estimates air pollution causes more than $7 billion in damage to the nation's economy in crop losses each year.

In addition are the sizable losses from human respiratory ailments which keep workers off the job. Dr. Prindle reported research successes thus far have proved sufferers of asthma and other chronic respiratory conditions are adversely affected by smog conditions existing in many large cities.

Further research is to be engaged in in an effort to pinpoint specific pollutants which are harmful to humans. Once they are identified, it may be possible to adopt some measures of prevention to keep these most harmful particles from the air in the first place. If this is not feasible, at least protection can be afforded by identification of the specific smog villains.

Air pollution is destined to be a continuing problem, growing worse as populations increase. It once was little more than an occasional annoyance and the point of many a Los Angeles joke, but its harmful properties are now recognized.

Research in the direction of rendering smog harmless, if not eliminating it altogether, holds the hope that one major cause of future health problems will be eliminated.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Walker And The U.N.

In the current troubles which face the United Nations, none is more disturbing than the case of General Edwin A. Walker who has resigned from the American Army and blames the United Nations for his plight.

This comes at a time when Nehru has kicked the United Nations in parts unmentionable and left it lying bruised and weeping. General Walker, before the Nehru occurrence, said:

"Today, our relation and subordination to the United Nations puts every man signing the oath under a double standard. We are sworn to defend America but have to abide by UN decisions. Under these conditions, the oath becomes falsified and fictitious. I could no longer serve in uniform and be a collaborator with this release of our sovereignty to the UN."

This is entirely a new issue. It was assumed that the Pentagon sought to discipline General Walker because he had used permissible military indoctrination to advocate unpermissible domestic politics. On this issue men differed and Congress was to hold a hearing. But General Walker in this statement raises altogether different issues, for his accusation is that he, an American general with a notable record, was punished because the United Nations desired his punishment; that he could not reconcile his moral obligations to the United States with the demands of the United Nations.

In effect, the strongest view of this statement that can be taken is that the United Nations expects the American general to betray his own country. General Walker states this in his own words, thus:

"I was not able to continue in the military service with a General's command responsibility since I could make no compromise with the oath of office after censorship had prevented me from giving my troops the training that I was responsible for."

General Walker further said:

"There is a continuous program every night from Moscow, in English, directed at our troops in Europe. The voice is called 'Moscow Molly' by the troops. Her propaganda is immoral, unscrupulous, corrupt and destructive. My responsibilities for training included off-setting this, the Overseas Weekly, and other harmful images of our country and way of life."

Most of us know nothing about this. When the Nazi or the Japanese conducted anti-American propaganda by radio to our troops, we knew all about it and articles appeared in our newspapers telling the American people about it. But there has been silence about "Moscow Molly" just as there is silence about most things anti-American that the Russians do. For some reason, our government finds it necessary and wise to protect Soviet Russia despite its outrageous conduct. Why are we not informed about "Moscow Molly"? Why is our press silent on the subject? Why is not government propaganda aimed to silence her? Why don't we have an Ivan Ivanovich to tell the Russians how vulgar Khrushchev is and how he disgraces the Russian people in the eyes of the world?

Or if we are doing jobs of this nature, why are the American people not informed? Maybe the USIA is doing a wonderful service, but we would like to be let in on it. Why does one have to wait for an angry general to issue ancient news items from Dallas, Texas, which should have come to us from Washington, or Berlin or Moscow? Our reporters have become diplomats. It is time that employees of the American people ceased to protect the Russian intrigue against the United States.

It would seem that it is policy of our government and has been since Franklin D. Roosevelt recognized Soviet Russia to keep from our people the truth about Russia lest our anger grow so violent that it make peaceful negotiations impossible. The virtue of such a policy is obviously the desire to prevent war, to maintain peace, to wait for the inevitable day when negotiation must come. On the other hand, it has given to Soviet Russia the tremendous advantage of time and opportunity which the Kremlin has understood and not neglected. This has cost us dearly.

The historical question is how much more time are we going to give the Russians. And how long will the disappointment and the anger of the American people contain itself. Should it burst forth at an unexpected time and for unrelated reasons, the damage can be enormous. Nothing is sounder than the truth.

Ribicoff, First Kennedy Cabinet Appointee, May Be First To Leave

By Drew Pearson

(Editor's Note—Drew Pearson today hands the brass ring, good for one free ride on the Washington Merry-Go-Round, to Abraham Ribicoff, Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare.)

WASHINGTON — The first appointee to the Kennedy Cabinet may be the first to go. Abe Ribicoff, former Governor of Connecticut, and one of the early backers of John F. Kennedy for President, is reported itching to run for the Senate from Connecticut.

Why a cabinet officer should desert one of the highest appointive positions in the nation for the rough and tumble of the Senate, may puzzle some people, but the truth is that Ribicoff has not been entirely happy in the cabinet and the President, in turn, is not as close to him as he is to others.

There are several reasons for this. One is that Ribicoff is so efficient that he doesn't come around the White House much for advice. Another is that he has brought more finesse than fire to his job, has become a conservative spokesman for the Kennedy Administration's most liberal causes. This has dismayed the reformers who like their heroes to show more crusading spirit. But it has won the confidence of the conservatives who believe they can trust "Amiable Abe."

Even that implacable foe of welfare spending, Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia, has described Ribicoff as "one of the ablest appointments to the cabinet I have known in recent years."

It takes more than personal charm, of course, to mellow the crusty old guard. But Ribicoff's politics are as smooth as his manners; he knows instinctively whose back to slap and whose to scratch.

If a key Congressman needs a medical school or water pollution plant for his home district, Abe will try to get it for him.

Pork-Barrel Politics

No one grubs around in the pork barrel more than Sen. Bob Kerr, the Oklahoma oilman, who would like to transfer everything but the Washington Monument to his home state. Ribicoff is happily helping him grab any new projects that aren't already nailed down.

For he sees the bluff, blustery Kerr as the key to Senate approval of medical benefits for the elderly.

When Abe contemplates the battles ahead, he describes his vast federal domain as the "department of controversy." His critics refer to it as the "department of compromise."

Indeed, "Amiable Abe" belives in what he calls "the integrity of compromise." He forced voluntary economies upon his department, for example, in order to convince the conservatives that he was no reckless spender.

This may prevent them, as he sees it, from cutting his budget. But it has also trimmed the functions of such vital agencies as the Food and Drug Administration.

Example: Because of his economies, a backlog of nearly 1,000 untested chemical additives and preservatives are now on the market. In the past, some have been found to be poisonius.

Too Efficient

One reason Abe has drifted away from Kennedy is his care to keep out from under the President's feet. Once he is given an assignment, he doesn't come back for more consultation or bother the President about details until the job is done.

When Cuban relief was turned over to Ribicoff, the White House didn't hear a word from him until he walked in with a program worked out to the last detail. Even a proposed press release was written up, requiring only the President's approval.

At the 16 cabinet meetings and nine cabinet luncheons held this year, Ribicoff has held his tongue through the informal give-and-take. Usually he waits until the last to add his two cents' worth, then he confines his remarks only to subjects that concern him.

Ribicoff admires the Yankee ability to suppress emotion, likes to appear inscrutable. But behind his suave mask, friends say, he is as volatile as a Latin. Behind the closed doors of his sanctum, he is emotional, exciteable, voluble. But in public, he is always charming, assured, impeccable.

Friends say Abe would like to win the Senate seat that Sen. Prescott Bush snatched away from him in 1952, the only defeat in his political career. But they also say he is eying the Senate as a better route to the Supreme Court.

In the past, the attorney generalship has been considered a stepping stone to the Supreme Court, and Ribicoff was first in line for the job. But with his customary political savvy, he told President Kennedy: "I don't think Catholic President should have a Jewish attorney general forcing the integration of Negroes upon white Protestants."

Ribicoff thought he could be more "positive" as administrator of Health, Education, and Welfare. But he didn't anticipate the competition of his co-religionist, Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg, who has become closer to the President.

Little Table And Roast Pig Of Christmas Past

By Joseph Alsop

AVON, Conn.

Carols and coasting, joyful giving and grateful receiving, togetherness at dawn over the stocking and togetherness in the dusk around the lighted tree—these no doubt should be the most haunting images of Christmas past.

Yet honesty compels the coarse admission that the most vivid memory is of the little table. The table was where the children sat at the vast tribal gatherings which used to be organized by the tribe's chieftainess of forty-odd years ago.

For great occasions, the chieftainess wore a great deal of lace. At first glance, you might have taken her for a gilt-edged edition of Whistler's Mother. But she had a hawk nose, a decisive mouth, a brilliantly acid wit, and an iron will. She was in fact rather like one of the more successful Roman emperors disguised as Whistler's Mother. When she beckoned, the whole tribe obeyed.

This was the reason for the little table. The pre-adolescent contingent had to eat their Christmas dinner in isolation, because there was not an inch of room at the big table for so much as a single child. This was only proper in the opinion of the chieftainess, whose notions about Christmas had been formed in the tribal, still small-town New York of the 1880's.

From the same source of inspiration, the chieftainess drew other views about the right way to celebrate Christmas. For one thing, Christmas dinner, although it was really lunch, was always very late indeed. This was because Christmas dinners in New York in the 'Eighties had generally begun at three p. m., in memory of the older eating habits which Americans had started to abandon before the middle of the nineteenth century. Tribal ritual, like primitive religion, tends to be exceedingly conservative.

This is just as well, for the lateness of the meal produced ravenous appetites; and these were badly needed. It was sometimes pointed out that one item, boiled turkey with oyster dressing, had been scratched off the traditional list. But everything else was there—oyster stew, and roast turkey, and sucking-pig-with-an apple-in-its-mouth, and chestnuts, and sweet potatoes, and cranberry sauce, and brussels sprouts (a souvenir of the era when green vegetables were few and far between in wintertime). And plum pudding and mince pie and pumpkin pie and ice cream.

The tribe's senior males were required to carve the turkey and the little pig. The feast's high moment came when the remorseless knife was plunged into the pig's glistening, brown-golden skin. Sucking pig was the unique festive dish, unseen, uneaten, even quite unthought-of on every other day of the year, whereas turkeys were consumed at Thanksgiving and on other more ordinary occasions.

The rule was that on Christmas Day every child could eat as much as he or she pleased. Sucking pig, though delicious, is also greasily rich. A fair amount of sucking pig was usually combined with ample samplings of the other Christmas dishes. (Even the humble brussels sprout had to be tasted, "to have some green vegetable.") The results were always uncomfortable to plethora or worse. But year after fleeting year, the children eagerly returned to the little table, thinking only of the delights of gorging themselves silly, and never thinking of the often lurid, inevitable consequences.

All this is now recalled, alas, for a sadly negative reason. There was no sucking pig-with-an-apple-in-its-mouth for this year's Christmas present. Only once in the last three decades, a little after the war when tribal rituals were performed in Washington, has anyone so much as tried to have a pig for the feast.

On that occasion, American kitchens having been progressively shrinking, the pig was not home-cooked. Mingled thoughts of Charles Lamb's essay and little pigs eaten in Hong Kong caused application to be made to a Chinese restaurant. The restaurant owner, all smiling-comprehension, promised to find the pig, to roast it in his capacious oven, and to bring the dish to be warmed up just before the tribal assembly.

He was a little late. The next generation was just arriving when a small truck also arrived, and two Chinese briskly emerged. A wide-eyed juvenile audience watched with mounting horror while the two Chinese trotted up the front steps, bending under the heavy burden of a massive wooden stretcher. On the stretcher, spread-eagled like a casualty of some dreadful battlefield, lay an entire hundred-pound young porker. One of the most youthful members of the audience burst into tears, under the impression that he would soon be asked to experiment with cannibalism.

The lesson is clear. Attempts to row backward up the river of time always end either tragically or comically or both. The rule now is, no roast pig at Christmas, roast pig only in Hong Kong, or better still, in Paris. Progress has its iron laws, even more powerful than the iron will of the former chieftainess. These laws must be obeyed.

Yet one wonders. Forty years from now, will there still be a tribe, and will the tribe still annually forgather to celebrate the Christmases yet to come? If so, will some sentimental traditionalist try, at least once, to have a real turkey? Or will the people of the tribe just talk about the turkeys of Christmas past, while they simultaneously enjoy the tele-feelies and special Christmas tele-feely dinner of turkey flavored protein cutlet from the Los Angeles algae farms?

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

WIRED FOR SOUND — Averell Harriman, President Kennedy's newly-named Assistant Secretary of State for Far Eastern Affairs, apparently felt the urge for greater protection for himself, his family and their possessions in their Georgetown home. And, having the means, Harriman had a burglar alarm wiring system installed — but everywhere! It's on doors, windows and other likely places of access.

Harriman is finding that the system works just dandy, but local police are not quite so enthusiastic. They feel the system may be just a little too thorough.

The other night, for instance, a Harriman house guest raised his window at 3:30 a. m., tripping the automatic alarm system. Soon police and the burglar alarm people were at the Harriman home to investigate and if necessary repel the marauders.

They went away only to be summoned back by the same alarm the following night. This time, it seems, Harriman ot to thinking about the system and deciding to test it. It worked fine, bringing the people and the alarm people again.

The alarm people reset the system and left. But a member of the household noted ruefully that everyone had to get out in three minutes because after that time, the mere opening of an outside door, even from the inside, would trip the alarm again.

Harriman, and the police, are looking forward to the day when he and his household will get the hang of the workings of the system so that peace can be restored on a permanent basis to their section of Georgetown.

Survey Spoof

By John Crosby

"Harper's" last issue has a delicious little spoof purporting to be the results of a survey conducted by Benjamin Franklin on the question (among others): "Are you content with the present System of Government, that we be ruled from London?" (Or, should we have an American Revolution or shouldn't we?)

"To the first question, 1116 people did say they were satisfied with the present System and that we should not change; 993 were not satisfied and said we should; and 422 did ask What System? (These last included many Frontiersmen). 1,479 did say they had not thought on the matter." The survey concluded sadly that "Publick support for the proposed War" was so doubtful that the "Continental Congress should be disbanded and that plans for Independence be laid on the shelf."

Funny idea, isn't it? Or is it? I can't dispel the suspicion that, if Gallup had been around in 1776, he'd have conducted such a survey and got results not far from the above and the American Revolution would have been shelved. Of course, there's a school of thought that clings wistfully and certainly hopelessly to the conviction that the American Revolution was a ghastly mistake, that if we'd stayed in the Commonwealth, we'd have avoided the First World War, the Second World War, and much other unpleasantness. This is the If School of History in which I am a world authority and which I plan to teach at Phillips Exeter Academy in my old age. ("If Hannibal hadn't had those elephants?" "If Alexander didn't drink so much?" "If Carthage had won." "Look's" recent essay on "If Hitler Had Won" is the most distinguished recent example of If history and hereby wins the Crosby Prize for If Journalism for 1961. Let's get on with it, shall we?)

This leads me rather tortuously to President Kennedy's current rating, according to Dr. George Gallup, who says that 78 per cent of the American people approve of the way President Kennedy handled his job during the first ten months in office. That's a stupefying popularity rating and it could cause the New Frontier a lot of trouble.

That is quite a lot like the situation faced by "Camelot," the musical which had a $2 million advance sale and was reported in Toronto to be "in trouble." Commented Burgess Meredith at the time: "That's the kind of trouble I'd like to have."

A 78 per cent approval by the electorate is the kind of trouble the President thoroughly enjoys, but it is trouble nevertheless. As Kenneth Crawford points out in "Newsweek": "Mr. Kennedy himself has been deeply suspicious of President popularity, not only because it can vanish as magically as it develops but because it can be more indictment than tribute. Addressing the National Press Club in 1960, when he was merely an aspirant for the Democratic nomination, Sen. Kennedy pointed out that it had been strong Presidents like Lincoln who had been richest in enemies and weak Presidents like Coolidge who had been most popular. An effective President, he said, "must always be willing to serve (the people) at the risk of incurring their momentary displeasure.

Yet having said it, Kennedy for quite a while seemed singularly reluctant to incur any displeasure or to make enemies. There was nothing akin to President Roosevelt's scornful diatribes against "the malefactors of great wealth" or the Liberty Leaguers. Popularity is heady stuff, and Kennedy, being human, could hardly avoid enjoying the fact that his popularity is 18 per cent higher than Eisenhower's and 15 per cent higher than Truman's at the same period of their Administration.

Still, Kennedy, it's encouraging to note, hasn't drunk too deeply of the stuff. When the tough and unpopular decisions had to be made, he made 'em. He spoke out strongly against "the discordant voices of extremism," the John Birchers, and the rest of the Right Wing, when he could prudently have said nothing. The Administration stuck steadfastly to its policy of supporting the UN in the Congo, giving fits to our allies, to say nothing of huge sectors of the American public. It was Kennedy and U Thant against the world there, for a while. He unveiled his new trade policy with its sweeping tariff cuts to the National Association of Manufacturers who were least likely to stand up and cheer.

So, if he has not courted unpopularity, he has not courted popularity, either. Just the same, the President takes polls as a hypochondriac takes his pulse. It's a form of neurosis and it should be severely discouraged. The ancients took counsel from the flights of birds, sometimes the entrails of sheep. We read Gallup, who performs exactly the same function as the Delphic oracle and is not one whit more scientific. (If you don't believe that, ask Gov. Dewey.)

To ask a busy housewife what she thinks of Laos is certainly no more sensible a way to conduct the affairs of state than to ask a gypsy to consult her tea leaves. I was especially struck by a Gallup poll not long ago which asked: What ought to be done about Eichmann? 18 per cent had no opinion. Eichmann is a pretty tough fellow to avoid having an opinion on, but these people nevertheless succeeded in not feeling one way or the other about him. Then the following week, a man pushes the same doorbell and says: "You think Kennedy is doing a good job?" The man says: "Who? Kennedy? Well-uh-yeah. Yeah! He's doing a good job, I guess." And there you have the birth of a statistic.

On the whole, I think the entrails of sheep are much more reliable.

Use Of Penicillin Has Saved Millions Of Lives

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

E. C. writes: "Would you please explain how penicillin works in the body? My sister says it is not good for anyone and that anyone with common sense knows it is harmful to the body. I do not agree."

I'm glad you don't and neither did the Nobel committee when it awarded the prize to Fleming, its discoverer.

When penicillin enters the body, it is carried by the blood into all the tissues. The concentration is high enough to regulate or decrease the growth and development of many common organisms. When the proper dose is given, the germs die faster than they can multiply, and in time are eliminated completely. After the invaders are gone, the diseased tissues heal rapidly.

On the other hand, when too little of the antibiotic is administered at one time, or treatments are stopped too soon, the remaining organisms revive and the infection proceeds where it left off. In some instances the organisms will respond to a second round of penicillin but occasionally the offspring of these bugs acquire resistance to the antibiotic. The physician then must switch to another product or the individual must be content to let the infection follow its natural course.

Is penicillin good for anyone? Definitely yes, when used to cure infection caused by micro-organisms that are sensitive to this remedy. Prior to the discovery of penicillin, everyone with certain streptococcal infections of the blood died; 9 out of 10 victims of meningococcic meningitis failed to make the grade; and one out of three victims of pneumococcic pneumonia passed away. Nowadays, almost all patients with these infections live.

Formerly, a person with syphilis received weekly injections of bismuth or one of the arsenicals for three to five years. Currently, the disease usually is cured in a week. We could go on with examples but suffice it to say that millions of people are alive today, thanks to penicillin.

Some micro-organisms are not affected by penicillin, including most of the viruses such as the culprits that cause the common cold. Moreover, if the drug is used indiscriminately for minor ailments, the individual may develop such a marked allergy to the product, it cannot be used when needed most in a severe infection.

TAP WATER FOR CHILD

J. D. writes: I have a 1 year old son to whom I give tap water to drink. My mother says it should be boiled first. Please settle this argument between my mother and me.

REPLY

Your boy is old enough to drink tap water. At this age, he gets more germs from touching and tasting everything he comes in contact with.

HAIRPULLING

C. D. writes: Does pulling a child's hair damage the brain or any other part of the head?

REPLY

No, but it is not a nice thing to do. The hair that comes out may have a small knob at the end. This is not the root although many assume it is and tell of having the hair "pulled out by the roots."

CATARACT FROM CHEMICALS

M. M. P. writes: Can certain chemicals or medicines cause cataract?

REPLY

Dinitrophenol, a popular drug used many years ago for reducing, caused cataracts to form some months after use of the product. Napthalene may do the same.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

A Milwaukee judge, inspecting the state prison at Waupun, needed a shave, so took a chair in the prison barbershop. The barber lathered his face, then suddenly recognized him as he was stropping the razor. "Say, you're Judge So-and-So," he growled. "You sent me up here for twenty years!"

The judge, who never lost his presence of mind, jumped up from his chair and exclaimed, "By jove! What a coincidence-I'm up here to get a pardon for you!"

Two attractive girls sauntered down Broadway, with a lone sailor dogging their every footstep. Finally one of the girls wheeled round and announced angrily, "You there, Mr. Fresh! Either quit following us this way, or get another sailor!"

Progress On Air Pollution

Some conception of the economic and human damage caused by air pollution has been provided by a joint research project of the Armour Research Foundation and the United States Public Health Service.

Laboratory mice which had been acclimated to severe smog conditions—similar to those of some large metropolitan areas—and then exposed to pneumonia bacteria had a mortality rate twice that of another group not first exposed to smog.

Deputy Director Richard A. Prindle of the air pollution division of the Public Health Service estimates air pollution causes more than $7 billion in damage to the nation's economy in crop losses each year.

In addition are the sizable losses from human respiratory ailments which keep workers off the job. Dr. Prindle reported research successes thus far have proved sufferers of asthma and other chronic respiratory conditions are adversely affected by smog conditions existing in many large cities.

Further research is to be engaged in in an effort to pinpoint specific pollutants which are harmful to humans. Once they are identified, it may be possible to adopt some measures of prevention to keep these most harmful particles from the air in the first place. If this is not feasible, at least protection can be afforded by identification of the specific smog villains.

Air pollution is destined to be a continuing problem, growing worse as populations increase. It once was little more than an occasional annoyance and the point of many a Los Angeles joke, but its harmful properties are now recognized.

Research in the direction of rendering smog harmless, if not eliminating it altogether, holds the hope that one major cause of future health problems will be eliminated.

These Days

Walker And The U.N.

In the current troubles which face the United Nations, none is more disturbing than the case of General Edwin A. Walker who has resigned from the American Army and blames the United Nations for his plight.

This comes at a time when Nehru has kicked the United Nations in parts unmentionable and left it lying bruised and weeping. General Walker, before the Nehru occurrence, said:

"Today, our relation and subordination to the United Nations puts every man signing the oath under a double standard. We are sworn to defend America but have to abide by UN decisions. Under these conditions, the oath becomes falsified and fictitious. I could no longer serve in uniform and be a collaborator with this release of our sovereignty to the UN."

This is entirely a new issue. It was assumed that the Pentagon sought to discipline General Walker because he had used permissible military indoctrination to advocate unpermissible domestic politics. On this issue men differed and Congress was to hold a hearing. But General Walker in this statement raises altogether different issues, for his accusation is that he, an American general with a notable record, was punished because the United Nations desired his punishment; that he could not reconcile his moral obligations to the United States with the demands of the United Nations.

In effect, the strongest view of this statement that can be taken is that the United Nations expects the American general to betray his own country. General Walker states this in his own words, thus:

"I was not able to continue in the military service with a General's command responsibility since I could make no compromise with the oath of office after censorship had prevented me from giving my troops the training that I was responsible for."

General Walker further said:

"There is a continuous program every night from Moscow, in English, directed at our troops in Europe. The voice is called 'Moscow Molly' by the troops. Her propaganda is immoral, unscrupulous, corrupt and destructive. My responsibilities for training included off-setting this, the Overseas Weekly, and other harmful images of our country and way of life."

Most of us know nothing about this. When the Nazi or the Japanese conducted anti-American propaganda by radio to our troops, we knew all about it and articles appeared in our newspapers telling the American people about it. But there has been silence about "Moscow Molly" just as there is silence about most things anti-American that the Russians do. For some reason, our government finds it necessary and wise to protect Soviet Russia despite its outrageous conduct. Why are we not informed about "Moscow Molly"? Why is our press silent on the subject? Why is not government propaganda aimed to silence her? Why don't we have an Ivan Ivanovich to tell the Russians how vulgar Khrushchev is and how he disgraces the Russian people in the eyes of the world?

Or if we are doing jobs of this nature, why are the American people not informed? Maybe the USIA is doing a wonderful service, but we would like to be let in on it. Why does one have to wait for an angry general to issue ancient news items from Dallas, Texas, which should have come to us from Washington, or Berlin or Moscow? Our reporters have become diplomats. It is time that employees of the American people ceased to protect the Russian intrigue against the United States.

It would seem that it is policy of our government and has been since Franklin D. Roosevelt recognized Soviet Russia to keep from our people the truth about Russia lest our anger grow so violent that it make peaceful negotiations impossible. The virtue of such a policy is obviously the desire to prevent war, to maintain peace, to wait for the inevitable day when negotiation must come. On the other hand, it has given to Soviet Russia the tremendous advantage of time and opportunity which the Kremlin has understood and not neglected. This has cost us dearly.

The historical question is how much more time are we going to give the Russians. And how long will the disappointment and the anger of the American people contain itself. Should it burst forth at an unexpected time and for unrelated reasons, the damage can be enormous. Nothing is sounder than the truth.

Ribicoff, First Kennedy Cabinet Appointee, May Be First To Leave

By Drew Pearson

(Editor's Note—Drew Pearson today hands the brass ring, good for one free ride on the Washington Merry-Go-Round, to Abraham Ribicoff, Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare.)

WASHINGTON — The first appointee to the Kennedy Cabinet may be the first to go. Abe Ribicoff, former Governor of Connecticut, and one of the early backers of John F. Kennedy for President, is reported itching to run for the Senate from Connecticut.

Why a cabinet officer should desert one of the highest appointive positions in the nation for the rough and tumble of the Senate, may puzzle some people, but the truth is that Ribicoff has not been entirely happy in the cabinet and the President, in turn, is not as close to him as he is to others.

There are several reasons for this. One is that Ribicoff is so efficient that he doesn't come around the White House much for advice. Another is that he has brought more finesse than fire to his job, has become a conservative spokesman for the Kennedy Administration's most liberal causes. This has dismayed the reformers who like their heroes to show more crusading spirit. But it has won the confidence of the conservatives who believe they can trust "Amiable Abe."

Even that implacable foe of welfare spending, Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia, has described Ribicoff as "one of the ablest appointments to the cabinet I have known in recent years."

It takes more than personal charm, of course, to mellow the crusty old guard. But Ribicoff's politics are as smooth as his manners; he knows instinctively whose back to slap and whose to scratch.

If a key Congressman needs a medical school or water pollution plant for his home district, Abe will try to get it for him.

Pork-Barrel Politics

No one grubs around in the pork barrel more than Sen. Bob Kerr, the Oklahoma oilman, who would like to transfer everything but the Washington Monument to his home state. Ribicoff is happily helping him grab any new projects that aren't already nailed down.

For he sees the bluff, blustery Kerr as the key to Senate approval of medical benefits for the elderly.

When Abe contemplates the battles ahead, he describes his vast federal domain as the "department of controversy." His critics refer to it as the "department of compromise."

Indeed, "Amiable Abe" believes in what he calls "the integrity of compromise." He forced voluntary economies upon his department, for example, in order to convince the conservatives that he was no reckless spender.

This may prevent them, as he sees it, from cutting his budget. But it has also trimmed the functions of such vital agencies as the Food and Drug Administration.

Example: Because of his economies, a backlog of nearly 1,000 untested chemical additives and preservatives are now on the market. In the past, some have been found to be poisonius.

Too Efficient

One reason Abe has drifted away from Kennedy is his care to keep out from under the President's feet. Once he is given an assignment, he doesn't come back for more consultation or bother the President about details until the job is done.

When Cuban relief was turned over to Ribicoff, the White House didn't hear a word from him until he walked in with a program worked out to the last detail. Even a proposed press release was written up, requiring only the President's approval.

At the 16 cabinet meetings and nine cabinet luncheons held this year, Ribicoff has held his tongue through the informal give-and-take. Usually he waits until the last to add his two cents' worth, then he confines his remarks only to subjects that concern him.

Ribicoff admires the Yankee ability to suppress emotion, likes to appear inscrutable. But behind his suave mask, friends say, he is as volatile as a Latin. Behind the closed doors of his sanctum, he is emotional, exciteable, voluble. But in public, he is always charming, assured, impeccable.

Friends say Abe would like to win the Senate seat that Sen. Prescott Bush snatched away from him in 1952, the only defeat in his political career. But they also say he is eying the Senate as a better route to the Supreme Court.

In the past, the attorney generalship has been considered a stepping stone to the Supreme Court, and Ribicoff was first in line for the job. But with his customary political savvy, he told President Kennedy: "I don't think Catholic President should have a Jewish attorney general forcing the integration of Negroes upon white Protestants."

Ribicoff thought he could be more "positive" as administrator of Health, Education, and Welfare. But he didn't anticipate the competition of his co-religionist, Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg, who has become closer to the President.

Little Table And Roast Pig Of Christmas Past

By Joseph Alsop

AVON, Conn.

Carols and coasting, joyful giving and grateful receiving, togetherness at dawn over the stocking and togetherness in the dusk around the lighted tree—these no doubt should be the most haunting images of Christmas past.

Yet honesty compels the coarse admission that the most vivid memory is of the little table. The table was where the children sat at the vast tribal gatherings which used to be organized by the tribe's chieftainess of forty-odd years ago.

For great occasions, the chieftainess wore a great deal of lace. At first glance, you might have taken her for a gilt-edged edition of Whistler's Mother. But she had a hawk nose, a decisive mouth, a brilliantly acid wit, and an iron will. She was in fact rather like one of the more successful Roman emperors disguised as Whistler's Mother. When she beckoned, the whole tribe obeyed.

This was the reason for the little table. The pre-adolescent contingent had to eat their Christmas dinner in isolation, because there was not an inch of room at the big table for so much as a single child. This was only proper in the opinion of the chieftainess, whose notions about Christmas had been formed in the tribal, still small-town New York of the 1880's.

From the same source of inspiration, the chieftainess drew other views about the right way to celebrate Christmas. For one thing, Christmas dinner, although it was really lunch, was always very late indeed. This was because Christmas dinners in New York in the 'Eighties had generally begun at three p. m., in memory of the older eating habits which Americans had started to abandon before the middle of the nineteenth century. Tribal ritual, like primitive religion, tends to be exceedingly conservative.

This is just as well, for the lateness of the meal produced ravenous appetites; and these were badly needed. It was sometimes pointed out that one item, boiled turkey with oyster dressing, had been scratched off the traditional list. But everything else was there—oyster stew, and roast turkey, and sucking-pig-with-an apple-in-its-mouth, and chestnuts, and sweet potatoes, and cranberry sauce, and brussels sprouts (a souvenir of the era when green vegetables were few and far between in wintertime). And plum pudding and mince pie and pumpkin pie and ice cream.

The tribe's senior males were required to carve the turkey and the little pig. The feast's high moment came when the remorseless knife was plunged into the pig's glistening brown-golden skin. Sucking pig was the unique festive dish, unseen, uneaten, even quite unthought-of on every other day of the year, whereas turkeys were consumed at Thanksgiving and on other more ordinary occasions.

All this is now recalled, alas, for a sadly negative reason. There was no sucking pig-with-an-apple-in-its-mouth for this year's Christmas present. Only once in the last three decades, a little after the war when tribal rituals were performed in Washington, has anyone so much as tried to have a pig for the feast.

On that occasion, American kitchens having been progressively shrinking, the pig was not home-cooked. Mingled thoughts of Charles Lamb's essay and little pigs eaten in Hong Kong caused application to be made to a Chinese restaurant. This leads me rather tortuously to President Kennedy's current rating, according to Dr. George Gallup, who says that 78 per cent of the American people approve of the way President Kennedy handled his job during the first ten months in office. That's a stupefying popularity rating and it could cause the New Frontier a lot of trouble.

That is quite a lot like the situation faced by "Camelot," the musical which had a $2 million advance sale and was reported in Toronto to be "in trouble." Commented Burgess Meredith at the time: "That's the kind of trouble I'd like to have."

A 78 per cent approval by the electorate is the kind of trouble the President thoroughly enjoys, but it is trouble nevertheless. As Kenneth Crawford points out in "Newsweek": "Mr. Kennedy himself has been deeply suspicious of President popularity, not only because it can vanish as magically as it develops but because it can be more indictment than tribute. Addressing the National Press Club in 1960, when he was merely an aspirant for the Democratic nomination, Sen. Kennedy pointed out that it had been strong Presidents like Lincoln who had been richest in enemies and weak Presidents like Coolidge who had been most popular. An effective President, he said, "must always be willing to serve (the people) at the risk of incurring their momentary displeasure.

Yet having said it, Kennedy for quite a while seemed singularly reluctant to incur any displeasure or to make enemies. There was nothing akin to President Roosevelt's scornful diatribes against "the malefactors of great wealth" or the Liberty Leaguers. Popularity is heady stuff, and Kennedy, being human, could hardly avoid enjoying the fact that his popularity is 18 per cent higher than Eisenhower's and 15 per cent higher than Truman's at the same period of their Administration.

Still, Kennedy, it's encouraging to note, hasn't drunk too deeply of the stuff. When the tough and unpopular decisions had to be made, he made 'em. He spoke out strongly against "the discordant voices of extremism," the John Birchers, and the rest of the Right Wing, when he could prudently have said nothing. The Administration stuck steadfastly to its policy of supporting the UN in the Congo, giving fits to our allies, to say nothing of huge sectors of the American public. It was Kennedy and U Thant against the world there, for a while. He unveiled his new trade policy with its sweeping tariff cuts to the National Association of Manufacturers who were least likely to stand up and cheer.

So, if he has not courted unpopularity, he has not courted popularity, either. Just the same, the President takes polls as a hypochondriac takes his pulse. It's a form of neurosis and it should be severely discouraged. The ancients took counsel from the flights of birds, sometimes the entrails of sheep. We read Gallup, who performs exactly the same function as the Delphic oracle and is not one whit more scientific. (If you don't believe that, ask Gov. Dewey.)

To ask a busy housewife what she thinks of Laos is certainly no more sensible a way to conduct the affairs of state than to ask a gypsy to consult her tea leaves. I was especially struck by a Gallup poll not long ago which asked: What ought to be done about Eichmann? 18 per cent had no opinion. Eichmann is a pretty tough fellow to avoid having an opinion on, but these people nevertheless succeeded in not feeling one way or the other about him. Then the following week, a man pushes the same doorbell and says: "You think Kennedy is doing a good job?" The man says: "Who? Kennedy? Well-uh-yeah. Yeah! He's doing a good job, I guess." And there you have the birth of a statistic.

On the whole, I think the entrails of sheep are much more reliable.

Use Of Penicillin Has Saved Millions Of Lives

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

E. C. writes: "Would you please explain how penicillin works in the body? My sister says it is not good for anyone and that anyone with common sense knows it is harmful to the body. I do not agree."

I'm glad you don't and neither did the Nobel committee when it awarded the prize to Fleming, its discoverer.

When penicillin enters the body, it is carried by the blood into all the tissues. The concentration is high enough to regulate or decrease the growth and development of many common organisms. When the proper dose is given, the germs die faster than they can multiply, and in time are eliminated completely. After the invaders are gone, the diseased tissues heal rapidly.

On the other hand, when too little of the antibiotic is administered at one time, or treatments are stopped too soon, the remaining organisms revive and the infection proceeds where it left off. In some instances the organisms will respond to a second round of penicillin but occasionally the offspring of these bugs acquire resistance to the antibiotic. The physician then must switch to another product or the individual must be content to let the infection follow its natural course.

Is penicillin good for anyone? Definitely yes, when used to cure infection caused by micro-organisms that are sensitive to this remedy. Prior to the discovery of penicillin, everyone with certain streptococcal infections of the blood died; 9 out of 10 victims of meningococcic meningitis failed to make the grade; and one out of three victims of pneumococcic pneumonia passed away. Nowadays, almost all patients with these infections live.

Formerly, a person with syphilis received weekly injections of bismuth or one of the arsenicals for three to five years. Currently, the disease usually is cured in a week. We could go on with examples but suffice it to say that millions of people are alive today, thanks to penicillin.

Some micro-organisms are not affected by penicillin, including most of the viruses such as the culprits that cause the common cold. Moreover, if the drug is used indiscriminately for minor ailments, the individual may develop such a marked allergy to the product, it cannot be used when needed most in a severe infection.

TAP WATER FOR CHILD

J. D. writes: I have a 1 year old son to whom I give tap water to drink. My mother says it should be boiled first. Please settle this argument between my mother and me.

REPLY

Your boy is old enough to drink tap water. At this age, he gets more germs from touching and tasting everything he comes in contact with.

HAIRPULLING

C. D. writes: Does pulling a child's hair damage the brain or any other part of the head?

REPLY

No, but it is not a nice thing to do. The hair that comes out may have a small knob at the end. This is not the root although many assume it is and tell of having the hair "pulled out by the roots."

CATARACT FROM CHEMICALS

M. M. P. writes: Can certain chemicals or medicines cause cataract?

REPLY

Dinitrophenol, a popular drug used many years ago for reducing, caused cataracts to form some months after use of the product. Napthalene may do the same.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

A Milwaukee judge, inspecting the state prison at Waupun, needed a shave, so took a chair in the prison barbershop. The barber lathered his face, then suddenly recognized him as he was stropping the razor. "Say, you're Judge So-and-So," he growled. "You sent me up here for twenty years!"

The judge, who never lost his presence of mind, jumped up from his chair and exclaimed, "By jove! What a coincidence-I'm up here to get a pardon for you!"

Two attractive girls sauntered down Broadway, with a lone sailor dogging their every footstep. Finally one of the girls wheeled round and announced angrily, "You there, Mr. Fresh! Either quit following us this way, or get another sailor!"

Ernie Kovacs defines success as "being bored by the people who once snubbed you."

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, — Richard Greene, who has not been too active since he cashed in more than a million dollars on his "Robin Hood" TV series in England, is causing a bit of a mystery by taking up residence in a Dublin rest home.

The only information I could get is that Richard left strict orders that no one be allowed to contact him, and only his wife Beatrice is granted admittance. British-born Richard, an excellent actor, formerly was married to Patricia Medina, now Mrs. Joseph Cotten.

A little more than a year ago a man named Alan Weiss was a sound technician working on "West Side Story." At the start of this near year, he has just sold his third original story to Hal Wallis for Elvis Presley! Says the lucky Mr. Weiss, "I've always wanted to be a writer and never had the courage to break from a good salary to try my luck. But 'West Side' lasted so long it furnished me with a bankroll sufficient for me to take time off to try to sell some stories."

And sell them he did! He wrote the original "Blue Hawaii," also Elvis' next "Roustabout" and the new yarn just acquired by Wallis is "Jambalya."

From winner of the Academy Art direction Oscar to actor is what has happened to Henry Grace. He leaves Jan. 9 to play Eisenhower in "The Longest Day." Seems Darryl Zanuck was trying to find somebody who looked like the general, and someone sent him a picture of Henry for a gag.

Quicker than you can say Ike, Henry was offered the job. Much more exciting than winning an award for art direction of "Gigi". Henry doesn't even mind being kidded by his friends.

Sophia Loren writes me from Paris with her address and telephone number. She says that she and Carlo Ponti are well settled in Paris in a beautiful house and that her work is going very well in "The Third Dimension." She likes Tony Perkins so much, and says she has a wonderful part and likes Anatole Litvak's way of directing very much.

"The story," she says, "as you probably know, is a suspense story and this is a new experience for me. I'm very thrilled by the psychological element in this. If there's any chance of your passing by Paris, please come to see me."

I promise Sophia, but I doubt if I'll be going to sea for some time.

Hollywood is going to have its own Peppermint Lounge, and right in the heart of Hollywood itself. Marusia famed couturiere, is financing the new twist parlor. She's brought on one of the top musicians from the Wagon Wheel and several noted twisters from the Peppermint Lounge. She has the site, and Danny Scholl will be the manager.

The twist will be taught and Marusia feels this will be a place for the young people to go. There are so many mixed reactions to the twist, but the fact remains everybody's doing it, doing it, doing it—that is, practically everybody.

Kim Novak and the Robert Cummings came to know each other in a strange way. Both had to check into the Thunderbird International Hotel at the airport, and they spent the day before Christmas trying to board their respectice planes.

Kim was headed for Chicago and Bob and Mary (Mrs. C.) were taking themselves a Christmas Honolulu trip. They were being told that the fog and storms would clear any minute, so they waited for better weather right at the airport.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Willy Rizzo has an assignment to photograph Marilyn Monroe, and it will be interesting to see how he an' MM get along. Willy is on Match Magazine, and is Elsa Martinelli's best boyfriend.

Just at the time runaway productions are being discussed as bad for Hollywood, producer Henry Blanke brings the cheering news that he's going to film his entire biblical epic "Dear and Glorious Physician," based on Taylor Caldwell's novel, right here in Hollywood.

Perle Mesta arrives in town to attend the Waif Ball New Year's Eve. Jane Russell, who is the head of this worthy charity, tells me that they still have some tickets left for the ball, and people who are going to other New Year's parties could stop there first, since it starts at 8:30 p.m.

Top publicist Bill Doll, his attractive wife Karen, and their son, Jonathan, from New York, are spending the holidays in Los Angeles visiting with relatives while Bill also spreads the word about the important motion pictures he is handling.

Jean Negulesco, who has had his biggest success in picture making in Rome, has bought a house there where he and Dusty and their children will spend part of their time.

Olivia De Havilland has realtors looking for an apartment for her in New York. She arrives the first of January to start rehearsals for Garson Kanin's "Gift of Time." Later she will bring her daughter Giselle, here.

Tai and Harry Lachman, two well-known people in our town, have returned after two years in Paris. Harry has had a tremendous success as an artist and his pictures are being hung in the best French galleries.

A Christmas letter from Robert Wagner from London which sounds very happy, and not at all as depressed as he was when he and Natalie Wood first broke up. He talks of coming back to Hollywood and we hope he will.

A postcard from Dr. William Hitzig from Ethiopia, tells me that he is medical consultant for the new Haile Selassie University, under the leadership of an American. Dr. Hitzig says he had an audience with the emperior and found him fascinating.

The true idea of Santa Claus was 300 pound Mark Fabian, who, unannounced, walked into Paul Verlengia's Four Trees and delighted everyone by singing—and in a very good voice!

Opening lead: King of ♠

A desire to take all the tricks resulted in the loss of a slam contract today.

After West's one spade overcall, North wished to insist on a game contract so he made a cue bid. The three diamond rebid by South was a forced temporizing measure. North next showed the heart support and South, who had done little so far, leaped beyond game in hearts. Reassured about the texture of his partner's trump holding, North went on to slam.

West opened the king of spades which was ruffed in dummy and declarer had a moment of remorse over not having contracted for all the tricks. With this thought before him he played as tho he had bid a grand slam. He cashed the queen and king of trumps and, when East showed out, it was too late to retrieve the slam. Declarer could ruff one more spade, but that was all. If he abandoned trumps temporarily and tried to run the diamonds, West would ruff the second round, lead another spade and South would be unable to get out of the dummy without permitting West to score another trump trick.

We must confess that declarer's error was a rather human one. However, when large rewards are waiting to be reaped, extraordinary precautions would seem to be in order and a 4-1 trump break is by no means an oddity. Declarer should be willing to give up 30 points to increase the safety of the contract. The play that locks up the reward is to lead a low heart from dummy and put in the nine. When it loses, South is in position to draw trumps and run the diamonds.

Opening lead: King of ♠

A desire to take all the tricks resulted in the loss of a slam contract today.

After West's one spade overcall, North wished to insist on a game contract so he made a cue bid. The three diamond rebid by South was a forced temporizing measure. North next showed the heart support and South, who had done little so far, leaped beyond game in hearts. Reassured about the texture of his partner's trump holding, North went on to slam.

West opened the king of spades which was ruffed in dummy and declarer had a moment of remorse over not having contracted for all the tricks. With this thought before him he played as tho he had bid a grand slam. He cashed the queen and king of trumps and, when East showed out, it was too late to retrieve the slam. Declarer could ruff one more spade, but that was all. If he abandoned trumps temporarily and tried to run the diamonds, West would ruff the second round, lead another spade and South would be unable to get out of the dummy without permitting West to score another trump trick.

We must confess that declarer's error was a rather human one. However, when large rewards are waiting to be reaped, extraordinary precautions would seem to be in order and a 4-1 trump break is by no means an oddity. Declarer should be willing to give up 30 points to increase the safety of the contract. The play that locks up the reward is to lead a low heart from dummy and put in the nine. When it loses, South is in position to draw trumps and run the diamonds.

Milk Drinks

An afternoon of hard play in winter calls for a good sendoff. Serve the youngsters a tall glass of a favorite flavored milk beverage, with a few cookies, a sandwich, perhaps, or a fruit, before they go off for their energetic pastimes. They need the boost these nourshing foods will provide.

Actually, all members of the family may enjoy and benefit from a pleasing milk drink, either at snack times or with their meals. The important nutrients found in milk are also needed for good health and well-being by every other age level.

Use nonfat dry milk for your milk drinks. A wholesome dairy product made from fresh milk, the dry product contains all the fine values of milk — only the water and cream are removed. It has the calcium and other minerals, B vitamins, natural sugar, and high-quality protein that makes liquid skim milk such a good food.

Nonfat dry milk makes a good base for such beverages as cocoa, molasses milk, and spiced milk. All are tasty and tempting, as well as easy to prepare. You can combine the dry milk with other popular flavorings, too, with fruit syrups, chocolate syrup, malted mixtures, or even with soda and ice cream.

COCOA

For 1 serving: Cocoa, 2 teaspoons; Sugar, ½ tablespoon; Salt, Pinch; Water, ¼ cup; Water or Fluid milk, ½ cup; Dry milk, 3 tablespoons; Vanilla, Few drops.

For 6 servings: Cocoa, 4 tablespoons; sugar, 3 tablespoons; Salt, ⅛ teaspoon; Water, 1 cup; Water or Fluid milk, 3 cups; Dry milk, 1 cup; Vanilla, ½ teaspoon.

Combine cocoa, sugar, and salt. Stir in the smaller amount of water. Boil several minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and add water or fluid milk and dry milk. Beat until smooth. Heat thoroughly. Add vanilla.

MOLASSES MILK

For 1 serving: Dry milk ¼ cup; Salt, Pinch; Water, 1 cup; Molasses, 1 tablespoon. For 6 servings: Dry milk, 1½ cups; Salt, ¼ teaspoon; Water, 6 cups; Molasses, ½ cup.

Mix dry milk and salt; mix water with molasses. Add dry ingredients to liquid and beat, stir, or shake until smooth.

Week's Food Economies

New Year's Day marks the end of a happy holiday season. If you plan to entertain guests or serve a family dinner plan and shop for seasonal and economy foods says, Virginia McLuckie, food economist at the Baltimore office of the University of Maryland Department of Markets.

New Year's entertaining need not be elaborate. Many usual foods may be made attractive by the way they are arranged and served. Some folks have special foods they eat on New Year's as a tradition.

Pork is a favored meat. The choice may be cured ham. Fresh pork roasted golden brown makes festive table fare. Increase pork supplies, from this years spring pig crop, are making heavier seasonal offerings.

Beef roasts are often times selected as the meat for New years dinner. The roast may be any cut from a standing rib roast to a pot roast. For tender beef look for meat with lean well marbled with fat, a good red color and an even outter coating of creamy white fat and red porous bone. Garnish the meat platter attractively with vegetables or fruits to add a festive note.

The vegetables you serve will be those that go well with your choice of meat. The best buys include white and sweet potatoes, cabbage, cauliflower, carrots, onions and celery. Tomatoes for slicing, in salads and for garnishes, are moderately priced.

The fruit counter best buys are apples, and citrus fruit. Small size juicé oranges are the best orange value. Tangerines are in seasonally heavy supply. Cranberries are low in cost.

If you are planning a party with a large crowd, beware of fancy little canapes and sandwiches that consume so much time in preparation. Choose the easy way out with dips and dunks. Fill a big tray with an assortment of crackers, chips and raw sliced vegetables to use as dippers. Dips are easy to replenish, pretty and delicious. A dip must have dipping consistincy, not dripping, but it should not be so stiff that crackers break off in the bowl.

SPICED MILK

For 1 serving: Dry milk, ½ cup; Cinnamon, ⅛ teaspoon; Nutmeg, ⅛ teaspoon; Sugar, ½ teaspoon; Salt, Pinch; Water, 1 cup. Dry milk, 1½ cups; Cinnamon, ½ teaspoon; Nutmeg, ½ teaspoon; Sugar, 1 tablespoon; Salt, ¼ teaspoon; Water, 6 cups.

Add dry ingredients to water and beat, stir, or shake until smooth.

Skillet-Fried Chicken Virginia Style

Here's the secret of cooking chicken so that the outside remains crunchy-crisp and the meat inside is tender and moist, according to the chef of the John Marshall Hotel in Richmond, Virginia. First shake the chicken in a bag containing ½ cup flour, 1 to 1½ teaspoons salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper. Then fry the coated chicken in hot fat, with the fat ½ inch deep. Never cover the skillet! Keep heat moderate, turn chicken to brown evenly on all sides. Chicken so fried is a specialty of the house at this famed Virginia hostelry.

BACON AND WATER CHESTNUT STUFFING: Mix herb-seasoned stuffing according to package directions. Add ½ cup cooked, crumbled bacon and 1 cup sliced, canned water chestnuts.

Mediterranean Rice Salad

Prepare 1⅓ cups packaged precooked rice according to directions; while rice is warm, add ¼ cup Spanish olive oil, 2 tablespoons vinegar, a pinch of dried tarragon, ¼ cup minced celery, 1 pimiento or sweet red pepper, chopped, and salt and pepper to taste. Toss lightly. Serve cold for lunch with sliced turkey or chicken.

Scallions a la Catalan

Trim 2 bunches scallions, cutting off most of green tops. Cut 2 stalks celery into long thin diagonal slices. Simmer scallions and celery, covered, in ¼ cup Spanish olive oil until tender, about 8 minutes. Add ¼ teaspoon salt, dash of pepper, 1 teaspoon lemon juice and the grated rind of ½ lemon. Serve warm or cold. This is sometimes called "poor man's asparagus."

Hearty 'Meal-In-A-Bowl' Meat Ball Soup Is Ideal

Nippy winter weather sends footballs wizzing through the air and spectator appetites zooming. The homemaker who wants to attend the game and return with the gang for a nourishing hot meal that's ready to eat within minutes can now turn her talents to an unusual Meat Ball Soup.

Based on the eternal truth that chilly spectators want something bracing,hot and easy to eat, the soup is a meal-in-a-bowl dish that can be eaten with a spoon.

Best made a day ahead or early in the day of the game, meat ball soup improves in flavor with the reheating.

MEAT BALL SOUP

1 package Pre-Sliced Frying Potatoes
2 cups diced celery
3 carrots, sliced (2 cups)
2 medium onions
2 (10-1/2-ounce) beef bouillion
4 cups tomato juice
4 cups water
1/4 cup rice
1 Bay Leaf
1 teaspoon sugar
2 pounds ground lean beef
3 tablespoons flour
1 tablespoon salt
1 tablespoon Instant Minced Onion
1 tablespoon Prepared Mustard
2 eggs
1/2 teaspoon Marjoram
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
Salt and Black Pepper to taste

Empty potatoes and contents of seasoning packet into a 6-quart or larger stew kettle. Add celery, carrots, onions cut into eights, beef bouillion, tomato juice, water, rice, bay leaf and sugar. Place over moderate heat; bring to a boil.

Meanwhile blend together the ground beef, flour, salt, minced onion and mustard. Add the eggs; mix thoroughly. Form into balls about the size of walnuts (36 to 40 balls).

When vegetables come to a boil drop meet balls into boiling vegetables. Cover; reduce heat. Cook 30 minutes or until vegetables and meat are tender. Add marjoram, butter and salt and pepper to taste. Add 1 cup of water or tomato juice for right liquid consistency if needed. Makes 4 quarts.

WIFE PRESERVERS

Always store eggs in the refrigerator promptly in a covered container. Left uncovered. they lose moisture through the porous shells.

At Simmering

Meat should never be boiled, only simmered. To simmer is to cook in liquid just below the boiling point, at temperatures of 185° F. to 210° F. (At this temperature bubbles form slowly and collapse below the surface.)

Holiday Treats— Quick 'N Delicious

A box of mix . . . PLUS . . . that's all it takes for some of the tastiest Holiday Treats you've ever baked. Here they are—

Banana-Nut Squares

1 package burnt sugar cake mix
2 eggs, separated water
1 cup mashed bananas (2 med. size)
¾ cup chopped nuts
Butterscotch sauce
1 cup sweetened whipped cream

To entire packet of burnt sugar syrup, inside box of cake mix, add enough water to make one cup liquid. Add liquid, egg yokes, mashed bananas and nuts, to dry cake mix. Mix as directed on package. Beat egg whites to soft peaks. Fold into batter. Pour batter into greased and floured 9-x-13-x-2 inch baking pan. Bake in preheated 350 degree oven for 35-40 minutes, or until cake tests done. Cool 10-minutes in pan. Turn out on cake rack. Serve miniature squares. Garnish with ribbon of Butterscotch sauce and whipped cream. Serves 16.

Butterscotch Sauce

⅔ cup light brown sugar, 2 tablespoons water, 1 teaspoon butter. Mix all ingredients in saucepan over low heat. Stir only until sugar dissolves and ingredients are blended. Keep warm over hot water.

Cider Spice Cake

1 package deluxe spice cake mix
2 eggs
1 cup plus 2 tablespoons cider
2 tablespoons grated orange rind

Prepare one package deluxe cider spice cake mix according to package directions, substituting cider for water and adding two tablespoons grated orange rind. Pour into 9x13x2 inch baking pan. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven for 35-40 minutes, or until cake tests done. Cool in pan 10-minutes. Turn out. Frost with Orange Glaze. Serves 12.

Orange Glaze

2 tablespoons orange juice, 1 tablespoon grated orange rind, 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar. Blend ingredients . . . pour over cake.

Burnt Sugar Puffs

Prepare package burnt sugar cake mix according to package directions. Pour batter into greased and floured cup cake pans (approximately 18 cup cakes) and bake in pre-heated 350-degree oven for 25-30 minutes, or until cakes test done. Cool in pans ten minutes. Turn out.

When cool, cut generous circlet from center of each cup cake. Fill with warm, prepared mincemeat. Top with cake circlet, cut in half. Fill and garnish with Fluffy Hard Sauce. Serves 18.

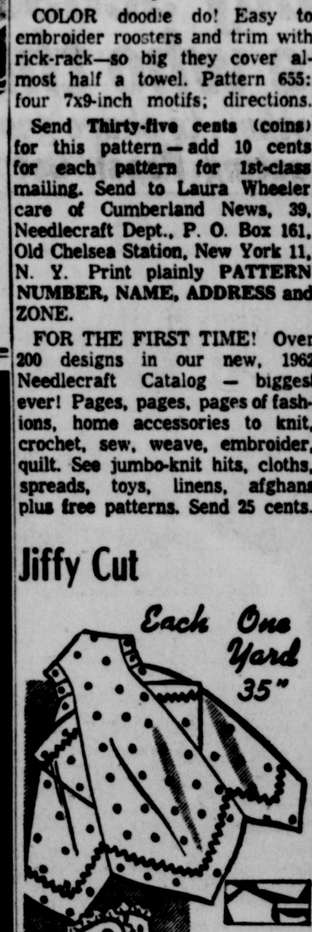

Sauce For Fish

In Europe, a favorite sauce for baked or broiled fish consists of 2 parts Spanish olive oil, 1 part lemon juice and salt and pepper to taste. Add a sprinkling of finely-minced fresh parsley, if desired.

Potatoes In Spanish Sauce

Peel three large potatoes, cut in slices ¼-inch thick. Saute in 3 tablespoons Spanish olive oil until lightly browned, add ¼ cup general purpose barbecue sauce, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ bay leaf, crushed, and 6 chopped pitted black olives. Add water just to cover potatoes. Cover tightly, cook over low heat until potatoes are tender, turning once or twice to avoid sticking.

Hearty 'Meal-In-A-Bowl' Meat Ball Soup Is Ideal

Nippy winter weather sends footballs wizzing through the air and spectator appetites zooming. The homemaker who wants to attend the game and return with the gang for a nourishing hot meal that's ready to eat within minutes can now turn her talents to an unusual Meat Ball Soup.

Based on the eternal truth that chilly spectators want something bracing,hot and easy to eat, the soup is a meal-in-a-bowl dish that can be eaten with a spoon.

Best made a day ahead or early in the day of the game, meat ball soup improves in flavor with the reheating.

MEAT BALL SOUP

1 package Pre-Sliced Frying Potatoes
2 cups diced celery
3 carrots, sliced (2 cups)
2 medium onions
2 (10-1/2-ounce) beef bouillion
4 cups tomato juice
4 cups water
1/4 cup rice
1 Bay Leaf
1 teaspoon sugar
2 pounds ground lean beef
3 tablespoons flour
1 tablespoon salt
1 tablespoon Instant Minced Onion
1 tablespoon Prepared Mustard
2 eggs
1/2 teaspoon Marjoram
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
Salt and Black Pepper to taste

Empty potatoes and contents of seasoning packet into a 6-quart or larger stew kettle. Add celery, carrots, onions cut into eights, beef bouillion, tomato juice, water, rice, bay leaf and sugar. Place over moderate heat; bring to a boil.

Meanwhile blend together the ground beef, flour, salt, minced onion and mustard. Add the eggs; mix thoroughly. Form into balls about the size of walnuts (36 to 40 balls).

A Fine Match

Pork, kraut and apples are virtually a matchless combination, when it comes to hearty meals to fit a cold day. Succulent and flavorful as pork is, it's even more so with kraut and apples. They're a truly "natural" team, guaranteeing success for your culinary efforts.

While pork is popular the year 'round — average use this year will likely come to about 64 pounds per person — it unmistakably comes into its own with the first hints of cool weather. Appetites are stimulated now, and satisfying, nourishing meals must be the order of the day.

Your family may well enjoy bacon or sausages these days as a breakfast feature. Even the more substantial pork chops are often called for in this first meal of the day. Serve apple sauce or sauteed apple slices right along with these pork items to help enhance their savory flavor.

Luncheon or dinner pork chops team up well with both sauerkraut and a variety of apple dishes. Roast pork loin, broiled ham slices, and ham hocks are equally appropriate as teammates with the tangy kraut and fresh tasting apple preparations.

Pork and apple or pork and vegetable salads may be either meal-in-one dishes or pleasant side dishes. And casserole dishes with this nutritious, thiamine-rich meat make exceptionally attractive entrees. Be sure to have a bowlful of kraut on the table and some glazed apples, as well, to complete the meal. Or serve a great slice of apple pie as a most fitting dessert.

Try this Pork Chops with Sauerkraut casserole for a family dinner.

Brown pork chops, season with salt and pepper. Spread a layer of sauerkraut in a large casserole, add finely chopped or minced clove or garlic. Arrange the browned chops over the sauerkraut and cover chops with grated raw apple. Then another thin layer of sauerkraut and grated raw potatoes as the final topping. Bake in a moderate oven one hour.

Cranberry Ham Balls are also a good choice for a regular family meal. Combine ground cooked ham with bread crumbs, eggs and enough milk to give it a meat loaf consistency. Season with a suggestion of allspice and black pepper. Shape the mixture into balls and brown slowly in just enough melted fat to keep the meat from sticking. When the ham balls are uniformly browned, cover with cranberry sauce made by heating a 1 pound can of jellied cranberry sauce with 1 tablespoon vinegar. Cover the pan tightly and simmer slowly about 20 minutes. Serve piping hot. This tasty dish is especially good served with glazed apples and a side dish of kraut.

Family preferences are known to vary when it comes to Pork Hocks and Sauerkraut. Some simmer the kraut and hocks together with a split garlic clove for seasoning. Others like to cook the hock to tenderness leisurely before adding the kraut, and then serve it steaming hot with a generous sprinkling of freshly grated black pepper. Boiled whole potatoes, a generous helping of sauerkraut, some zesty mustard, and you have a fine dish. Top it off with a delectable baked apple desert and it's a meal fit for a king.

Apple Sauce Bavarian Pie

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
2 cups canned apple sauce
1 (15 ounces) can sweetened condensed milk
⅓ cup lemon juice
¼ cup orange juice
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
2 egg yolks
1 package chocolate wafers (2¼" diameter)
½ cup heavy cream

Soften gelatin in water. Heat apple sauce; add gelatin. Stir until dissolved. Cool. Combine condensed milk, lemon juice, orange juice, orange rind and egg yolk; stir until mixture thickens. Add apple sauce; mix well. Line bottom and sides of 9" pie plate with chocolate wafers, standing wafers around edge. Cover with ½ apple sauce mixture. Add layer of cookies, cover with remaining apple sauce mixture. Place an overlapping circle of cookies on top. Chill. Just before serving whip cream stiff, use as garnish. Makes 8 servings.

Variation: Line a pie plate with a graham cracker crumb crust and use apple sauce Bavarian as the filling.

Fruited Jellied Squares

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
4 cups apple juice
½ cup sugar
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
1 cup orange sections
1 cup grapefruit sections
1 cup pineapple tidbits
1 cup halved seedless grapes
Whipped cream

Soften gelatin in ½ cup apple juice for 5 minutes. Heat remaining 3½ cups apple juice. Add sugar and gelatin, stir until dissolved. Cool until syrupy; stir in orange rind, orange sections, grapefruit sections, pineapple tidbits and grapes. Pour into 9"x9"x2" pan which has been rinsed in cold water. Chill until set. Remove from pan; cut in 9 pieces. Garnish each with whipped cream. Makes 9 servings.

Variations: Mold in large pie pan and cut in wedges; mold in custard cups and turn out on lettuce for a salad (omit whipped cream).

THE LITTLE WOMAN

"Put it in the garage. Maybe he won't notice anything wrong."

"Try opening the door and yelling 'Fire sale'!"

Broiled Scallops With Wine Sauce

1½ pounds scallops, fresh or frozen
2 tablespoons sliced green onion
¼ cup sherry
2 tablespoons chopped celery
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
¼ cup salad oil, butter or other fat, melted
1 cup scallop liquid and water
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 tablespoon cold water
Toast points

Thaw frozen scallops. Remove any shell particles and wash. Cut large scallops in half. Combine onion, sherry, parsley, Worcestershire sauce, salt, and pepper. Marinate scallops in sauce for 30 minutes. Drain; reserving sauce. Place a single layer of scallops on a greased broiler pan. Brush with fat. Broil about 3 inches from source of heat for 3 to 4 minutes. Turn carefully. Baste other side with remaining sauce and fat and broil 3 to 4 minutes longer. Remove scallops to a warm platter. Remove liquid from broiler pan. Combine cornstarch and water to make a thin paste. Add gradually to hot scallop liquid and cook until thick, stirring constantly. Serve over scallops. Garnish with toast points. Serves 6.

Cinnamon-Cocoa Frosting

½ cup butter or margarine
3½ cups sifted confectioners' sugar
6 tablespoons cocoa
¼ teaspoon Cinnamon
1 teaspoon Vanilla Extract
⅛ teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons hot milk

Cream butter with ½ cup of the confectioners' sugar. Blend in cocoa; beat smooth. Add cinnamon, vanilla, and salt. Add remaining sugar and hot milk. Beat until smooth, and of good spreading consistency. Frost top and sides of Party Spice Cake.

Food Shopping Guide

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Produce counters will provide many tempting buys for food shoppers this weekend.

Now here's a closer look at foods in plentiful supply in this area:

Fresh hams will dominate meat counters this week for the New Year's holiday. Ribs of beef, lamb legs, and pork loins will be widely featured.

Dairy products will be at popular prices.

The top buys at vegetable counters this weekend will be broccoli, domestic round type cabbage, carrots in one-pound film bags, eggplant, green onions, potatoes, spinach, and tomatoes.

Good buys will be California anise, green beans, beets, broccoli rabe, red and savory type cabbage, bunched carrots, celery, corn, cucumbers, peppers, radishes, squash, iceberg and romaine lettuce, orange Jersey sweet potatoes, Okra, medium yellow onions, and leafy greens.

Best buys at fruit sections will be apples, avocados, cranberries, and limes. Also at favorable prices will be coconuts and grapefruit.

Fish counters this weekend will feature plentiful supplies of fillets, oysters, lobsters, clams, and halibut.

Beef Stroganoff

2 pounds boneless beef
¼ cup butter
1 cup chopped onion
1 clove garlic, minced
1 8-ounce can tomato sauce
½ cup hot water
Salt, pepper and seasoning salt to taste
1 cup fresh sliced mushrooms, or 2½ to 4-ounce can mushrooms
1 cup dairy sour cream

Cut meat into ¼ inch strips; brown in butter. Add onion and garlic and saute until onion is slightly transparent. Add tomato sauce, water, salt, pepper, and seasoning salt to taste. Simmer 45 minutes; add mushrooms and cook 15 minutes longer or until meat is tender. Add water if needed during cooking. Liquid should be reduced slightly when meat is tender. Remove from heat. Stir in sour cream; cook 10 minutes over very low heat. Serve over rice or buttered noodles. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Chicken Elegante

2 2½ to 3-pound frying chickens, or
2 pounds sliced veal
⅓ cup flour
2½ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¾ teaspoon thyme
⅓ cup butter
1 cup sliced fresh mushrooms
1 cup dairy sour cream
1 tablespoon chives

Use the drumsticks, thighs and breast of chickens (cut in 2 pieces). Combine flour and seasonings. Dredge chicken or veal in seasoned flour. Brown meat in melted butter. Cover; reduce heat; cook slowly until tender, 30 to 40 minutes. Remove meat from pan. Add mushrooms; saute until tender, 2 to 3 minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in sour cream and chives; heat gently (do not allow to boil). Pour into hot serving dish and set meat on top. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Sour Cream Dips

1 cup dairy sour cream
1 to 2 teaspoons grated onion
2 teaspoons lemon juice
Salt and pepper to taste

Combine all ingredients. Serve plain with potato chips, cocktail crackers, raw vegetables.

Variations: To basic dip, add for:

Blue Cheese Sour Cream Dip—¼ cup crumbled Blue cheese.

Cheddar-Sour Cream Dip—1 cup shredded sharp cheddar cheese and cayenne pepper to taste.

Bean, Bacon And Apple Casserole

Soak overnight in cold water to cover: 2 cups dry Michigan navy beans. Bring to boil in same water and add: 1½ teaspoons salt — ⅛ teaspoon ginger. Simmer until skin of bean will split when you blow on it. Drain, reserving cooking water. Place half of beans in 8 x 11-inch baking dish. Arrange in rows over beans: 3 cups sliced tart apples (use more if you want to be lavish). Sprinkle with: ⅓ cup brown sugar. Place remaining beans in thin layer over apple slices. Sprinkle with: ⅓ cup brown sugar. Arrange on top of sugar-sprinkled beans: 8 slices lean Canadian bacon.

Cover tightly and bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 1 hour. Remove cover add enough reheated cooking water or boiling water to just barely cover beans. Return to oven and continue to bake until beans are tender and lightly browned. Serve hot.

Makes about 6 servings.

Apples cut in cubes are an excellent addition to your own favorite baked bean recipe. Mix with the beans for interesting texture and flavor about an hour before beans have finished baking.

Don't Remove Fell

Do not remove the "fell," that paperlike covering, from leg of lamb. The leg roasts in less time, holds its shape better and is jucier when the fell is left on.

A Fine Match

Pork, kraut and apples are virtually a matchless combination, when it comes to hearty meals to fit a cold day. Succulent and flavorful as pork is, it's even more so with kraut and apples. They're a truly "natural" team, guaranteeing success for your culinary efforts.

While pork is popular the year 'round — average use this year will likely come to about 64 pounds per person — it unmistakably comes into its own with the first hints of cool weather. Appetites are stimulated now, and satisfying, nourishing meals must be the order of the day.

Your family may well enjoy bacon or sausages these days as a breakfast feature. Even the more substantial pork chops are often called for in this first meal of the day. Serve apple sauce or sauteed apple slices right along with these pork items to help enhance their savory flavor.

Luncheon or dinner pork chops team up well with both sauerkraut and a variety of apple dishes. Roast pork loin, broiled ham slices, and ham hocks are equally appropriate as teammates with the tangy kraut and fresh tasting apple preparations.

Pork and apple or pork and vegetable salads may be either meal-in-one dishes or pleasant side dishes. And casserole dishes with this nutritious, thiamine-rich meat make exceptionally attractive entrees. Be sure to have a bowlful of kraut on the table and some glazed apples, as well, to complete the meal. Or serve a great slice of apple pie as a most fitting dessert.

Try this Pork Chops with Sauerkraut casserole for a family dinner.

Brown pork chops, season with salt and pepper. Spread a layer of sauerkraut in a large casserole, add finely chopped or minced clove or garlic. Arrange the browned chops over the sauerkraut and cover chops with grated raw apple. Then another thin layer of sauerkraut and grated raw potatoes as the final topping. Bake in a moderate oven one hour.

Cranberry Ham Balls are also a good choice for a regular family meal. Combine ground cooked ham with bread crumbs, eggs and enough milk to give it a meat loaf consistency. Season with a suggestion of allspice and black pepper. Shape the mixture into balls and brown slowly in just enough melted fat to keep the meat from sticking. When the ham balls are uniformly browned, cover with cranberry sauce made by heating a 1 pound can of jellied cranberry sauce with 1 tablespoon vinegar. Cover the pan tightly and simmer slowly about 20 minutes. Serve piping hot. This tasty dish is especially good served with glazed apples and a side dish of kraut.

Family preferences are known to vary when it comes to Pork Hocks and Sauerkraut. Some simmer the kraut and hocks together with a split garlic clove for seasoning. Others like to cook the hock to tenderness leisurely before adding the kraut, and then serve it steaming hot with a generous sprinkling of freshly grated black pepper. Boiled whole potatoes, a generous helping of sauerkraut, some zesty mustard, and you have a fine dish. Top it off with a delectable baked apple desert and it's a meal fit for a king.

Apple Sauce Bavarian Pie

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
2 cups canned apple sauce
1 (15 ounces) can sweetened condensed milk
⅓ cup lemon juice
¼ cup orange juice
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
2 egg yolks
1 package chocolate wafers (2¼" diameter)
½ cup heavy cream

Soften gelatin in water. Heat apple sauce; add gelatin. Stir until dissolved. Cool. Combine condensed milk, lemon juice, orange juice, orange rind and egg yolk; stir until mixture thickens. Add apple sauce; mix well. Line bottom and sides of 9" pie plate with chocolate wafers, standing wafers around edge. Cover with ½ apple sauce mixture. Add layer of cookies, cover with remaining apple sauce mixture. Place an overlapping circle of cookies on top. Chill. Just before serving whip cream stiff, use as garnish. Makes 8 servings.

Variation: Line a pie plate with a graham cracker crumb crust and use apple sauce Bavarian as the filling.

Fruited Jellied Squares

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
4 cups apple juice
½ cup sugar
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
1 cup orange sections
1 cup grapefruit sections
1 cup pineapple tidbits
1 cup halved seedless grapes
Whipped cream

Soften gelatin in ½ cup apple juice for 5 minutes. Heat remaining 3½ cups apple juice. Add sugar and gelatin, stir until dissolved. Cool until syrupy; stir in orange rind, orange sections, grapefruit sections, pineapple tidbits and grapes. Pour into 9"x9"x2" pan which has been rinsed in cold water. Chill until set. Remove from pan; cut in 9 pieces. Garnish each with whipped cream. Makes 9 servings.

Variations: Mold in large pie pan and cut in wedges; mold in custard cups and turn out on lettuce for a salad (omit whipped cream).

THE LITTLE WOMAN

"Put it in the garage. Maybe he won't notice anything wrong."

"Try opening the door and yelling 'Fire sale'!"

Broiled Scallops With Wine Sauce

1½ pounds scallops, fresh or frozen
2 tablespoons sliced green onion
¼ cup sherry
2 tablespoons chopped celery
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
¼ cup salad oil, butter or other fat, melted
1 cup scallop liquid and water
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 tablespoon cold water
Toast points

Thaw frozen scallops. Remove any shell particles and wash. Cut large scallops in half. Combine onion, sherry, parsley, Worcestershire sauce, salt, and pepper. Marinate scallops in sauce for 30 minutes. Drain; reserving sauce. Place a single layer of scallops on a greased broiler pan. Brush with fat. Broil about 3 inches from source of heat for 3 to 4 minutes. Turn carefully. Baste other side with remaining sauce and fat and broil 3 to 4 minutes longer. Remove scallops to a warm platter. Remove liquid from broiler pan. Combine cornstarch and water to make a thin paste. Add gradually to hot scallop liquid and cook until thick, stirring constantly. Serve over scallops. Garnish with toast points. Serves 6.

Cinnamon-Cocoa Frosting

½ cup butter or margarine
3½ cups sifted confectioners' sugar
6 tablespoons cocoa
¾ teaspoon Cinnamon
1 teaspoon Vanilla Extract
⅛ teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons hot milk

Cream butter with ½ cup of the confectioners' sugar. Blend in cocoa; beat smooth. Add cinnamon, vanilla, and salt. Add remaining sugar and hot milk. Beat until smooth, and of good spreading consistency. Frost top and sides of Party Spice Cake.

Food Shopping Guide

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Produce counters will provide many tempting buys for food shoppers this weekend.

Now here's a closer look at foods in plentiful supply in this area:

Fresh hams will dominate meat counters this week for the New Year's holiday. Ribs of beef, lamb legs, and pork loins will be widely featured.

Dairy products will be at popular prices.

The top buys at vegetable counters this weekend will be broccoli, domestic round type cabbage, carrots in one-pound film bags, eggplant, green onions, potatoes, spinach, and tomatoes.

Good buys will be California anise, green beans, beets, broccoli rabe, red and savory type cabbage, bunched carrots, celery, corn, cucumbers, peppers, radishes, squash, iceberg and romaine lettuce, orange Jersey sweet potatoes, Okra, medium yellow onions, and leafy greens.

Best buys at fruit sections will be apples, avocados, cranberries, and limes. Also at favorable prices will be coconuts and grapefruit.

Fish counters this weekend will feature plentiful supplies of fillets, oysters, lobsters, clams, and halibut.

Beef Stroganoff

2 pounds boneless beef
¼ cup butter
1 cup chopped onion
1 clove garlic, minced
1 8-ounce can tomato sauce
½ cup hot water
Salt, pepper and seasoning salt to taste
1 cup fresh sliced mushrooms, or 2½ to 4-ounce can mushrooms
1 cup dairy sour cream

Cut meat into ¼ inch strips; brown in butter. Add onion and garlic and saute until onion is slightly transparent. Add tomato sauce, water, salt, pepper, and seasoning salt to taste. Simmer 45 minutes; add mushrooms and cook 15 minutes longer or until meat is tender. Add water if needed during cooking. Liquid should be reduced slightly when meat is tender. Remove from heat. Stir in sour cream; cook 10 minutes over very low heat. Serve over rice or buttered noodles. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Chicken Elegante

2 2½ to 3-pound frying chickens, or
2 pounds sliced veal
⅓ cup flour
2½ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¾ teaspoon thyme
⅓ cup butter
1 cup sliced fresh mushrooms
1 cup dairy sour cream
1 tablespoon chives

Use the drumsticks, thighs and breast of chickens (cut in 2 pieces). Combine flour and seasonings. Dredge chicken or veal in seasoned flour. Brown meat in melted butter. Cover; reduce heat; cook slowly until tender, 30 to 40 minutes. Remove meat from pan. Add mushrooms; saute until tender, 2 to 3 minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in sour cream and chives; heat gently (do not allow to boil). Pour into hot serving dish and set meat on top. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Sour Cream Dips

1 cup dairy sour cream
1 to 2 teaspoons grated onion
2 teaspoons lemon juice
Salt and pepper to taste

Combine all ingredients. Serve plain with potato chips, cocktail crackers, raw vegetables.

Variations: To basic dip, add for:

Blue Cheese Sour Cream Dip—¼ cup crumbled Blue cheese.

Cheddar-Sour Cream Dip—1 cup shredded sharp cheddar cheese and cayenne pepper to taste.

Bean, Bacon And Apple Casserole

Soak overnight in cold water to cover: 2 cups dry Michigan navy beans. Bring to boil in same water and add: 1½ teaspoons salt — ⅛ teaspoon ginger. Simmer until skin of bean will split when you blow on it. Drain, reserving cooking water. Place half of beans in 8 x 11-inch baking dish. Arrange in rows over beans: 3 cups sliced tart apples (use more if you want to be lavish). Sprinkle with: ⅓ cup brown sugar. Place remaining beans in thin layer over apple slices. Sprinkle with: ⅓ cup brown sugar. Arrange on top of sugar-sprinkled beans: 8 slices lean Canadian bacon.

Cover tightly and bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 1 hour. Remove cover add enough reheated cooking water or boiling water to just barely cover beans. Return to oven and continue to bake until beans are tender and lightly browned. Serve hot.

Makes about 6 servings.

Apples cut in cubes are an excellent addition to your own favorite baked bean recipe. Mix with the beans for interesting texture and flavor about an hour before beans have finished baking.

Don't Remove Fell

Mt. Savage Cub Pack Gets Charter

Awards Given To Youngsters

MT. SAVAGE — The charter for Cub Pack 50 was presented to St. George's Episcopal Church, the sponsoring organization, by Walter Hutchins at the recent monthly pack meeting.

Rev. William McGrew, rector of St. George's, accepted the 1962 charter. Mr. Hutchins commended Pack 50 for winning an honor unit flag from the Cumberland Council and a blue ribbon honor unit from the national council.

Cubmaster Harry Long announced that Pack 50 achieved 98 per cent advancements for the year and doubled its goal of service and good will projects. Awards were presented to Michael A. Rice, bear badge and gold and silver arrows; Gary Miller, a gold arrow and service pin, and Richard Lashley, a service pin.

Mrs. Joann Logsdon, Den Two mother was presented with the monthly attendance award. Den Two had an 80 per cent attendance making honor den for December.

Chairman Howard Rice read a thank-you letter from Miners Hospital for the puzzles donated to the children's ward. Mr. Rice also thanked the cubs and townspeople for their help in making the "Toys for Tots" drive a success.

A program of entertainment was presented. Rev. William McGrew introduced the program by reading "A Christmas Scout," a story in the scouting magazine. Stewart Church, ideas chairman, announced the dramatization of Christmas carols. Den Two presented "Silent Night;" Den One "We Three Kings" and Den Three, "Away in a Manger."

Rev. Mr. Grew thanked the scouts and cubs for gathering pine and laurel for the church Christmas decorations and invited everyone to the church and the tower to see the results of their work. He also thanked the cubs and scouts for participating in the carol singing at the tree lighting ceremony at the church.

A Christmas party was held after the meeting with Santa presenting gifts to the cubs and recently graduated webelos, the den mothers and the Rev. Mr. McGrew. The parents received gifts which the cubs made as extra den projects.

The theme for next month's meeting will be from "The Days of King Arthur."

WVU Football Victories Highlights Of '61 Sports

Editor's note: Following is the last in a series of five dispatches reviewing West Virginia news developments of 1961. Today: Sports

By JOHN T. KADY
United Press International

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—West Virginia University's four football wins — especially those over Pitt and Army — and its 23-4 basketball record compiled by a sophomore studded West-less squad were the highlights of the state's 1961 sports scene.

The Mountaineer football team bounced back from a disastrous 1960 winless season to defeat Virginia Tech 28-0, Pitt 20-6, Army 7-3 and George Washington 12-7. The six losses were close.

West Virginia dropped its first three games then came on strong after giving Syracuse a tough battle before dropping a 29-14 decision. Leading the way were sophomores Fred Colvard, Glenn Holton and Pete Goimarac and juniors Jim Moss and Tom Woodeshick.

George King took over the basketball reins after Fred Schaus resigned to pilot the professional Los Angeles Lakers. After dropping two of their first four games, the Mountaineers came on strong to win 21 of the next 22 before being trounced out of the Southern Conference tournament by William & Mary.

Rod Thorn, the high school All-stater from Princeton, was the sparkplug of the basketball team. However, Thorn suffered an ankle injury late in the season and was sick with the flu. He was without a field goal in the William & Mary game which ended the Mountaineers' six-year domination of the Southern Conference tourney.

Thorn then decided it was best to drop out of school. He felt he was behind in his academic work. This caused more than a little concern among WVU sports fans. However, Thorn returned to summer school to make up his credits, just as said he would.

Two deaths marred the West Virginia sports picture last year. Two contestants in the Reader marathon at Reader collapsed and died of heat prostration. They were Dennis D. Stoner, 18, of Youngstown, Ohio and Barry Van Emburgh, 21, of Aliquippa, Pa.

On the baseball scene, Charleston had another minor league team. The Marlins of the International League moved their franchise from San Juan, P. R., to Charleston in May then moved to Atlanta, Ga., after the season.

However, in December, the Cleveland Indians moved their Class A Eastern League franchise from Reading, Pa., to West Virginia's Capital City.

In high school sports, Huntington High won the Triple-A basketball title — behind the outstanding play of all-stater Ricky Ray — and also the baseball championship.

The Pony Express football team compiled a 9-1 record with Paul Allen, leading the way. Allen was the state's leading scorer with 156 points and won the Kennedy Award given annually to West Virginia's outstanding scholastic player.

Ed Tutwiler won his 10th West Virginia Amateur golf title, erasing the old record of nine title wins by Jules Pollock of Wheeling.

Sammy Snead won the State Open after finishing third in the PGA behind winner Joe Taylor. It was the second time that Taylor defeated Snead in that event.

Berri Long of Huntington took the State Women's Amateur by defeating defending champion Sally Carroll of Wheeling.

Court Continues Market Case

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The State Supreme Court has continued until its April special docket arguments in the Paul H. Hankish case stemming from a supermarket breaking and entering in Fairmont in September, 1959.

Arguments had been set for next Jan. 16 but were postponed umtil the April special term at the request of counsel, the high court said today.

The case has been before the high court since June 12 when Hankish was granted an appeal from a Marion County Circuit Court decision which upheld a 1960 criminal court jury verdict against Hankish. Hankish was found guilty of the breaking and entering charge and sentenced to 1-to-10 years in prison.

Hankish was one of four persons arrested in connection with the case. The others were Vincent Innocenzia, George Floria and Joseph J. Arrington.

Defense attorneys said in their appeal to the high court that trial Judge Charles E. Miller was influenced by "public clamor and newspaper articles." They said Miller made it known that the news stories had "influenced, prejudiced and swayed him" with respect to Hankish.

Model Railroad Is On Display In Mt. Savage

C&P Locomotive Is Being Featured

MT. SAVAGE — The miniature Mountain Lake and Western Railroad, owned and operated by James E. Lancaster, Main Street, will be ready for public viewing each day from 2 to 4 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m.

The feature this year will be the showing of a one inch scale model of the Cumberland and Pennsylvania Railroad steam locomotive. The engine is in the process of manufacture and will not be ready for steam but can and will be operated with air pressure.

A live steam traction engine and a mill engine built in 1913 by Mr. Lancaster will also be operated with air.

Besides these two features, the regular model railroad showing will include a replica of the C&P passenger train last seen on the road in 1929; a replica of the B & O "Tom Thumb," first locomotive used by the railroad in 1829-30; a peerless traction engine and other attractions.

The layout occupies an entire room 16 by 20 feet, has 600 feet of track, 100 freight cars, 42 engines mostly built from "scratch," 16 passenger cars, two trolley cars, a merry-go-round, ferris wheel, sawmill, steam shovel, a dinky engine and cars in operation, feed mill operated with a water wheel, railroad stations, several trestles and bridges, a river and waterfall, several villages, parks, music and a super highway with four lanes on which cars run in a realistic manner.

The entire display was constructed by Mr. Lancaster over a period of years. Many visitors from the surrounding towns call at the Lancaster home to view the exhibit.

The credit union present loans number 1,084 amounting to $1,018,882.67. Reserves exceed $32,000.

The credit union ranks 11th in assets largest of the 208 in Maryland. It is the third largest in Allegany County. The president of the credit union is Ernest Hitt; treasurer, Paul Daddysman, and assistant treasurer, Mrs. Hazel Haywood.

Camp Pickett Morale Good

WHEELING, W. Va. (UPI)—Despite recent reports to the contrary, the commander of some Army personnel stationed at Camp Pickett, Va., says the morale of his men is good.

Lt. Col. W. T. Kahl of the 983rd Engineer Battalion, with Army reserve units from nearby Bellaire, Ohio, Marietta, Ohio, and New Martinsville, said morale of the units is "much better" than indicated by complaints made recently to Rep. Arch A. Moore by some West Virginia National Guardsmen at the camp.

"Facilities aren't the best and the men have Army food," Kahl said, "but nobody is losing weight." He was home on Christmas leave, as was about half his unit.

Model Railroad Is On Display In Mt. Savage

C&P Locomotive Is Being Featured

MT. SAVAGE — The miniature Mountain Lake and Western Railroad, owned and operated by James E. Lancaster, Main Street, will be ready for public viewing each day from 2 to 4 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m.

The feature this year will be the showing of a one inch scale model of the Cumberland and Pennsylvania Railroad steam locomotive. The engine is in the process of manufacture and will not be ready for steam but can and will be operated with air pressure.

A live steam traction engine and a mill engine built in 1913 by Mr. Lancaster will also be operated with air.

Besides these two features, the regular model railroad showing will include a replica of the C&P passenger train last seen on the road in 1929; a replica of the B & O "Tom Thumb," first locomotive used by the railroad in 1829-30; a peerless traction engine and other attractions.

The layout occupies an entire room 16 by 20 feet, has 600 feet of track, 100 freight cars, 42 engines mostly built from "scratch," 16 passenger cars, two trolley cars, a merry-go-round, ferris wheel, sawmill, steam shovel, a dinky engine and cars in operation, feed mill operated with a water wheel, railroad stations, several trestles and bridges, a river and waterfall, several villages, parks, music and a super highway with four lanes on which cars run in a realistic manner.

The entire display was constructed by Mr. Lancaster over a period of years. Many visitors from the surrounding towns call at the Lancaster home to view the exhibit.

WSCS Has Party

ELLERSLIE—Womans Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church held its Christmas party and banquet recently. Jingle gifts and peanut sister gifts were exchanged and new peanut sisters were given for another year.

Why so many farmers and ranchers plant money in U.S. Savings Bonds

Stop by a county seat bank any Saturday morning and you'll find farmers and ranchers at the Savings Bond window.

Ever since the Savings Bond Program began, these folks have been among its best customers. In fact ⅛ of all cash reserves owned by U.S. farmers and ranchers is invested in U.S. Savings Bonds.

Bonds for Business

Bonds owned by the millions of people who run our farms have their work cut out for them. They replace machinery. Pay for new land. Provide insurance against the risks of farming.

They get personal assignments, too, like replacing the old homestead, sending the kids to college, and making life more comfortable when the tractor lumbers into the barn for the last time.

Why they keep U.S. Bonds "down on the farm"

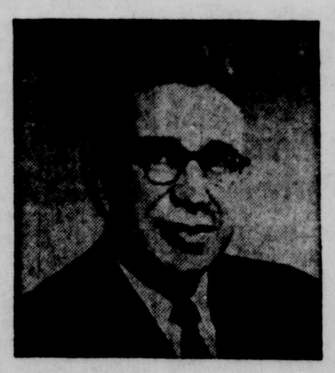

U.S. Savings Bonds are a "crop that never fails," guaranteed by the U.S. Government to grow. $18.75 becomes $25 in 7 years, 9 months. In 10 more years, it becomes $36.25. They can be cashed in anytime, with interest. And if they're lost or destroyed, the Treasury Department replaces them free.

Every U.S. Bond you buy is an investment in Peace. What better way to help your government help you enjoy the things you're saving for?

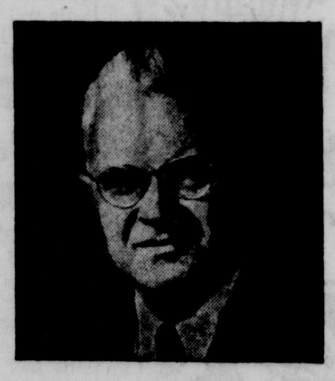

Why America's Prominent Farm Groups Support The Savings Bond Program

James G. Patton, President, National Farmers Union, says: "Savings Bonds are an excellent means of providing for a family's security, and will continue to be a part of our efforts toward a better agriculture and a stronger nation."

Chas. B. Shuman, President, American Farm Bureau Federation, says: "Farmers have always been strong supporters of The Savings Bond Program. Their current investment of $5 billion is a tribute both to their thrift habits and to Bonds."

Herschel D. Newsom, Master, The National Grange, says: "Savings Bonds are an investment in America. Farmers—like all Americans—buy them, assured that they are making an indestructible investment."

Holiday Tournaments Feature Slim Area Basketball Card Today

Sentinels To Play Alumni Five Tonight

Bruce Journeys To Walkersville; Two Games At Petersburg

A pair of Holiday Basketball Tournaments at Walkersville and Petersburg, and an Alumni game at Fort Hill High School, feature a slim cage schedule in the tri-state area tonight.

The Bruce High Bulldogs will travel to Walkersville in Frederick County tonight to take part in the two-day Holiday Invitational Tournament at Walkersville High School while Petersburg High will host the second annual Holiday Tournament beginning there this evening.

Coach Leonard Ritchie's Bulldogs (3-1) will face Walkersville (3-0) in the second game of tonight first round at 8:30 p. m., following the opening battle between Lackey High of Indian Head and Gaithersburg at 7 o'clock.

The consolation game is set for 7 p. m. on Friday and will be followed by the championship contest at 8:30.

Jackets Meet Franklin

Petersburg's second annual tourney gets underway tonight with Moorefield (4-1) meeting Franklin (0-7) at 7 o'clock and Petersburg (2-3) opposing Circleville (3-3) at 8:30 p. m.

The consolation battle in this tournament will begin at 7 o'clock on Friday with the title tilt slated for 8:30.

In regular season play Circleville defeated Petersburg, 57-54, in their only meeting while Moorefield already has whipped Franklin twice, 64-54 and 52-36.

On the local scene, coach Jimmy Eckard will send his Fort Hill varsity against an Alumni aggregation, hoping to snap a two-game losing streak for the Sentinels.

Fort Hill opened its season with a triumph over Fort Ashby, but has dropped decisions to Martinsburg and LaSalle in its last two outings.

Cavanaugh To Coach

Expected to play for the Alumni are Dick Bittner, Harry Bosley, Jimmy Rice, Bill Sheetz, Bill Colbert, Dick Peck, Dave Clem, Glen Shipway, Roger Manges, Leroy Henry Charles Robinson, Donnie Lewis, John Delegrange, Jerry Meeks, Doug Metz, and Thurl Roy. These boys are urged to bring their own shoes and trunks for the game Cavanaugh stated.

Game time will be 8 p. m. at the Fort Hill gym with a preliminary tilt slated for 6:30.

In Washington County, the North High Hubs also will oppose an Alumni team at Hagerstown.

Montreal Wins, 3-0

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Montreal Canadiens, although weakened by injuries to two key players, still displayed enough firepower to blank the New York Rangers, 3-0, Wednesday night behind the stellar netminding of Jacques Plante.

Kentucky Wins, 79-58

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky's sixth ranked Wildcats defeated Yale 79-58 Wednesday night in an intersectional basketball contest.

Senior Larry Pursiful sparked Kentucky with 25 points.

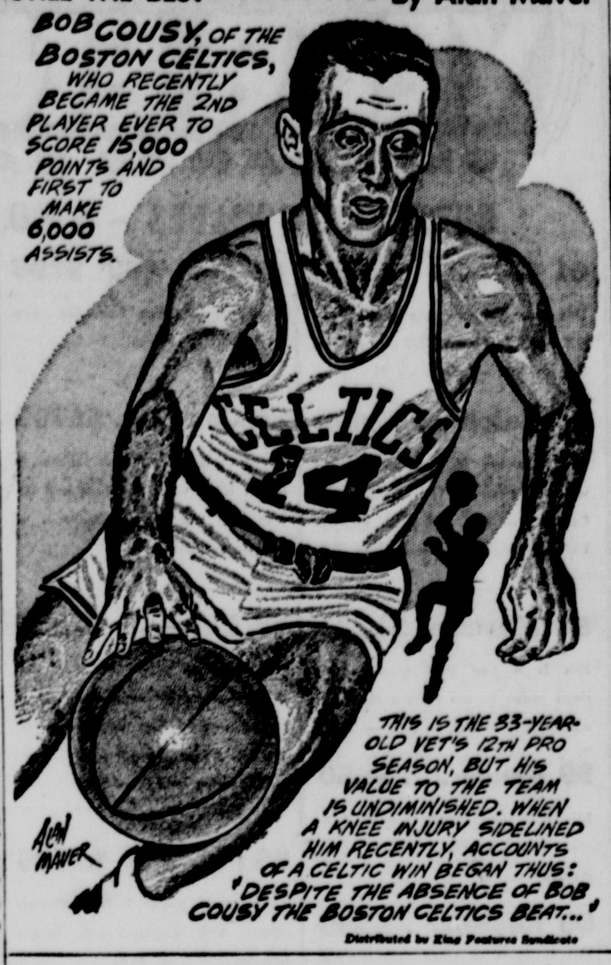

Backcourt star Bill Madden paced Yale with 15 points.

Packers, Alabama Picked To Win Holiday Contests

Ole Miss, Gophers, LSU, Georgia Tech Bowl Favorites

By STEVE SNIDER

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Green Bay Packers and unbeaten Alabama head the final football forecast for 1961 as the pros and the colleges wind it up with a sparkling post-season program.

That means the Packers (11-3) over the New York Giants (10-3-1) in the National League's title game Sunday at Green Bay, Wis., and Alabama's national college champs (10-0) over Arkansas (8-2) in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans on New Year's Day.

In the other year-enders, make it Mississippi (9-1) over Texas (9-1) in the Cotton Bowl, Minnesota (7-2) over UCLA (7-3) in the Rose Bowl, Louisiana State (9-1) over Colorado (9-1) in the Orange Bowl, Georgia Tech (7-3) over Penn State (7-3) in the Gator Bowl, the East over the West, Blue over the Gray and the Philadelphia Eagles over the Detroit Lions in the NFL playoff Bowl at Miami.

A closer look:

Dec. 30.

Georgia Tech 21, Penn State 17: Another tight match for the Gator Bowl. Penn State may have an edge in quarterback Galen Hall but the guess here is Georgia Tech has enough muscle up front to make the difference.

Wichita 28, Villanova 21: The Sun Bowl at El Paso figures to produce plenty of fireworks on both sides. Wichita seems to have the super punch.

East 21, West 14: The East presents one of its greatest backfields in history in this colorful Shrine game at San Francisco. In addition to All-Americas Ernie Davis of Syracuse and Bob Ferguson of Ohio State, the East has a pair of nifty flingers at quarterback in Roman Gabriel of North Carolina State and Ron Miller of Wisconsin. That oughta do it.

Blue 21, Gray 20: Another Shrine game at Montgomery, Ala., finds Blue on a three-game streak and hoping to make it four. Gray, tougher than last year, makes it close.

Dec. 31.

Packers 24, Giants 21: Paul Hornung, with a week's leave from the Army, figures to be in shape for the NFL's big one. Hornung's field goals could be vital, particularly since Giant three-point kicker Pat Summerall hasn't been on the beam lately.

Jan. 1

Alabama 21, Arkansas 6: 'Bama defense should be rugged enough to hold the Razorbacks so that leaves it up to quarterback Pat Trammell to engineer some points for the unbeaten Tide.

Mississippi 15, Texas 14: Best match of the day. Both stress record-setting offenses. But Ole Miss has two quarterbacks (Doug Elmore and Glynn Griffing) to one for Texas (Mike Cotten.) If one isn't hot, the other should be.

Louisiana State 21, Colorado 7: LSU tangles with one of the year's best scramblers in the Orange Bowl. Colorado, led by Gale Weidner's passing, is dangerous every minute. Oddsmakers who like LSU by 13 points are counting on the Bengal line.

Minnesota 21, UCLA 14: Minnesota, out to atone for its Rose Bowl disaster last year, might even make it bigger. All-America quarterback Sandy Stephens, for one, has a lot to make up for.

Jan. 6.

Eagles 28, Lions 24: Playoff bowl at Miami, pairing NFL's two second place teams, shapes up as a dandy. Eagles won only league meeting of the year, 27-24.

Southern Cal, UCLA Capture Classic Victories

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Southern California's fourth-ranked Trojans defeated Purdue 80-63 in the opening game of the Los Angeles Basketball Classic Wednesday.

The Trojans will meet the winner of the West Virginia-Utah game in the second round Thursday.

USC was led by John Rudometkin and Chris Appel, who scored 19 points each.

The Trojans were ahead 35-33 at the half.

Purdue's Terry Dischinger, who had averaged 27 points per game for the ninth-ranked Boilermakers, was held to 12 points by Ken Stanley of USC. The Purdue star picked up his fourth personal foul in the first five minutes of the second half and fouled out with five minutes to go.

UCLA rolled to an easy 86-72 victory over Army in another first round game.

The win put the Bruins in the semifinals, where they will meet the winner of the Ohio State-Washington game.

UCLA jumped to a 43-24 half time lead and Army never got closer than 10 points in the second half. Gary Cunningham, UCLA forward, scored 17 points as the Bruins built up their big lead. High point honors for the game went to Army's Stu Sherard with 26.

Outbreak Of Boils Plagues Black Hawks

CHICAGO (AP) — An outbreak of boils continues to plague the Chicago Black Hawks.

Elmer (Moose) Vasko, defense man, is the latest victim. Vasko was taken off the train Tuesday night and hospitalized with a serious case of boils as the Hawks were preparing to leave for Toronto.

Vasko is the fourth Hawk to suffer from boils in the last few weeks.

Yastrezemski Signs

BOSTON (UPI) — Left fielder Carl Yastrezemski has become the first member of the Boston Red Sox to sign a 1962 contract.

The young outfielder received a substantial pay boost which is believed to have raised his salary to about $14,000. He received $8,000 last year.

Buckeyes AP's Unanimous Pick As Top Team

Scramble Develops For Runner-Up Spot

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ohio State is unchallenged as the No. 1 college basketball team in the country, and the weekly Associated Press poll has evolved into a scramble for the runnerup position.

The Buckeyes, with their talented Jerry Lucas, drew all 42 of the first place votes Wednesday in the latest balloting among a special panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

They solidified their position at the top while rivals grappled for other places in the select top ten. Cincinnati, despite its first loss, held second and then followed, in order: Duquesne, Southern California, Kansas State, Kentucky West Virginia, Wichita, Purdue and Duke.

Hardly pressed in their first seven regular season games, which they've won by margins of from 13 to 43 points, the Buckeyes threaten to make the race for national honors a runaway if they can go through the Los Angeles Classic, now in progress on the Pacific Coast.

In this tournament, Lucas and his Ohio teammates face three of the top ten teams—Southern Cal, No. 4; West Virginia, No. 7, and Purdue, No. 9—plus the highly regarded Utah Quintet. A victory would establish the Buckeyes not only as No. 1 but the team to beat in the national championships (NCAA) in March.

Cincinnati, Ohio State's chief rival, is playing some 3,000 miles away in the Eastern Holiday Festival at New York's Madison Square Garden.

Changes in the rankings, as the result of last week's wave of surprises, saw the addition of Wichita, Kentucky and Duke and the expulsion from the top ten of Providence, St. Bonaventure, Seattle and Arizona State — the latter two having been tied for tenth.

The top ten, based on 10 for first place, 9 for second, etc., with first place votes in parentheses:

1.	Ohio State (42)	420
2.	Cincinnati	317
3.	Duquesne	257
4.	Southern Calif.	235
5.	Kansas State	197
6.	Kentucky	153
7.	West Virginia	120
8.	Wichita	96
9.	Purdue	93
10.	Duke	90

Japan Olympics Progress Is Good

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP) —Otto Mayer, chancellor of the International Olympic Committee, said Wednesday preparations for the 1964 Olympic games in Tokyo are making good progress and cooperation between the IOC and the Japanese organizing committee is excellent.

Mayer flatly denied reports that he had written to IOC President Avery Brundage complaining of lack of cooperation from the Japanese committee.

Don Hoak Weds Singer Jill Corey

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Pittsburgh Pirate third baseman Don Hoak and singer Jill Corey of Avonmore, Pa., were married Wednesday in the chambers of Common Pleas Court Judge Frederick G. Weir.

Miss Corey, whose real name is Norma Jean Speranza, was 18 minutes late for the ceremony and Hoak, who is known as the "Tiger," was visibly shaken until the bride arrived.

SOUTH HAGERSTOWN HANDS ALLEGANY 59-43 SETBACK

Phil Petry, Guyton Pace Reb Attack

Score 46 Points Between Them As Winners Cop Third

South Hagerstown High's Rebels overcame an early Allegany High lead and went on to hand the Campers a 59-43 setback last night on the winners' court, ending the Cumberland school's two-game winning streak and gaining the edge in the overall basketball series between the two teams.

Phil Petry and Dwight Guyton paced the Rebels' attack, scoring 46 points between them, as Coach Nick Scallion's South quint upped its record to 3-1 for the season. The loss leveled Allegany's mark at 2-2 for the year and gave South a 5-4 edge in the nine games played by the two teams since 1957.

Coach Chet Payne's Campers jumped out in front in the first quarter and held a 12-10 lead at the close of the stanza. South caught the visitors late in the second period when Petry's jump shot put the Rebels ahead, 19-18. South built the margin to 23-20 at intermission, then outscored Allegany, 36-23, in the final two periods to win easily.

Petry gained high scoring honors for the game with 24 points on nine field goals and 6-12 fouls. Guyton followed closely with nine goals and 4-4 fouls for 24 points as the two Rebels combined to outscore the entire Allegany team.

Leading the offense for the Campers was Ken Davis with 11 points. Jimmy Bell and Roger Flanagan added eight points apiece in a losing cause for the Paynemen.

South's Gene Fisher was the only player to exit on personal fouls.

In the preliminary game, Allegany's Junior Varsity whipped the South Jayvees, 63-45. The lineups:

Brown Named Year's Best Fighter By Ring Magazine

Accepts Title Bout With Ortiz On February 24

NEW YORK (UPI)—Wednesday was one of the biggest days in the 35-year life of Lightweight Champion Joe Brown. He was named "Fighter of the Year" by the Ring Magazine and he accepted a record-stretching 12th defense of the 135-pound crown against Carlos Ortiz of New York at Las Vegas, Nev., Feb. 24.

His manager, Lou Viscusi, announced the acceptance at Tampa, Fla.

Because of his record 10th and 11th defenses in 1961, the ring also placed lanky "Old Bones" of Houston, Tex., in a class by himself, as far as current competitors in the 135-pound division are concerned.

And the magazine tabbed his record-breaking 10th defense against England's Dave Charnley at London on April 18 as the "fight of the year" because it was a thriller right down to the final bell. Brown, 35, received the referee's decision.

That defense broke the great Benny Leonard's record of nine. Boxer-puncher Brown stretched the record to 11 on Oct. 28 by outpointing Bert Somodio at Manila. He also took a non-title verdict over Joey Parks of Omaha, Neb., this year.

Since Joe won the title with a broken right hand from Wallace Bud Smith at New Orleans in 1956, he has proved himself a worthy follower of such great warriors in the 106-year-old class as Joe Gans, Leonard, Tony Canzoneri, Henry Armstrong and Ike Williams. And he is the first lightweight to receive the Ring's award since Williams got it in 1948.

His 11 defenses were made against Smith, Orlando Zulueta, Joey Lopes, Ralph Duaps, Kenny Lane, Johnny Busso, Paolo Rosi, Dave Charnley (two), Cisco Andrade and Somodio.

In the Ring's final balloting, Brown was chosen over Fullmer, Featherweight Champion Davey Moore, Heavyweight Champion Floyd Patterson, and Light Heavyweight co-Champion Harold Johnson, in that order.

Brown's ring record now stands at 68 victories and 15 defeats in 94 bouts. He had nine draws. He scored 27 kayoes and was stopped three times. He has two no-contests.

Holiday Tournaments Feature Slim Area Basketball Card Today

Sentinels To Play Alumni Five Tonight

Bruce Journeys To Walkersville; Two Games At Petersburg

A pair of Holiday Basketball Tournaments at Walkersville and Petersburg, and an Alumni game at Fort Hill High School, feature a slim cage schedule in the tri-state area tonight.

The Bruce High Bulldogs will travel to Walkersville in Frederick County tonight to take part in the two-day Holiday Invitational Tournament at Walkersville High School while Petersburg High will host the second annual Holiday Tournament beginning there this evening.

Coach Leonard Ritchie's Bulldogs (3-1) will face Walkersville (3-0) in the second game of tonight first round at 8:30 p. m., following the opening battle between Lackey High of Indian Head and Gaithersburg at 7 o'clock.

The consolation game is set for 7 p. m. on Friday and will be followed by the championship contest at 8:30.

Jackets Meet Franklin

Petersburg's second annual tourney gets underway tonight with Moorefield (4-1) meeting Franklin (0-7) at 7 o'clock and Petersburg (2-3) opposing Circleville (3-3) at 8:30 p. m.

The consolation battle in this tournament will begin at 7 o'clock on Friday with the title tilt slated for 8:30.

In regular season play Circleville defeated Petersburg, 57-54, in their only meeting while Moorefield already has whipped Franklin twice, 64-54 and 52-36.

On the local scene, coach Jimmy Eckard will send his Fort Hill varsity against an Alumni aggregation, hoping to snap a two-game losing streak for the Sentinels.

Fort Hill opened its season with a triumph over Fort Ashby, but has dropped decisions to Martinsburg and LaSalle in its last two outings.

Cavanaugh To Coach

Expected to play for the Alumni are Dick Bittner, Harry Bosley, Jimmy Rice, Bill Sheetz, Bill Colbert, Dick Peck, Dave Clem, Glen Shipway, Roger Manges, Leroy Henry Charles Robinson, Donnie Lewis, John Delegrange, Jerry Meeks, Doug Metz, and Thurl Roy. These boys are urged to bring their own shoes and trunks for the game Cavanaugh stated.

Game time will be 8 p. m. at the Fort Hill gym with a preliminary tilt slated for 6:30.

In Washington County, the North High Hubs also will oppose an Alumni team at Hagerstown.

Packers, Alabama Picked To Win Holiday Contests

Ole Miss, Gophers, LSU, Georgia Tech Bowl Favorites

By STEVE SNIDER

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Green Bay Packers and unbeaten Alabama head the final football forecast for 1961 as the pros and the colleges wind it up with a sparkling post-season program.

That means the Packers (11-3) over the New York Giants (10-3-1) in the National League's title game Sunday at Green Bay, Wis., and Alabama's national college champs (10-0) over Arkansas (8-2) in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans on New Year's Day.

In the other year-enders, make it Mississippi (9-1) over Texas (9-1) in the Cotton Bowl, Minnesota (7-2) over UCLA (7-3) in the Rose Bowl, Louisiana State (9-1) over Colorado (9-1) in the Orange Bowl, Georgia Tech (7-3) over Penn State (7-3) in the Gator Bowl, the East over the West, Blue over the Gray and the Philadelphia Eagles over the Detroit Lions in the NFL playoff Bowl at Miami.

A closer look:

Dec. 30.

Georgia Tech 21, Penn State 17: Another tight match for the Gator Bowl. Penn State may have an edge in quarterback Galen Hall but the guess here is Georgia Tech has enough muscle up front to make the difference.

Wichita 28, Villanova 21: The Sun Bowl at El Paso figures to produce plenty of fireworks on both sides. Wichita seems to have the super punch.

East 21, West 14: The East presents one of its greatest backfields in history in this colorful Shrine game at San Francisco. In addition to All-Americas Ernie Davis of Syracuse and Bob Ferguson of Ohio State, the East has a pair of nifty flingers at quarterback in Roman Gabriel of North Carolina State and Ron Miller of Wisconsin. That oughta do it.

Blue 21, Gray 20: Another Shrine game at Montgomery, Ala., finds Blue on a three-game streak and hoping to make it four. Gray, tougher than last year, makes it close.

Dec. 31.

Packers 24, Giants 21: Paul Hornung, with a week's leave from the Army, figures to be in shape for the NFL's big one. Hornung's field goals could be vital, particularly since Giant three-point kicker Pat Summerall hasn't been on the beam lately.

Jan. 1

Alabama 21, Arkansas 6: 'Bama defense should be rugged enough to hold the Razorbacks so that leaves it up to quarterback Pat Trammell to engineer some points for the unbeaten Tide.

Mississippi 15, Texas 14: Best match of the day. Both stress record-setting offenses. But Ole Miss has two quarterbacks (Doug Elmore and Glynn Griffing) to one for Texas (Mike Cotten.) If one isn't hot, the other should be.

Louisiana State 21, Colorado 7: LSU tangles with one of the year's best scramblers in the Orange Bowl. Colorado, led by Gale Weidner's passing, is dangerous every minute. Oddsmakers who like LSU by 13 points are counting on the Bengal line.

Minnesota 21, UCLA 14: Minnesota, out to atone for its Rose Bowl disaster last year, might even make it bigger. All-America quarterback Sandy Stephens, for one, has a lot to make up for.

Jan. 6.

Eagles 28, Lions 24: Playoff bowl at Miami, pairing NFL's two second place teams, shapes up as a dandy. Eagles won only league meeting of the year, 27-24.

Southern Cal, UCLA Capture Classic Victories

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Southern California's fourth-ranked Trojans defeated Purdue 80-63 in the opening game of the Los Angeles Basketball Classic Wednesday.

The Trojans will meet the winner of the West Virginia-Utah game in the second round Thursday.

USC was led by John Rudometkin and Chris Appel, who scored 19 points each.

The Trojans were ahead 35-33 at the half.

Purdue's Terry Dischinger, who had averaged 27 points per game for the ninth-ranked Boilermakers, was held to 12 points by Ken Stanley of USC. The Purdue star picked up his fourth personal foul in the first five minutes of the second half and fouled out with five minutes to go.

UCLA rolled to an easy 86-72 victory over Army in another first round game.

The win put the Bruins in the semifinals, where they will meet the winner of the Ohio State-Washington game.

UCLA jumped to a 43-24 half time lead and Army never got closer than 10 points in the second half. Gary Cunningham, UCLA forward, scored 17 points as the Bruins built up their big lead. High point honors for the game went to Army's Stu Sherard with 26.

Outbreak Of Boils Plagues Black Hawks

CHICAGO (AP) — An outbreak of boils continues to plague the Chicago Black Hawks.

Elmer (Moose) Vasko, defense man, is the latest victim. Vasko was taken off the train Tuesday night and hospitalized with a serious case of boils as the Hawks were preparing to leave for Toronto.

Vasko is the fourth Hawk to suffer from boils in the last few weeks.

Yastrezemski Signs

BOSTON (UPI) — Left fielder Carl Yastrezemski has become the first member of the Boston Red Sox to sign a 1962 contract.

The young outfielder received a substantial pay boost which is believed to have raised his salary to about $14,000. He received $8,000 last year.

Buckeyes AP's Unanimous Pick As Top Team

Scramble Develops For Runner-Up Spot

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ohio State is unchallenged as the No. 1 college basketball team in the country, and the weekly Associated Press poll has evolved into a scramble for the runnerup position.

The Buckeyes, with their talented Jerry Lucas, drew all 42 of the first place votes Wednesday in the latest balloting among a special panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

They solidified their position at the top while rivals grappled for other places in the select top ten. Cincinnati, despite its first loss, held second and then followed, in order: Duquesne, Southern California, Kansas State, Kentucky West Virginia, Wichita, Purdue and Duke.

Hardly pressed in their first seven regular season games, which they've won by margins of from 13 to 43 points, the Buckeyes threaten to make the race for national honors a runaway if they can go through the Los Angeles Classic, now in progress on the Pacific Coast.

In this tournament, Lucas and his Ohio teammates face three of the top ten teams—Southern Cal, No. 4; West Virginia, No. 7, and Purdue, No. 9—plus the highly regarded Utah Quintet. A victory would establish the Buckeyes not only as No. 1 but the team to beat in the national championships (NCAA) in March.

Cincinnati, Ohio State's chief rival, is playing some 3,000 miles away in the Eastern Holiday Festival at New York's Madison Square Garden.

Changes in the rankings, as the result of last week's wave of surprises, saw the addition of Wichita, Kentucky and Duke and the expulsion from the top ten of Providence, St. Bonaventure, Seattle and Arizona State — the latter two having been tied for tenth.

The top ten, based on 10 for first place, 9 for second, etc., with first place votes in parentheses:

1.	Ohio State (42)	420
2.	Cincinnati	317
3.	Duquesne	257
4.	Southern Calif.	235
5.	Kansas State	197
6.	Kentucky	153
7.	West Virginia	120
8.	Wichita	96
9.	Purdue	93
10.	Duke	90

Japan Olympics Progress Is Good

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP) —Otto Mayer, chancellor of the International Olympic Committee, said Wednesday preparations for the 1964 Olympic games in Tokyo are making good progress and cooperation between the IOC and the Japanese organizing committee is excellent.

Mayer flatly denied reports that he had written to IOC President Avery Brundage complaining of lack of cooperation from the Japanese committee.

Don Hoak Weds Singer Jill Corey

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Pittsburgh Pirate third baseman Don Hoak and singer Jill Corey of Avonmore, Pa., were married Wednesday in the chambers of Common Pleas Court Judge Frederick G. Weir.

Miss Corey, whose real name is Norma Jean Speranza, was 18 minutes late for the ceremony and Hoak, who is known as the "Tiger," was visibly shaken until the bride arrived.

SOUTH HAGERSTOWN HANDS ALLEGANY 59-43 SETBACK

Phil Petry, Guyton Pace Reb Attack

Score 46 Points Between Them As Winners Cop Third

South Hagerstown High's Rebels overcame an early Allegany High lead and went on to hand the Campers a 59-43 setback last night on the winners' court, ending the Cumberland school's two-game winning streak and gaining the edge in the overall basketball series between the two teams.

Phil Petry and Dwight Guyton paced the Rebels' attack, scoring 46 points between them, as Coach Nick Scallion's South quint upped its record to 3-1 for the season. The loss leveled Allegany's mark at 2-2 for the year and gave South a 5-4 edge in the nine games played by the two teams since 1957.

Coach Chet Payne's Campers jumped out in front in the first quarter and held a 12-10 lead at the close of the stanza. South caught the visitors late in the second period when Petry's jump shot put the Rebels ahead, 19-18. South built the margin to 23-20 at intermission, then outscored Allegany, 36-23, in the final two periods to win easily.

Petry gained high scoring honors for the game with 24 points on nine field goals and 6-12 fouls. Guyton followed closely with nine goals and 4-4 fouls for 24 points as the two Rebels combined to outscore the entire Allegany team.

Leading the offense for the Campers was Ken Davis with 11 points. Jimmy Bell and Roger Flanagan added eight points apiece in a losing cause for the Paynemen.

South's Gene Fisher was the only player to exit on personal fouls.

In the preliminary game, Allegany's Junior Varsity whipped the South Jayvees, 63-45. The lineups:

Aussies Await Pro Bid After Davis Cup Win

Laver, Emerson Top Italy In Doubles

MELBOURNE (AP) — Rod Laver and Roy Emerson, holders of the major amateur tennis titles, awaited pro offers Thursday after leading Australia to its tenth Davis Cup victory in 12 years.

Promoter Jack Kramer has announced interest in both. He has indicated he would like to have the pair as members of the troupe which begins its Australian swing next month.

Both Laver, the Wimbledon champion, and Emerson, holder of the Australian and U.S. titles, said they would make no move until after the Davis Cup challenge round, which ends Thursday with two meaningless singles matches. The third Aussie ace, Neale Fraser, plans to retire.

The Australians clinched the trophy Wednesday at Kooyong when Emerson and veteran Fraser crushed Italy's Nicola Pietrangeli and Orlando Sirola in doubles 6-2, 6-3, 6-4.

This climaxed the worst shellacking handed a challenging team in 61 years. The Italians failed to win a set in the first three matches. On Tuesday, Emerson beat Pietrangeli 8-6, 6-4, 6-0 and Laver smashed Sirola 6-1, 6-4, 6-3.

It marked the first time since 1909 that a team had clinched the challenge round without dropping a single set. In that series, Australia's Norman Brookes and Anthony Wilding smothered the U.S. team of Maurice McLaughlin and Melvin Long.

The only worse defeat in the record book was in 1904 when Britain won the first three matches from Belgium while losing only 17 games. The Aussies dropped just 27.

In the final singles matches Thursday, Emerson was to meet Sirola in the first match with Laver facing Pietrangeli in the finale.

Play National Guard

The Sports Shoppe quint of the County Basketball League will play Company C, National Guard at Somerset, Pa., Friday at 7:30 p.m. Players desiring transportation are to contact Junior Eversole, PA 2-3870.

Bulldog Turner, the former pro star who is the new coach of the New York Titans in the American Football League, now tips the scale at 280 pounds.

HEAD MAN NOW—A former star lineman at Tulane, Tommy O'Boyle (above), is the new head coach at Tulane, succeeding Andy Pilney, who resigned after the Green Wave had finished the season. A native of Gary, Ind., O'Boyle formerly coached at Kansas State, Duke and Miami before returning to the Tulane staff for the third time as an assistant.

Tart Retorts Follow Upset On Gridiron

OXFORD, Miss. (UPI) — This could be called the case of the tart retort:

On Nov. 4, Michigan State was No. 1 in the UPI football poll, Mississippi No. 2. That afternoon Minnesota beat Michigan State, 13-0 and the associated student body at the University of Mississippi is said to have sent a telegram to Michigan State that said simply, "Well!!!"

That night, Mississippi was beaten 10-7 by Louisiana State and received a message from Michigan State, "Well, what?"

On Monday, Ole Miss replied, "Well, Hell."

David Bloom, Memphis commercial Appeal sports editor, told about it in his column Wednesday.

Blue-Gray Forces Add Two Players

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Blue and Gray forces each added a player to their rosters Wednesday to back up possible half-performances of two football stars who may be hampered by injuries Saturday in the 24th annual renewal of the classic.

The Grays have taken on Tom Smith, 193-pound Florida end, and the North has added Mike McClellan, Oklahoma halfback, to its roster.

Smith was taken on when Bill Hull, Wake Forest flankman, sprained his ankle in Monday's practice. McClellan will back up Norm Beal, Missouri halfback, who has been slowed by a pulled thigh muscle.

Wichita Favored In Sun Bowl

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI) —Villanova will have an 18-pound weight advantage overall but Wichita's pro-type offense and quick, hard-hitting defense are expected to be too much for the Wildcats Saturday in the 27th annual Sun Bowl.

The game will be the last for Hank Foldberg as Wichita coach. He will become head coach and athletic director at Texas A & M College, replacing Jim Myers.

Zachary Is Guest

BOSTON (UPI) — Tom Zachary, the pitcher who served up Babe Ruth's record 60th home run in 1927, will be a special guest at the annual Boston Baseball Writers Dinner Jan. 25, it was announced Wednesday.

Lakers Defeat Nats, 119-111

Baylor And West Tally 76 Points

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Elgin Baylor and Jerry West, the Los Angeles scoring twins, tallied 76 points between them Wednesday to power the Lakers to a 119-111 victory over the Syracuse Nats in the opener of a National Basketball Association doubleheader.

Philadelphia met New York in the scond game.

Baylor scored 48 points, three under the Convention Hall mark for a visiting player in a regulation game, on 16 field goals and 16 free throw conversions. He also snared 20 rebounds in a brilliant all-around performance that gave the Lakers their sixth win in their last seven starts. West contributed 28 points and excelled in floor play.

Joe DeMaestri Quits Baseball

SAN ANSELMO, Calif. (UPI) —Joe DeMaestri, utility infielder for the New York Yankees, said Wednesday he is quitting baseball after 11 years in the major leagues.

DeMaestri said he would remain with his father to run their beer distributing business in this San Francisco suburb.

"The Yankees talked me into coming back last year," he said, "but I didn't get to play very much."

DeMaestri played in only 30 games last year, scoring one run and collecting six singles and two runs batted in. He said he was leaving the Yankees with no bitterness.

Branch McCracken, the Indiana cage coach, is the dean of the Big Ten hardwood mentors. This is his 21st season with the Hoosiers.

Joe DeMaestri Quits Baseball

SAN ANSELMO, Calif. (UPI) —Joe DeMaestri, utility infielder for the New York Yankees, said Wednesday he is quitting baseball after 11 years in the major leagues.

DeMaestri said he would remain with his father to run their beer distributing business in this San Francisco suburb.

"The Yankees talked me into coming back last year," he said, "but I didn't get to play very much."

DeMaestri played in only 30 games last year, scoring one run and collecting six singles and two runs batted in. He said he was leaving the Yankees with no bitterness.

Branch McCracken, the Indiana cage coach, is the dean of the Big Ten hardwood mentors. This is his 21st season with the Hoosiers.

Stocks Register Largest Gains Since November 8

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks scored their biggest gains since Nov. 8 Wednesday as volume rose to an eight-session high.

A broad total of 1,316 issues were traded — 37 more than in the prior session and 23 more than a week ago. Advances outnumbered declines 637 to 448 but only 12 issues rose to new highs for the year while 13 slipped to new lows.

Standard & Poor's comprehensive 500 stock index showed a gain of 0.63, indicating that the day's trading added nearly $4.5 billion to the aggregate paper value of all listed shares.

Gains of 3¾ in Du Pont, 2 or better in American Telephone, General Foods, International Harvester and Union Carbide and at least a point in Alcoa, Bethlehem Steel, International Nickel, Texaco and U.S. Steel gave the Dow Jones industrials a huge gain of 8.34 at 731.43. This is around 3 points off the record high.

The 20 rail average rose 1.12 with Louisville & Nashville, C&O Atlantic Coast Line and Kansas City Southern ahead at least a point. Utilities snapped a string of nine declines, finishing up 0.55, and featuring Southern Cal Edison up 2½. United Gas Improvement, which boosted its dividend and split the stock, gained 2¼.

Stocks Register Largest Gains Since November 8

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks scored their biggest gains since Nov. 8 Wednesday as volume rose to an eight-session high.

A broad total of 1,316 issues were traded — 37 more than in the prior session and 23 more than a week ago. Advances outnumbered declines 637 to 448 but only 12 issues rose to new highs for the year while 13 slipped to new lows.

Standard & Poor's comprehensive 500 stock index showed a gain of 0.63, indicating that the day's trading added nearly $4.5 billion to the aggregate paper value of all listed shares.

Gains of 3¾ in Du Pont, 2 or better in American Telephone, General Foods, International Harvester and Union Carbide and at least a point in Alcoa, Bethlehem Steel, International Nickel, Texaco and U.S. Steel gave the Dow Jones industrials a huge gain of 8.34 at 731.43. This is around 3 points off the record high.

The 20 rail average rose 1.12 with Louisville & Nashville, C&O Atlantic Coast Line and Kansas City Southern ahead at least a point. Utilities snapped a string of nine declines, finishing up 0.55, and featuring Southern Cal Edison up 2½. United Gas Improvement, which boosted its dividend and split the stock, gained 2¼.

Cards of Thanks

We wish to thank all of our neighbors and friends who were so kind to us during our recent bereavement at the death of our baby, Tina Marie Lewis. We also want to thank Rev. George Hattenfield, those who sent floral tributes, the pallbearers and those who donated the use of their cars for the funeral.
THE FAMILY

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our friends, neighbors and relatives who were so kind to us at the death of our loved one, Paul Carter. We especially wish to thank Rev. Johnson, Rev. P. L. Green, Hafers Funeral Service, Farrady, Washington Smith and Cecil Randolph Posts American Legion; those who sent floral tributes and contributions and those who donated cars for the funeral.
Mrs. Paul Carter & family
Mr. & Mrs. Harry Carter & Family

In Memoriam

In memory of Mrs. Walter Duncan who died Dec. 28, 1957.
Do not ask us if we miss her,
There is such a vacant place,
Oft we think we hear her footsteps,
And see her smiling face.
Days of sadness still come o'er us,
Tears in silence often flow,
Memory keeps her ever near us
Though she left four years ago.
Sadly missed by children & grandchildren

In loving memory of our dear Father, Aguston Struckman, who departed this life, December 28, 1959 and our dear Mother, Lillian Struckman who departed this life May 26, 1961.
Though absent, you both are ever near,
Kept close by memories we hold dear,
Always loved, always missed within our hearts,
Through memory, we shall never part.
Devoted Children & Grandchildren

Cards of Thanks

We wish to thank all of our neighbors and friends who were so kind to us during our recent bereavement at the death of our baby, Tina Marie Lewis. We also want to thank Rev. George Hattenfield, those who sent floral tributes, the pallbearers and those who donated the use of their cars for the funeral.
THE FAMILY

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our friends, neighbors and relatives who were so kind to us at the death of our loved one, Paul Carter. We especially wish to thank Rev. Johnson, Rev. P. L. Green, Hafers Funeral Service, Farrady, Washington Smith and Cecil Randolph Posts American Legion; those who sent floral tributes and contributions and those who donated cars for the funeral.
Mrs. Paul Carter & family
Mr. & Mrs. Harry Carter & Family

In Memoriam

In memory of Mrs. Walter Duncan who died Dec. 28, 1957.
Do not ask us if we miss her,
There is such a vacant place,
Oft we think we hear her footsteps,
And see her smiling face.
Days of sadness still come o'er us,
Tears in silence often flow,
Memory keeps her ever near us
Though she left four years ago.
Sadly missed by children & grandchildren

In loving memory of our dear Father, Aguston Struckman, who departed this life, December 28, 1959 and our dear Mother, Lillian Struckman who departed this life May 26, 1961.
Though absent, you both are ever near,
Kept close by memories we hold dear,
Always loved, always missed within our hearts,
Through memory, we shall never part.
Devoted Children & Grandchildren

The CENTENNIAL SCRAPBOOK

The War for the Union 1861-65 in Pictures

No. 88 The tragedy that was going on a century ago this month could be traced back directly to a happening on a Georgia plantation 69 years before, in the autumn of 1792. The plantation was owned by Mrs. Nathanael Green, widow of the War of Independence general. It had a guest that October: Eli Whitney, a Yale graduate who was studying law in Savannah.

Whitney, who came of a family of New England mechanics, was moved by his observation of the tedious hand method of cleaning green seed cotton, to devise a machine to facilitate the work and improve the quality.

"This simple machine changed the history of the United States and the world," Holland Thompson wrote, and quoted the British historian Lord Macaulay.

Before Whitney's gin, one man could clean seeds from five pounds of cotton a day; the whole South exported only 190,000 pounds of cotton a year.

Cotton exports from the South rose to 41,000,000 pounds a year in less than a decade.

When the gin appeared, slavery was in decline in the South because it was economically unprofitable. Using a Whitney gin, a slave could clean half a ton of cotton a day, and leave better fibers for spinning. The gin made slavery an institution for which the South was disposed to fight.

—CLARK KINNAIRD

Advisory Group Is Appointed

MORGANTOWN—West Virginia University Registrar J. Everett Long, state coordinator for the American College Testing Program (ACT), has announced a five man advisory committee to serve during 1962.

The group will hold its first meeting in Charleston January 13. Members are: Luther E. Bledsoe, registrar, Marshall University, Huntington; O. B. Farren, principal St. Marys High School, St. Marys; Harry R. Hein, supervisor of guidance, counseling and testing, State Department of Education, Charleston; Raymond W. Kiser, director of admissions, West Virginia Wesleyan College, Buckhannon, and Walter F. Snyder, assistant superintendent of Kanawha County schools, Charleston.

Long said the potential research value of the ACT program is great. He predicted that all institutions under the State Department of Education will participate by 1963.

At present, the following institutions require ACT: Beckley College; Concord College, Athens; Marshall University, Huntington; Potomac State College, Keyser; West Virginia Institute of Technology, Montgomery; West Virginia State College, Institute; West Virginia University, and West Virginia Wesleyan College, Buckhannon.

Institutions recommending ACT are Alderson-Broaddus College, Philippi; Bluefield State College, Fairmont State College, Salem College, Shepherd College, West Liberty College and Wheeling College.

"Routine" Convoy

BERLIN (UPI)—The U.S. Army sent another "routine" military convoy across 110 miles of East German territory without Communist delay or harassment Wednesday despite new Soviet objections.

Weston To Make Weekly Visit To Local VA Office

Plans were announced yesterday by Sam J. Weston, officer in charge of the local Veterans Administration office, for providing once-a-week service to Cumberland, following the closing of the office Friday.

Commencing Friday January 12, Mr. Weston will be in Cumberland to provide contact service to veterans and their dependents. The service will be given each Friday until further notice from 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m., using the same room in the Post Office Building which the VA has been using the past several years, or another office on the same floor.

With the closing of the local VA office on Friday, Mr. Weston will assume his duties as contact representative in charge of contact location at the VA Hospital, Perry Point, Md.

Tree Collection Set

Discarded Christmas trees will be collected here January 10-12, according to Joseph L. Riley and J. W. Rexroad, garbage contractors, who said residents are being asked to have the trees on the curb by 7 a.m. each day. A schedule of collection will be announced later.

Club To Hold Party

The El Fidel Club and its Auxiliary will hold a party today at 7:30 p. m. at Ali Ghan Shrine Club.

Roaches are inveterate travelers. Two familiar species — the straw-colored German cockroach and long, black Oriental cockroach — have spread from their original homes to all parts of the world. A Florida species, having recently gotten the urge to move, has migrated as far north as Canada, westward to the Rocky Mountains and southward into Central America.

N.Y. Transit Strike Authorized By Union

NEW YORK (UPI)—Some 6,000 transit workers unanimously voted authorization Wednesday night for Transport Workers Union President Michael quill to call a strike midnight Sunday which would paralyze New York City.

Quill has repeatedly warned he will call the strike if the union's demands are not met.

Jury Trial Requested In Juvenile Case

Raymond Smith, 905 Virginia Avenue, yesterday was committed to Allegany County Jail in default of $500 bond to await trial in Circuit Court on two juvenile charges.

Smith has been charged with contributing to the neglect and delinquency of his two minor children. Magistrate Louis A. Fatkin set bond yesterday in Juvenile Court.

Dentist By Day, Float Designer By Night

By RAYMOND C. MEANS

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A dentist by day—a float designer and builder by night—and successful at each. That describes Dr. Sam Coleman, of Glendale, Calif., a man who prefers the challenge of competition to a robe, slippers and a television set.

"It's frightening, but the satisfaction which comes from a prize-winning entry and from the approval of the viewers is more than worth it," said Coleman, recognized as one of the leading float designers and builders in the country.

Coleman, 41, whose grandparents were designing floats in 1908, began on his own in 1936 after working with his grandparents and later his mother, Mrs. Isabella S. Coleman of Pasadena, Calif., who is one of his leading competitors.

In his first try he captured the Sweepstakes Award, top prize in the annual Rose Parade, for the city of Indio, and he was on his way.

Since then his entries have taken another Sweepstakes, two President's trophies, two Governor's trophies and several lesser first-prize awards.

Coleman accepts six clients a year, most of whom retain him annually. In March he begins the designs of the floats with the prime factor being which prize he is shooting for.

For instance, this year he is aiming for the Sweepstakes award with a float for Glendale called "Venice" and one for San Gabriel called "Huckleberry Hound." Not only are the designs completely floral, including the figures, but they are animated as well.

One of his top entries for the Grand Prize, top commercial award, is "Around the World in 80 Days" for Dr. Pepper Co. This float features a balloon containing floral figures hovering over a miniature replica of the Matterhorn, which is in turn surrounded by eight floral pods depicting scenes from the movie.

But the ulcer period is coming. Three hundred workers, most of whom are from Pasadena College, are preparing to attach by hand 250,000 flowers per float. Not only must these flowers be received in the proper quantities of each and in first-class condition, but they must be kept in that condition until after the judging. Frost and vandalism are two frightening enemies.

The design must meet engineering specifications. "More than once we've had to tear down a float and start all over again because what looked good on the drawing board didn't work out in reality," Coleman said.

For Dr. Coleman Jan. 2 is the real holiday. It's the 19th hole after a sub-par round of golf; it's the moment after a bridge grand slam if his floats have been well received.

Cable Cars Resume

CHAMONIX, France (AP)—A cable car system, hit by a zooming jet fighter last summer, is back in operation hauling tourists thousands of feet over snow-covered Valle Blanc for a breath-taking view of Mt. Blanc. The jet clipped a towline, knocking three cabins off the main cable. Six persons were killed.

The CENTENNIAL SCRAPBOOK

The War for the Union 1861-65 in Pictures

No. 88 The tragedy that was going on a century ago this month could be traced back directly to a happening on a Georgia plantation 69 years before, in the autumn of 1792. The plantation was owned by Mrs. Nathanael Green, widow of the War of Independence general. It had a guest that October: Eli Whitney, a Yale graduate who was studying law in Savannah.

Whitney, who came of a family of New England mechanics, was moved by his observation of the tedious hand method of cleaning green seed cotton, to devise a machine to facilitate the work and improve the quality.

Right: A primitive home-made device for separating of seed from the staple or lint of boll.

"This simple machine changed the history of the United States and the world," Holland Thompson wrote, and quoted the British historian Lord Macaulay.

Before Whitney's gin, one man could clean seeds from five pounds of cotton a day; the whole South exported only 190,000 pounds of cotton a year.

Cotton exports from the South rose to 41,000,000 pounds a year in less than a decade.

When the gin appeared, slavery was in decline in the South because it was economically unprofitable. Using a Whitney gin, a slave could clean half a ton of cotton a day, and leave better fibers for spinning. The gin made slavery an institution for which the South was disposed to fight.

Dentist By Day, Float Designer By Night

By RAYMOND C. MEANS

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A dentist by day—a float designer and builder by night—and successful at each. That describes Dr. Sam Coleman, of Glendale, Calif., a man who prefers the challenge of competition to a robe, slippers and a television set.

"It's frightening, but the satisfaction which comes from a prize-winning entry and from the approval of the viewers is more than worth it," said Coleman, recognized as one of the leading float designers and builders in the country.

Coleman, 41, whose grandparents were designing floats in 1908, began on his own in 1956 after working with his grandparents and later his mother, Mrs. Isabella S. Coleman of Pasadena, Calif., who is one of his leading competitors.

In his first try he captured the Sweepstakes Award, top prize in the annual Rose Parade, for the city of Indio, and he was on his way.

Since then his entries have taken another Sweepstakes, two President's trophies, two Governor's trophies and several lesser first-prize awards.

Coleman accepts six clients a year, most of whom retain him annually. In March he begins the designs of the floats with the prime factor being which prize he is shooting for.

For instance, this year he is aiming for the Sweepstakes award with a float for Glendale called "Venice" and one for San Gabriel called "Huckleberry Hound." Not only are the designs completely floral, including the figures, but they are animated as well.

One of his top entries for the Grand Prize, top commercial award, is "Around the World in 80 Days" for Dr. Pepper Co. This float features a balloon containing floral figures hovering over a miniature replica of the Matterhorn, which is in turn surrounded by eight floral pods depicting scenes from the movie.

But the ulcer period is coming. Three hundred workers, most of whom are from Pasadena College, are preparing to attach by hand 250,000 flowers per float. Not only must these flowers be received in the proper quantities of each and in first-class condition, but they must be kept in that condition until after the judging. Frost and vandalism are two frightening enemies.

The design must meet engineering specifications. "More than once we've had to tear down a float and start all over again because what looked good on the drawing board didn't work out in reality," Coleman said.

For Dr. Coleman Jan. 2 is the real holiday. It's the 19th hole after a sub-par round of golf; it's the moment after a bridge grand slam if his floats have been well received.

Cable Cars Resume

CHAMONIX, France (AP)—A cable car system, hit by a zooming jet fighter last summer, is back in operation hauling tourists thousands of feet over snow-covered Valle Blanc for a breath-taking view of Mt. Blanc. The jet clipped a towline, knocking three cabins off the main cable. Six persons were killed.

Advisory Group Is Appointed

MORGANTOWN—West Virginia University Registrar J. Everett Long, state coordinator for the American College Testing Program (ACT), has announced a five man advisory committee to serve during 1962.

The group will hold its first meeting in Charleston January 13. Members are: Luther E. Bledsoe, registrar, Marshall University, Huntington; O. B. Farren, principal St. Marys High School, St. Marys; Harry R. Hein, supervisor of guidance, counseling and testing, State Department of Education, Charleston; Raymond W. Kiser, director of admissions, West Virginia Wesleyan College, Buckhannon, and Walter F. Snyder, assistant superintendent of Kanawha County schools, Charleston.

Long said the potential research value of the ACT program is great. He predicted that all institutions under the State Department of Education will participate by 1963.

At present, the following institutions require ACT: Beckley College; Concord College, Athens; Marshall University, Huntington; Potomac State College, Keyser; West Virginia Institute of Technology, Montgomery; West Virginia State College, Institute; West Virginia University, and West Virginia Wesleyan College, Buckhannon.

Institutions recommending ACT are Alderson-Broaddus College, Philippi; Bluefield State College, Fairmont State College, Salem College, Shepherd College, West Liberty College and Wheeling College.

"Routine" Convoy

BERLIN (UPI)—The U.S. Army sent another "routine" military convoy across 110 miles of East German territory without Communist delay or harassment Wednesday despite new Soviet objections.

Weston To Make Weekly Visit To Local VA Office

Plans were announced yesterday by Sam J. Weston, officer in charge of the local Veterans Administration office, for providing once-a-week service to Cumberland, following the closing of the office Friday.

Commencing Friday January 12, Mr. Weston will be in Cumberland to provide contact service to veterans and their dependents. The service will be given each Friday until further notice from 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m., using the same room in the Post Office Building which the VA has been using the past several years, or another office on the same floor.

With the closing of the local VA office on Friday, Mr. Weston will assume his duties as contact representative in charge of contact location at the VA Hospital, Perry Point, Md.

Tree Collection Set

Discarded Christmas trees will be collected here January 10-12, according to Joseph L. Riley and J. W. Rexroad, garbage contractors, who said residents are being asked to have the trees on the curb by 7 a.m. each day. A schedule of collection will be announced later.

Club To Hold Party

The El Fidel Club and its Auxiliary will hold a party today at 7:30 p. m. at Ali Ghan Shrine Club.

Roaches are inveterate travelers. Two familiar species — the straw-colored German cockroach and long, black Oriental cockroach — have spread from their original homes to all parts of the world. A Florida species, having recently gotten the urge to move, has migrated as far north as Canada, westward to the Rocky Mountains and southward into Central America.

N.Y. Transit Strike Authorized By Union

NEW YORK (UPI)—Some 6,000 transit workers unanimously voted authorization Wednesday night for Transport Workers Union President Michael quill to call a strike midnight Sunday which would paralyze New York City.

Quill has repeatedly warned he will call the strike if the union's demands are not met.

Jury Trial Requested In Juvenile Case

Raymond Smith, 905 Virginia Avenue, yesterday was committed to Allegany County Jail in default of $500 bond to await trial in Circuit Court on two juvenile charges.

Smith has been charged with contributing to the neglect and delinquency of his two minor children. Magistrate Louis A. Fatkin set bond yesterday in Juvenile Court.

Light Snow Reported In This Section

Some Accumulation Is Expected Today

Snow was reported moving toward Cumberland late last night as both Garrett County and Frostburg received a light accumulation early in the evening.

The State Roads Commission said late last night it was still snowing in Garrett County and trucks were out applying abrasives and chemicals to the highways.

A SRC truck was out in the Frostburg area cindering and applying chemicals. However, no chains or snow tires were required last night.

The temperature in Oakland last night was 29 degrees, while the reading was 26 degrees in Frostburg, according to the SRC.

The Weather Bureau had forecast rain, changing to snow for this area, but only a few flurries were sighted in downtown Cumberland last night. The unofficial temperature downtown at 10:30 p. m. was 39 degrees, somewhat warm for snow.

The mercury was expected to drop throughout the night and snow is again forecast today in this section.

Yesterday the unofficial high downtown was 52 degrees, the second straight day the mercury reached the 50-degree mark.

Members of Victor Tambolleo Post 1712, Catholic War Veterans, distributed 37 baskets of food to deserving families before Christmas. Several of the baskets were given to members of parishes in Cumberland and Frostburg, and the remaining ones, were distributed to persons designated by the Associated Charities. Left to right are Glenn Kimberlin, post commander; Eugene Bertone, welfare officer; James Cunningham, third vice commander; Anthony McKenzie, treasurer, and Charles Walbert, committee member. Last year the post distributed 25 baskets of food to families in the area.

Candidates Air Savings & Loan Law, Tax Rules

By The Associated Press

Federal income tax and a regulatory act governing Maryland savings and loan firms were the subjects of controversy Wednesday in the state's ever-increasing political turmoil.

Thomas B. Finan, state attorney general, defended Gov. Tawes' veto of a savings and loan regulatory measure introduced at the 1960 General Assembly by Joseph D. Tydings—at that time a Democratic member of the House of Delegates from Harford County. The veto stood, and it was not until 1961 that the legislature passed an act governing savings and loan institutions.

Del. Blair Lee III, a candidate for nomination to the U.S. Senate on a ticket headed by gubernatorial candidate George P. Mahoney, had criticized the governor for vetoing the Tydings bill.

Helped Sustain Veto

"Mr. Lee . . . fails to mention that he joined with 114 other members of the House of Delegates to sustain the governor's veto of the Tydings bill," Finan said in a statement Wednesday.

"By appointing the Case Commission, of which Mr. Tydings was a member, to draft legislation and then firmly supporting the recommendations of that commission . . .the governor amply demonstrated his overriding concern for the savings of our citizens," the statement continued.

On another front, Dr. Elbert Byrd, Democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate, called for federal income tax reform Wednesday.

The assistant professor of government at the University of Maryland urged reduction of the maximum tax rate from 91 to 75 per cent and an increase in personal exemptions from $600 to $800.

Seeks Effective Limit

Byrd said the maximum 91 per cent income tax rate on incomes exceeding $200,000 does not actually exist because of too many loopholes in the law.

"Make the 75 per cent rate an effective, meaningful one by eliminating some of the more glaring loopholes," he said, "and there would be a gain (in taxes received)."

He contended that the $600 personal exemption established in 1948 as necessary for a bare subsistence, "is an impossible one for 1962."

"On the increase in the cost of living alone an increase in the exemption to at least $800 should be made," Byrd said.

Injured Hunter Still 'Critical'

William Ritchie, 44, Hyndman, Pa., was reported "slightly improved" but still on the "critical" list last night at Memorial Hospital where he was admitted Tuesday afternoon with a gunshot wound in his chest.

Ritchie and his son, Billy, age 12, were hunting on a farm west of Hyndman when the accident occurred.

The father reportedly stumbled and his weapon discharged. The charge penetrated through his rib and lodged in his chest.

Pedestrian Safety Plan Urged By Police Chief

Police Chief B. F. Gaffney yesterday urged all citizens — drivers, pedestrians and property owners— to join in a campaign against pedestrian accidents.

He listed four points for all pedestrians to ponder:

It's always more difficult for a driver to see you than it is for you to see his car. This is especially true after dark, or when there's rain or snow in the air.

If a driver fails to see you in good time, it's virtually impossible for him to turn aside or stop safely if the street is slippery.

While a pedestrian is well-advised to cross streets at the corners—summer and winter — he should consider that, in the winter, streets may be very slippery at these points. A succession of cars, stopping and starting, may have polished the snow and ice treacherously smooth.

Assuming that you can walk on packed snow or ice without falling, or that a car can stop without skidding, is the kind of wishful thinking that fills accident files.

Walkers, he added, should wear light-colored clothing after dark. If pavements are wet and slippery they should use appropriate footwear. Good rubbers, he pointed out, have "treads" just like good tires.

Above all, the pedestrian should keep a sharp look-out for approaching vehicles, and never assume that he has been noticed by the drivers of those vehicles.

Chief Gaffney also appealed to pedestrians to be considerate of drivers who are having difficulty maintaining up-hill momentum on slippery streets this winter.

"Don't step in front of a driver and make him stop for you," he advised. "He may have trouble getting moving again, especially if he's trying to go without tire chains—and your little thoughtless act could cause a traffic stoppage that could last for hours."

The chief appealed to home owners to make a special effort to keep their sidewalks clear all winter long, and to keep handy a supply of sand to spread on icy sidewalks to prevent falls which could result in painful and serious injury.

"You can stand proud in your neighborhood if you help passers-by stand straight on your sidewalk," he said.

VA Pension Reports Due In January

January is pension reporting time for 12,000 disabled veterans and the dependents of some 8,000 deceased veterans in Maryland.

Sam Weston, local VA officer, explained yesterday why it is also a time of complications and individual problems, most of them unnecessary.

Along with their December checks, due January 1, all VA pension recipients will receive tabulating cards. These cards carry the words, "please do not mutilate," although from past experience several hundred will probably be returned in unusable condition.

On these cards beneficiaries must report all outside income recevied during 1961 and expected in 1962. Outside income means everything, including social security payments, except the VA pension payments themselves.

VA needs the reports to determine continued eligibility of pensioners and to make adjustments on the basis of increased or decreased outside income. One pension law cuts off payments when income of an individual, if single, exceeds $1,400 a year; or $2,700 if he has dependents. The new law sets limits of $1,800 and $3,000 but provides for adjustments on the basis of income up to these maximums.

But the really big headache is getting those cards back from the beneficiaries.

Mr. Weston estimates that on the basis of past years, some 300 recipients will simply extract their checks from the envelope and, without looking inside, throw away the enclosed tabulating cards. Many hundreds more will put the cards on one side and forget about them.

Sometime in February, the Baltimore VA Regional Office will probably, if past experience is repeated, have to suspend payments to nearly one thousand beneficiaries whose reports have not been received.

Prompt and accurate reporting can save the VA and the beneficiary, both the delay and the headache. Every item must be answered, Mrs. Weston said, and where the answer is "none," the word none should be used.

It was also emphasized that these questionnaires are not required from veterans or widows receiving compensation for disability or death resulting from service. Income is not a factor in compensation cases, except for dependent parents.

COLLECTION DAY TODAY

City Building Permits Valued At $1,252,994

Is $¼ Million Below Last Year

Building permits valued at $1,252,994 were issued by the City of Cumberland during 1961.

The total, which is about a quarter of a million dollars less than last year, was reached after permits totaling $35,650 were issued during December.

The December permits include three residences valued at $33,000; a garage estimated to cost $500, a $150 carport and a $2,000 addition to a residence.

During 1960, permits totaling $2,505,250 were issued by the Enginering Department here.

Building activity was down in 1959, when the total dropped to $1,620,062.

The banner year was 1958, when construction valued at $2,740,727 was authorized by the City.

The year before was slow, with only $1,023,752 of permits in 1956 and $1,148,986 the year before.

100,000-Gallon Water Leak Is Found, Closed

A water leak on the West Side which was wasting an estimated 100,000 gallons of water each day was repaired by Water Department crews yesterday.

Water Commissioner G. Ray Light said the break in a six-inch line in the 900 block of Braddock Road was discovered Tuesday night during the current water waste survey.

The break was not discovered before, he said he was told, since the water was escaping into a nearby sewer line.

Laborers To Meet

Local 616, Laborers Union, will meet today at 7:30 p. m. in the Allegany Labor Temple, according to Robert Weaver, business agent.

Non-Farm Placements Increase

Non-farm placements made by the Maryland State Employment Service during November were 39.7 per cent higher than the number of non-farm placements made in the corresponding month a year ago, according to Maryland Department of Employment Security.

A total of 6,308 placements was made throughout the State in non-farm occupations last month, compared with 4,515 in November, 1960, and 6,182 in October.

Stephen C. Cromwell, executive director, attributed the rise mainly to improved economic conditions, but also to improved operations of the Employment Service.

Employers in the State listed 7,477 non-farm openings with the Employment Service, an increase of 43.4 per cent over the 5,214 openings listed with the agency in November, 1960.

Professional, clerical and sales placements rose from 1,016 in November, 1960, to 1,763 last month, an increase of 73.5 per cent, and 27.5 per cent greater than the 1,383 placed in these job classifications in October, 1961.

Counseling interviews given by the Maryland State Employment Service reached 2,077 last month, up 45.6 per cent over the 1,427 counseled in November, 1960.

East Side Firemen Check Auto Blaze

Firemen of East Side station yesterday evening checked an auto fire near 519 Valentine Street.

They said damage was rather extensive. Wiring under the hood was burned and they had to rip out insulation under the dashboard to get to the source of the blaze.

Dry powder, an extinguisher and water were used to quench the fire in the car of R. Ackerson, according to firemen, who got a call at 6:10 p. m.

Boy, 15, Shot In Leg

Chester Rhodes, 15, of RFD 1, Keyser, W. Va., was admitted ot Sacred Heart Hospital late last night with a shotgun wound in his leg.

Chief Lawrence Chandler of Ridgeley said the shooting occurred at the residence of A. A. Snyder at 113 Main Street in Ridgeley.

The Rhodes youth was reported in "fair" condition and was to be taken to X-ray and then to surgery last night.

Chief Chandler said the youth was shot by John Snyder and the circumstances in the shooting were still being investigated.

Citizen Of Year Award Given At Keyser

Oran H. Brown 1961 Selectee

Oran H. Brown, of 8 Keys Street, Keyser, last night was named "Citizen of the Year" during the eighth annual program held by the Kiwanis Club at the Calvery Evangelical United Brethren Church.

An award was presented to Mr. Brown by T. Warner Lowry, last year's winner.

The annual award is given to the person who exemplifies the best citizenship during the year.

Mr. Brown, who is employed by the Post Office in Keyser, is a veteran of World War II and is active in civic affairs.

He is a cubmaster, holder of the Silver Beaver award, a volunteer fireman and a Mason.

Mr. Brown is manager of the Kiwanis Little League team; a member of the Methodist Church, Willing Workers of the church; a Sunday school teacher, minstrel performer and has a hobby of leather weaving.

The final selection was made by representatives of the Kiwanis Club, Rotary, Lions and Soroptimists.

Guest speaker at last night's program was David G. Nuzum, who was citizen of the year on the third occasion. He spoke on "The Sympathetic Fallacy."

Toastmaster was James T. Handlan, who was the first president of the Kiwanis.

Special entertainment was given by the Double Octave chorus of Keyser Elementary School under the direction of Mrs. Phyllis Chapman, music teacher.

The group sang a song in tribute to the State of West Virginia.

Past winners of the award include John C. Freeland, former mayor of Keyser, who was the first year's winner; Paul J. Davis; Richard E. Romig, Mr. Nuzum; Eddie Daskal; Mrs. Paul Iverson and Mr. Lowry.

Two Burglary Attempts Are Being Probed

Two attempted breaking and enterings are being investigated by the Detective Bureau of the Cumberland Police Department.

Reported yesterday was an attempt to break into the Acme Market on North Centre Street.

Detective Harry I. Iser said someone tried to pry a hasp and lock from the Bow Street entrance to the market.

A large screwdriver or piece of metal was used by the intruder, who failed to gain entry.

The attempt was believed to have happened over the weekend but was not discovered until yesterday.

The second attempt to enter a business establishment was at Langer's Grocery, Valley and Centre streets, over the holidays.

Detective Iser said someone cut a screen and opened a side window facing Valley Street. A bar was also pried from he window which is about six feet from the ground.

Police said there was no evidence that entry was gained, or that anything was taken.

At Great Lakes

Gary M. Barncord, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Barncord, RD 1, is undergoing recruit training at Naval Tarining Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

C&P Ready For Winter In Section

Equipment Kept In Good Condition

In anticipation of winter storms, high winds and snow, maintenance forces of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company are alert and ready to take immediate emergency steps if there is any storm damage to the statewide telephone network, according to J. E. Yingling, district plant manager.

But while storm damage sometimes can be extensive and difficult to repair, it represents a relatively small part of the phone company's year-round job of keeping all its equipment in good working condition, Mr. Yingling said.

Mr. Yingling said long experience has taught the C&P that the best weapons with which to fight breakdowns and deterioration caused by storms and constant usage are sturdy equipment and preventive maintenance.

Preventive maintenance means seeking out and correcting conditions that could lead to trouble later on. Routine tests also often lead to repairs which prevent major trouble.

Five Countians To Attend State Soil Meetings

Charles S. Harvey To Be Honored

Five representatives of Allegany County plan to attend the annual meeting of the Maryland Association of Soil Conservation Districts Inc. and the state Soil Conservation Committee January 3-5 at the Emerson Hotel in Baltimore.

Those planning to attend from the county are Joseph M. Steger, farm agent; Charles S. Harvey, Floyd Buser and D. T. Puffinberger, Allegany Soil District supervisors, and Martin M. Gordon, work unit conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service.

Registration will be held at 10 a. m. on the opening day. Charles H. Remsberg will preside at a luncheon which will be held at noon that day.

During the luncheon, "Multiple Use of Natural Resources" will be discussed by Ralph C. Wible, Pennsylvania state forester.

Lathrop E. Smith will make a presentation to the Federated Garden Clubs of Maryland. A response will be made by Mrs. Don F. Smith, president of the garden clubs.

Following the introduction of Goodyear award winners, presentation of awards will be made.

After an intermission the president's report will be made by T. Walter Denny. Later, district programs and policies will be outlined by E. A. Norton, northeastern field representative, SCS.

A number of business matters will be taken up on the second and third day of the meeting.

Mr. Harvey will be among nine district supervisors who will be recognized at a luncheon meeting on the final day of the meeting. He has been a supuervisor for the past 20 years.

Mr. Remsberg will give a summary of the meeting that afternoon.

Fixed Assets Of City Valued At $19,814,094

Exceeds Debt By Wide Margin

The fixed assets of the City of Cumberland are valued at $19,814,094.52, and exceed the bonded indebtedness created to provide them by $11,110,094.52.

This picture is provided in the audited financial report for the fiscal year which ended June 30.

Fixed assets provided from the city's general fund include streets, bridges and subways which cost $4,068,668.63 to provide.

The sewer collection and transmission system is valued at $1,492,635.42 and public buildings and land at $573,931.06, and equipment owned by the city at $137,066.89.

The city's investment in the $18,000,000 flood protection system is carried on the books at $3,436,899.43.

Exceeds Debt

City owned lots are valued at $94,940.38, public parks at $235,939.17, and in Memorial Hospital at $879,895.50.

The Sewage Treatment plant investment stands at $1,922,780.12 and in the Cumberland Thruway at $140,852.

Outstanding general fund bonds issued to provide these city facilities stood at the $4,809,000 mark on June 30.

Fixed assets of the Cumberland Water Department are listed at $6,830,485.92.

Included are dams, water lines, buildings, land and appurtinances listed at $6,080,369.70.

New filters built at the Lake Gordon filtration plant several years are carried on the books at $725,116.22, and the city-owned stock of the Evitts Creek Water Company, which operates the storage and filtration system in nearby Pennsylvania, at $25,000.

Is Actual Cost

Total bonded indebtedness of the Water Department is listed at $8,704,000.

The excess valuation of general facilities owned by the City exceeds bonded indebtedness by $8,174,608.60 and in the Water Department by $2,935,485.

All of the values represent the actual cost of construction—some of it decades ago, and is only a fraction of the current value or the cost of replacement.

Governor Eyes Plan For State Sales Tax Cut

BALTIMORE (AP)—Gov. Tawes has ordered Maryland tax experts to estimate the cost of a possible easing of the state sales tax.

Tawes has indicated a willingness to raise the levy's starting point from 25 cents if revenues justify such a move. An analysis by the Sales Tax Division is expected to be completed within two weeks.

The 1961 General Assembly approved application of the 3 per cent sales tax to purchases of 25 cents. The previous starting point was 51 cents. The tax also was extended to restaurant meals costing more than $1.

The proposals, along with a statewide, six-cents-a-pack cigarette tax, were designed to pump additional funds into local government treasuries for education and welfare activities.

Because of a $20 million surplus set aside by the 1961 legislature, the administration is expected to develop a budget for fiscal 1963 without a major tax increase.

Critics of the administration contend the aid for local governments could have been financed from surplus funds. They say taxes were raised this year to avoid an election-year increase in 1962.

Tawes will seek nomination to a second term in the primary election next May.

Local Woman Wins Automobile In New York

Mrs. Alexa K. Idoni, 9 South Allegany Street, received her Christmas present early last week when she was notified that she had won a 1961 Thunderbird car.

While on trip last month to New York City, Mrs. Idoni took three chances on the car from a member of the Suburban League for Cerebral Palsy of Forest Hills, N. Y.

Last Thursday while at work at the local Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant, Mrs. Idoni received a telegram informing her she had won the new car.

She went to New York City Saturday and claimed her prize. A representative of the league told Mrs. Idoni $15,000 worth of tickets were sold for the fund drive, which meant there were 45,000 tickets in the drawing.

Candidates Air Savings & Loan Law, Tax Rules

By The Associated Press

Federal income tax and a regulatory act governing Maryland savings and loan firms were the subjects of controversy Wednesday in the state's ever-increasing political turmoil.

Thomas B. Finan, state attorney general, defended Gov. Tawes' veto of a savings and loan regulatory measure introduced at the 1960 General Assembly by Joseph D. Tydings—at that time a Democratic member of the House of Delegates from Harford County. The veto stood, and it was not until 1961 that the legislaiure passed an act governing savings and loan institutions.

Del. Blair Lee III, a candidate for nomination to the U.S. Senate on a ticket headed by gubernatorial candidate George P. Mahoney, had criticized the governor for vetoing the Tydings bill.

Helped Sustain Veto

"Mr. Lee . . . fails to mention that he joined with 114 other members of the House of Delegates to sustain the governor's veto of the Tydings bill," Finan said in a statement Wednesday.

"By appointing the Case Commission, of which Mr. Tydings was a member, to draft legislation and then firmly supporting the recommendations of that commission . . .the governor amply demonstrated his overriding concern for the savings of our citizens," the statement continued.

On another front, Dr. Elbert Byrd, Democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate, called for federal income tax reform Wednesday.

The assistant professor of government at the University of Maryland urged reduction of the maximum tax rate from 91 to 75 per cent and an increase in personal exemptions from $600 to $800.

Seeks Effective Limit

Byrd said the maximum 91 per cent income tax rate on incomes exceeding $200,000 does not actually exist because of too many loopholes in the law.

"Make the 75 per cent rate an effective, meaningful one by eliminating some of the more glaring loopholes," he said, "and there would be a gain (in taxes received)."

He contended that the $600 personal exemption established in 1948 as necessary for a bare subsistence, "is an impossible one for 1962."

"On the increase in the cost of living alone an increase in the exemption to at least $800 should be made," Byrd said.

Injured Hunter Still 'Critical'

William Ritchie, 44, Hyndman, Pa., was reported "slightly improved" but still on the "critical" list last night at Memorial Hospital where he was admitted Tuesday afternoon with a gunshot wound in his chest.

Ritchie and his son, Billy, age 12, were hunting on a farm west of Hyndman when the accident occurred.

The father reportedly stumbled and his weapon discharged. The charge penetrated through his rib and lodged in his chest.

Pedestrian Safety Plan Urged By Police Chief

Police Chief B. F. Gaffney yesterday urged all citizens — drivers, pedestrians and property owners— to join in a campaign against pedestrian accidents.

He listed four points for all pedestrians to ponder:

It's always more difficult for a driver to see you than it is for you to see his car. This is especially true after dark, or when there's rain or snow in the air.

If a driver fails to see you in good time, it's virtually impossible for him to turn aside or stop safely if the street is slippery.

While a pedestrian is well-advised to cross streets at the corners—summer and winter — he should consider that, in the winter, streets may be very slippery at these points. A succession of cars, stopping and starting, may have polished the snow and ice treacherously smooth.

Assuming that you can walk on packed snow or ice without falling, or that a car can stop without skidding, is the kind of wishful thinking that fills accident files.

Walkers, he added, should wear light-colored clothing after dark. If pavements are wet and slippery they should use appropriate footwear. Good rubbers, he pointed out, have "treads" just like good tires.

Above all, the pedestrian should keep a sharp look-out for approaching vehicles, and never assume that he has been noticed by the drivers of those vehicles.

Chief Gaffney also appealed to pedestrians to be considerate of drivers who are having difficulty maintaining up-hill momentum on slippery streets this winter.

"Don't step in front of a driver and make him stop for you," he advised. "He may have trouble getting moving again, especially if he's trying to go without tire chains—and your little thoughtless act could cause a traffic stoppage that could last for hours."

The chief appealed to home owners to make a special effort to keep their sidewalks clear all winter long, and to keep handy a supply of sand to spread on icy sidewalks to prevent falls which could result in painful and serious injury.

"You can stand proud in your neighborhood if you help passers-by stand straight on your sidewalk," he said.

VA Pension Reports Due In January

January is pension reporting time for 12,000 disabled veterans and the dependents of some 8,000 deceased veterans in Maryland.

Sam Weston, local VA officer, explained yesterday why it is also a time of complications and individual problems, most of them unnecessary.

Along with their December checks, due January 1, all VA pension recipients will receive tabulating cards. These cards carry the words, "please do not mutilate," although from past experience several hundred will probably be returned in unusable condition.

On these cards beneficiaries must report all outside income recevied during 1961 and expected in 1962. Outside income means everything, including social security payments, except the VA pension payments themselves.

VA needs the reports to determine continued eligibility of pensioners and to make adjustments on the basis of increased or decreased outside income. One pension law cuts off payments when income of an individual, if single, exceeds $1,400 a year; or $2,700 if he has dependents. The new law sets limits of $1,800 and $3,000 but provides for adjustments on the basis of income up to these maximums.

But the really big headache is getting those cards back from the beneficiaries.

Mr. Weston estimates that on the basis of past years, some 300 recipients will simply extract their checks from the envelope and, without looking inside, throw away the enclosed tabulating cards. Many hundreds more will put the cards on one side and forget about them.

Sometime in February, the Baltimore VA Regional Office will probably, if past experience is repeated, have to suspend payments to nearly one thousand beneficiaries whose reports have not been received.

Prompt and accurate reporting can save the VA and the beneficiary, both the delay and the headache. Every item must be answered, Mrs. Weston said, and where the answer is "none," the word none should be used.

It was also emphasized that these questionnaires are not required from veterans or widows receiving compensation for disability or death resulting from service. Income is not a factor in compensation cases, except for dependent parents.

City Building Permits Valued At $1,252,994

Is $¼ Million Below Last Year

Building permits valued at $1,252,994 were issued by the City of Cumberland during 1961.

The total, which is about a quarter of a million dollars less than last year, was reached after permits totaling $35,650 were issued during December.

The December permits include three residences valued at $33,000; a garage estimated to cost $500, a $150 carport and a $2,000 addition to a residence.

During 1960, permits totaling $2,505,250 were issued by the Enginering Department here.

Building activity was down in 1959, when the total dropped to $1,620,062.

The banner year was 1958, when construction valued at $2,740,727 was authorized by the City.

The year before was slow, with only $1,023,752 of permits in 1956 and $1,148,986 the year before.

100,000-Gallon Water Leak Is Found, Closed

A water leak on the West Side which was wasting an estimated 100,000 gallons of water each day was repaired by Water Department crews yesterday.

Water Commissioner G. Ray Light said the break in a six-inch line in the 900 block of Braddock Road was discovered Tuesday night during the current water waste survey.

The break was not discovered before, he said he was told, since the water was escaping into a nearby sewer line.

Laborers To Meet

Local 616, Laborers Union, will meet today at 7:30 p. m. in the Allegany Labor Temple, according to Robert Weaver, business agent.

Non-Farm Placements Increase

Non-farm placements made by the Maryland State Employment Service during November were 39.7 per cent higher than the number of non-farm placements made in the corresponding month a year ago, according to Maryland Department of Employment Security.

A total of 6,308 placements was made throughout the State in non-farm occupations last month, compared with 4,515 in November, 1960, and 6,182 in October.

Stephen C. Cromwell, executive director, attributed the rise mainly to improved economic conditions, but also to improved operations of the Employment Service.

Employers in the State listed 7,477 non-farm openings with the Employment Service, an increase of 43.4 per cent over the 5,214 openings listed with the agency in November, 1960.

Professional, clerical and sales placements rose from 1,016 in November, 1960, to 1,763 last month, an increase of 73.5 per cent, and 27.5 per cent greater than the 1,383 placed in these job classifications in October, 1961.

Counseling interviews given by the Maryland State Employment Service reached 2,077 last month, up 45.6 per cent over the 1,427 counseled in November, 1960.

East Side Firemen Check Auto Blaze

Firemen of East Side station yesterday evening checked an auto fire near 519 Valentine Street.

They said damage was rather extensive. Wiring under the hood was burned and they had to rip out insulation under the dashboard to get to the source of the blaze.

Dry powder, an extinguisher and water were used to quench the fire in the car of R. Ackerson, according to firemen, who got a call at 6:10 p. m.

Boy, 15, Shot In Leg

Chester Rhodes, 15, of RFD 1, Keyser, W. Va., was admitted ot Sacred Heart Hospital late last night with a shotgun wound in his leg.

Chief Lawrence Chandler of Ridgeley said the shooting occurred at the residence of A. A. Snyder at 113 Main Street in Ridgeley.

The Rhodes youth was reported in "fair" condition and was to be taken to X-ray and then to surgery last night.

Chief Chandler said the youth was shot by John Snyder and the circumstances in the shooting were still being investigated.

Citizen Of Year Award Given At Keyser

Oran H. Brown 1961 Selectee

Oran H. Brown, of 8 Keys Street, Keyser, last night was named "Citizen of the Year" during the eighth annual program held by the Kiwanis Club at the Calvery Evangelical United Brethren Church.

An award was presented to Mr. Brown by T. Warner Lowry, last year's winner.

The annual award is given to the person who exemplifies the best citizenship during the year.

Mr. Brown, who is employed by the Post Office in Keyser, is a veteran of World War II and is active in civic affairs.

He is a cubmaster, holder of the Silver Beaver award, a volunteer fireman and a Mason.

Mr. Brown is manager of the Kiwanis Little League team; a member of the Methodist Church, Willing Workers of the church; a Sunday school teacher, minstrel performer and has a hobby of leather weaving.

The final selection was made by representatives of the Kiwanis Club, Rotary, Lions and Soroptimists.

Guest speaker at last night's program was David G. Nuzum, who was citizen of the year on the third occasion. He spoke on "The Sympathetic Fallacy."

Toastmaster was James T. Handlan, who was the first president of the Kiwanis.

Special entertainment was given by the Double Octave chorus of Keyser Elementary School under the direction of Mrs. Phyllis Chapman, music teacher.

The group sang a song in tribute to the State of West Virginia.

Past winners of the award include John C. Freeland, former mayor of Keyser, who was the first year's winner; Paul J. Davis; Richard E. Romig, Mr. Nuzum; Eddie Daskal; Mrs. Paul Iverson and Mr. Lowry.

Two Burglary Attempts Are Being Probed

Two attempted breaking and enterings are being investigated by the Detective Bureau of the Cumberland Police Department.

Reported yesterday was an attempt to break into the Acme Market on North Centre Street.

Detective Harry I. Iser said someone tried to pry a hasp and lock from the Bow Street entrance to the market.

A large screwdriver or piece of metal was used by the intruder, who failed to gain entry.

The attempt was believed to have happened over the weekend but was not discovered until yesterday.

The second attempt to enter a business establishment was at Langer's Grocery, Valley and Centre streets, over the holidays.

Detective Iser said someone cut a screen and opened a side window facing Valley Street. A bar was also pried from he window which is about six feet from the ground.

Police said there was no evidence that entry was gained, or that anything was taken.

At Great Lakes

Gary M. Barncord, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Barncord, RD 1, is undergoing recruit training at Naval Tarining Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

C&P Ready For Winter In Section

Equipment Kept In Good Condition

In anticipation of winter storms, high winds and snow, maintenance forces of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company are alert and ready to take immediate emergency steps if there is any storm damage to the statewide telephone network, according to J. E. Yingling, district plant manager.

But while storm damage sometimes can be extensive and difficult to repair, it represents a relatively small part of the phone company's year-round job of keeping all its equipment in good working condition, Mr. Yingling said.

Mr. Yingling said long experience has taught the C&P that the best weapons with which to fight breakdowns and deterioration caused by storms and constant usage are sturdy equipment and preventive maintenance.

Preventive maintenance means seeking out and correcting conditions that could lead to trouble later on. Routine tests also often lead to repairs which prevent major trouble.

Five Countians To Attend State Soil Meetings

Charles S. Harvey To Be Honored

Five representatives of Allegany County plan to attend the annual meeting of the Maryland Association of Soil Conservation Districts Inc. and the state Soil Conservation Committee January 3-5 at the Emerson Hotel in Baltimore.

Those planning to attend from the county are Joseph M. Steger, farm agent; Charles S. Harvey, Floyd Buser and D. T. Puffinberger, Allegany Soil District supervisors, and Martin M. Gordon, work unit conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service.

Registration will be held at 10 a. m. on the opening day. Charles H. Remsberg will preside at a luncheon which will be held at noon that day.

During the luncheon, "Multiple Use of Natural Resources" will be discussed by Ralph C. Wible, Pennsylvania state forester.

Lathrop E. Smith will make a presentation to the Federated Garden Clubs of Maryland. A response will be made by Mrs. Don F. Smith, president of the garden clubs.

Following the introduction of Goodyear award winners, presentation of awards will be made.

After an intermission the president's report will be made by T. Walter Denny. Later, district programs and policies will be outlined by E. A. Norton, northeastern field representative, SCS.

A number of business matters will be taken up on the second and third day of the meeting.

Mr. Harvey will be among nine district supervisors who will be recognized at a luncheon meeting on the final day of the meeting. He has been a supuervisor for the past 20 years.

Mr. Remsberg will give a summary of the meeting that afternoon.

Fixed Assets Of City Valued At $19,814,094

Exceeds Debt By Wide Margin

The fixed assets of the City of Cumberland are valued at $19,814,094.52, and exceed the bonded indebtedness created to provide them by $11,110,094.52.

This picture is provided in the audited financial report for the fiscal year which ended June 30.

Fixed assets provided from the city's general fund include streets, bridges and subways which cost $4,068,668.63 to provide.

The sewer collection and transmission system is valued at $1,492,635.42 and public buildings and land at $573,931.06, and equipment owned by the city at $137,066.89.

The city's investment in the $18,000,000 flood protection system is carried on the books at $3,436,899.43.

Exceeds Debt

City owned lots are valued at $94,940.38, public parks at $235,939.17, and in Memorial Hospital at $879,895.50.

The Sewage Treatment plant investment stands at $1,922,780.12 and in the Cumberland Thruway at $140,852.

Outstanding general fund bonds issued to provide these city facilities stood at the $4,809,000 mark on June 30.

Fixed assets of the Cumberland Water Department are listed at $6,830,485.92.

Included are dams, water lines, buildings, land and appurtinances listed at $6,060,369.70.

New filters built at the Lake Gordon filtration plant several years are carried on the books at $725,116.22, and the city-owned stock of the Evitts Creek Water Company, which operates the storage and filtration system in nearby Pennsylvania, at $25,000.

Is Actual Cost

Total bonded indebtedness of the Water Department is listed at $8,704,000.

The excess valuation of general facilities owned by the City exceeds bonded indebtedness by $8,174,608.60 and in the Water Department by $2,935,485.

All of the values represent the actual cost of construction—some of it decades ago, and is only a fraction of the current value or the cost of replacement.

Governor Eyes Plan For State Sales Tax Cut

BALTIMORE (AP)—Gov. Tawes has ordered Maryland tax experts to estimate the cost of a possible easing of the state sales tax.

Tawes has indicated a willingness to raise the levy's starting point from 25 cents if revenues justify such a move. An analysis by the Sales Tax Division is expected to be completed within two weeks.

The 1961 General Assembly approved application of the 3 per cent sales tax to purchases of 25 cents. The previous starting point was 51 cents. The tax also was extended to restaurant meals costing more than $1.

The proposals, along with a statewide, six-cents-a-pack cigarette tax, were designed to pump additional funds into local government treasuries for education and welfare activities.

Because of a $20 million surplus set aside by the 1961 legislature, the administration is expected to develop a budget for fiscal 1963 without a major tax increase.

Critics of the administration contend the aid for local governments could have been financed from surplus funds. They say taxes were raised this year to avoid an election-year increase in 1962.

Tawes will seek nomination to a second term in the primary election next May.

Awarded Recruiting Plaque

Brigadier General John R. Paugh, left, Second Army Chief of Staff, and Capt. Gerard B. Overman, commanding officer of Fairmont (W.Va.) Recruiting Main Station, admire a Department of the Army recruiting plaque which was awarded to Second Army for its record in attaining a higher enlistment rate than any of the five other Army areas in the United States. M/Sgt. Thomas J. Walbert, local Army recruiter, has received mention by Capt. Overman for his achievement in the first 11 months of this year, which saw the Cumberland recruiting effort top by 23 per cent its full year production of 1960.

Local Woman Wins Automobile In New York

Mrs. Alexa K. Idoni, 9 South Allegany Street, received her Christmas present early last week when she was notified that she had won a 1961 Thunderbird car.

While on trip last month to New York City, Mrs. Idoni took three chances on the car from a member of the Suburban League for Cerebral Palsy of Forest Hills, N. Y.

Last Thursday while at work at the local Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant, Mrs. Idoni received a telegram informing her she had won the new car.

She went to New York City Saturday and claimed her prize. A representative of the league told Mrs. Idoni $15,000 worth of tickets were sold for the fund drive, which meant there were 45,000 tickets in the drawing.

Declares Dividend

The board of directors of West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company this week declared a regular quarterly dividend of $1.12½ per share on the 4½ per cent cumulative preferred stock payable February 15 to stockholders of record on February 1.
